From Honey to Ashes Claude Lévi-Strauss, 1973 The entire book is a study of a myth system based on one fundamental opposition and found among the myths of South American Indians In The Raw and the Cooked the first volume of the series Lévi Strauss finds a complex system associated with uncooked as against cooked items The qualities of being raw and cooked correspond to abstract ideas of nature and culture since only the man with the technology and social standards of culture will cook In From Honey to Ashes Lévi Strauss spreads beyond the raw cooked opposition into a related though broader opposition This is the opposition between honey and tobacco two substances of great significance in the lives of the Indians as well as in their myths Although this volume is part 2 of the entire book is so designed that it may be approached without reference to the previous book Amazon From Honey to Ashes Claude Lévi-Strauss, 1973 From Honey to Ashes V02

The Raw and the Cooked Claude Lévi-Strauss, 1983-03-15 In anthropological terms the concept of the raw verses the cooked has long been associated with the dichotomy between the natural world and the world of human culture In a broad based empirical study of native mythologies Claude Lévi-Strauss proposes a structural and thematic link between the opposition of the raw and the cooked in mythological thought and man's attempt to establish a balanced relationship between natural and cultural forces Lévi-Strauss postulates that the raw-cooked axis is characteristic of all human culture with elements falling along the raw side of the axis being those of natural origin and those on the cooked side being of cultural origin i.e. products of human creation Symbolically cooking marks the transition from nature to culture by means of which the human state can be defined in accordance with all its attributes In mythological thought the cooking of food is in effect a form of mediation between nature and society between life and death and between heaven and earth The cook in turn can be viewed as a cultural agent whose function is to mediate the conjunction of the raw product and the human consumer the operation of which has the effect of making sure the natural is at once cooked and socialized
