It is also the culmination of a major literary enterprise. For many people, Walter de la Mare (1873-1956) is as great a writer of fiction as of poetry. But the majority of his short stories, of which there are a hundred, have long been unavailable. Short Stories brings them all together in three volumes in the first comprehensive collection to be published. De la Mare's earliest published works were stories, and he continued writing and rewriting stories throughout the rest of his life. There was always a creative counterpoint between the themes and imagery of his prose and his poetry, such as the dream, childhood, the house, night, love, lost and regained solitude, and the traveller. A full understanding of either is impossible without knowledge of both.

Martin Seymour Smith in Scotland on Short Stories 1895-1926 He was so great that like all the greatest, his greatness functions as an assumption that goes hardly even recognized. The chief emotion is as it should be, one of immense gratitude. Lord David Cecil Beautiful, enigmatic, and disquieting stories. Angela Carter De la Mare is a master of mise en scene. Houses Far From Home Margaret Rodman Critchlow, 2001-03-01. The houses far from home featured in this book are located in Vanuatu, a chain of islands between Fiji and Australia in the southwest Pacific. Once known as the Anglo-French Condominium of the New Hebrides, the islands were jointly administered by the British and French from 1906 to 1980. In this innovative and revealing study of a unique colonial project, Margaret Rodman tells the stories of these houses, exploring the profound differences of perspective, experience, and power that domestic spaces reveal and offering a novel look at the history of British colonialism in the Pacific. Each chapter has at its heart a house where readers can explore dimensions of race, gender, and power that domestic spaces reveal. Moving across time between different islands and actors between oral memories and archival documents, Margaret Rodman provides a richly documented, multi-sited ethnography of the social history of the New Hebrides.
