Who Owns America? Harvey M. Jacobs, 1998-10-15 Land ownership by individual citizens is a cornerstone of American heritage and a centerpiece of the American dream Thomas Jefferson called it the key to our success as a democracy Yet the question of who owns America not only remains unanswered but is central to a fundamental conflict that can pit private property rights advocates against government policymakers and environmentalists Land use authority Harvey M Jacobs has gathered a provocative collection of perspectives from eighteen contributors in the fields of law history anthropology economics sociology forestry and environmental studies Who Owns America begins with the popular view of land ownership as seen though the television show Bonanza It examines public regulation of private land public land management the roles culture and ethnic values play in land use and concludes with Jacobs title essay Who Owns America is a powerful and illuminating exploration of the very terrain that makes us Americans Its broad set of theoretical and historical perspectives will fascinate historians environmental activists policy makers and all who care deeply about the land we share

Race and Ethnicity in

Anglo-Saxon Literature Stephen Harris, 2004-06-01 What makes English literature English This question inspires Stephen Harris s wide ranging study of Old English literature From Bede in the eighth century to Geoffrey of Monmouth in the twelfth Harris explores the intersections of race and literature before the rise of imagined communities Harris examines possible configurations of communities illustrating dominant literary metaphors of race from Old English to its nineteenth century critical reception Literary voices in the England of Bede understood the limits of community primarily as racial or tribal in keeping with the perceived divine division of peoples after their languages and the extension of Christianity to Bede s

Germanic neighbours was effected in part through metaphors of family and race Harris demonstrates how King Alfred adapted Bede in the ninth century how both exerted an effect on Archbishop Wulfstan in the eleventh and how Old English poetry speaks to images of race Translation and Nation Roger Ellis,Liz Oakley-Brown,2001 This text focuses on the construction of Englishness through vernacular translations It suggests ways of looking at the questioning of the English subject through texts that engage with translation in differing ways Public Sector Ethics Noel Preston,Charles Sampford,2012-09-10 This study with contributions from both scholars and practitioners examines the theory and practice of public sector ethics across a broad range of environments The Roman Empire and Medieval Realms Nigel Kelly,Rosemary Rees,Jane Shuter,1997 Living Through History is a complete Key Stage 3 course which brings out the exciting events in history The course is available in two different editions Core and Foundation Every core title in the series has a parallel Foundation edition Each Evaluation Pack includes the Assessment and Resource Pack and a free compendium volume student book The resource packs include a variety of tasks which students should find interesting and enjoyable They also include differentiated exercises to provide support for less able students and challenging work for more able students Assessment exercises for the compulsory study units aim to help teachers monitor progress through NC levels
