Empowerment And Poverty Reduction:

Empowerment and Poverty Reduction Deepa Narayan-Parker,2002-01-01 This publication offers a framework for the empowerment of people living in poverty throughout the world that concentrates on increasing people s freedom of choice and action to shape their own lives Based on analysis of practical experiences the book identifies four key elements to support empowerment information inclusion and participation improved accountability and local organisational capacity This framework is then applied to five areas of action to improve development effectiveness provision of basic services improved local governance improved national governance pro poor market development and access to justice and legal aid It also offers twenty tools and practices which concentrate on a wide range of topics to support the empowerment of the poor

Empowerment And Poverty Reduction: A Sourcebook Deepa Narayan,2005-01-01 Empowerment and Poverty Reduction Deepa Narayan,2002 Poverty Reduction and Pro-Poor Growth The Role of Empowerment OECD,2012-04-27 Empowerment of those living in poverty is both a critical driver and an important measure of poverty reduction This report aims to build donor understanding of empowerment and how best to support it Poverty Reduction and Pro-Poor Growth The Role of Empowerment OECD,2012-06-06 Empowerment of those living in poverty is both a critical driver and an important measure of poverty reduction This report aims to build donor understanding of empowerment and how best to support it Micro-Credit, Poverty and Empowerment Neera Burra,Joy Deshmukh-Ranadive,Ranjani K Murthy,2005-11-05 Two persistent problems that affect a significant portion of Indian women are poverty and violation of their human rights In recent years micro credit has come to be viewed as a vital tool to ameliorate both conditions However there are few studies in the Indian context which test the validity of the assumption that there is a linear link between micro credit poverty reduction and women s empowerment This important and thought provoking volume brings together revealing case studies of micro credit interventions made by six non governmental and quasi governmental bodies in five states of peninsular India several of which have been supported by the United Nations Development Programme UNDP The six case studies are diverse in terms of their socio economic and geo political contexts the nature and ideological orientation of the intermediary organizations the groups targeted by the projects exclusively women or men and women and the life spans of the projects Despite their differences all the studies offer useful lessons on the institutional structures and processes that do or do not facilitate women s empowerment and poverty reduction while exploring the potential and limitations of micro credit to achieve these twin goals Women Empowerment and Poverty Reduction Rashmi Akhoury,2013 Empowerment in Practice Ruth Alsop,Mette Frost Bertelsen,Jeremy Holland,2006 This document offers an excellent explanation of the concept of empowerment and develops a very useful framework for disentangling and clarifying the concept It is both practical and well justified on the basis of the literature The approach and survey instruments developed to measure empowerment are innovative and very useful Developing an approach to empirically measure empowerment and to track empowerment

A home-made crisis: The connection between the failure of good governance, mismanagement and the Maoist insurgency in Nepal Daniela Hinze, 2007-07-19 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Nepal a country which is located between its powerful neighbours India and China is one of the poorest countries in the world Nepal has never enjoyed much press coverage that is until February 2005 when the king Gyanendra dissolved the Nepali government and announced the state of emergency which allowed him to rule the country exclusively The international community regarded this decision as non democratic and called on the king to restore universal human rights which were suspended according to the declaration of the state of emergency The king issued an official statement cited the ongoing radicalised Maoist insurgency and the inability of the government to curb the movement as main reasons for his takeover Nevertheless high officials in the country and foreign observers question this pretence During the conduction of my field research in Nepal I considered a combination of multiple causes as main reasons for the protracted Nepalese conflict The main conflict parties the political elite including the monarch and the Maoist movement have strong negative perceptions of each other The perception that Maoists are undertaking terrorist attacks to come into power because they want to disturb the peace of a stabile regime should be regarded as misguided Even if personal ambitions have to be considered interviewees mentioned several times that the Maoists are responding to grievances within the Nepalese society and that the political elite could not provide the basic needs for its population This assumption can be supported by the published 40 Point Demands of the Maoists which includes the demands of political rights liberties economic and social security It becomes apparent that those asserted claims call for social responsibility equality and justice Furthermore this poses the question of whether the Maoist insurgency is a form of indicator or warning signal of the political economic and social situation in Nepal In particular it implies the fundamental question how a state should operate and what kind of responsibilities the state has The concept of good governance is regarded as a contemporary means and guarantor for an effective state In every respect good governance presupposes accountability honesty or transparency of a state with all its institutions but besides the structural characteristics the concept disregards the actions that will be undertaken by the

Voices and Values Ratna M. Sudarshan, Rajib Nandi, Over the last several years regular evaluation of development programs has become essential in measuring and understanding their true impact Feminist and gender sensitive evaluations have gradually emerged drawing attention to existing inequities gender caste class location and more and the cumulative effect of these biases on daily life Such evaluations are also deeply political they explicitly acknowledge that gender based inequalities exist show how they remain embedded in society and articulate ways to address them Based on four years of research Voices and Values offers critical insight into how gender class and nationality inflect and affect sociological research It examines how feminist evaluations could make an effective contribution to new policy formulations oriented to gender and social equity The essays here focus centrally on the structural roots of inequity giving weight to all perspectives adding value to marginalized groups and people under evaluation and taking forward the findings of evaluation into advocacy for change In doing so each essay advances the understanding of feminist evaluation both conceptually and as practice

Measuring Empowerment Deepa Narayan-Parker,2005-01-01 Large scale poverty reduction depends on the effective empowerment of poor people themselves This publication sets out a conceptual framework that can be used to monitor and evaluate empowerment programmes based on papers written by practitioners and researchers in a wide variety of fields including economics and political science sociology and psychology anthropology and demography These papers draw on research and practical experience at different levels from households to communities to nations and in various regions of the world

Rural Poverty, Empowerment and Sustainable Livelihoods Joseph Mullen,2019-06-04 First published in 1999 this volume explores the nature of poverty and interprets it across a range of policy reforms and project interventions in different geographical settings It is the culmination of a cooperative effort between development academics and professionals from diverse national and disciplinary backgrounds who came together for two events 1 The Development Study Association s Rural Development Study Group Symposium on the theme of the book s title hosted by the Rural Poverty Alleviation Programme at the University of Manchester s Institute for Development Policy and Management 2 The Commonwealth Secretariat s Regional Workshop for East and Central Africa on Strategies for Poverty Reduction The volume is underpinned by the conviction that it is morally and ethically repugnant that over 1.3 billion people live in conditions of endemic hunger and poverty while the wealth of a minority continues to increase exponentially The authors offer wide ranging analysis of some of the causes of this situation and of the efforts being made to eliminate or alleviate absolute poverty
