Walter & Albertina Sisulu Elinor Sisulu, 2011-09-15 This is well told story and an important historical record of the struggle for a democratic South Africa South African Cultural Studies Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-09-16 This book offers a holistic guide as to how South African identity and culture can be understood in the past present and future Drawing from the rich archive of previously published articles from the journal Safundi South African Cultural Studies documents the mutual histories of the country and the journal over the past quarter century Divided into six sections the first section addresses cultural figures including Oprah Winfrey Trevor Noah Olive Schreiner and Dimitri Tsafendas an unusual group that illustrates the unique and international character of South African culture The second part brings attention to the important role that photography has had in depicting and narrating South African cultural life whether through the intimacies found in recent images by Zanele Muholi or the historical work of David Goldblatt and Santu Mofokeng The third section of the book looks at music as another idiom that has proven indispensable for South African social life with Miriam Makeba Rodriguez and Die Antwoord providing examples The fourth and fifth sections of this book address sexuality and film respectively underscoring at once the contrasting approaches to popular culture that have surfaced in Safundi as well as their requisite abilities for grasping everyday tastes and mores The worlds of Ms magazine District 9 Black Panther and Spike Lee to pick only several topics raised supply ways of thinking across these chapters The final section of the volume concludes with the role of place in the construction of culture whether museums national monuments the Spur restaurant franchise or landscapes like the Karoo This book will be an indispensable resource for scholars students activists and critics as well as readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa's cultural history over the past century

Albert Luthuli Robert Trent Vinson, 2018-08-09 In an excellent addition to the Ohio Short Histories of Africa series Robert Trent Vinson recovers the important but largely forgotten story of Albert Luthuli Africa's first Nobel Peace Prize winner and president of the African National Congress from 1952 to 1967 One of the most respected African leaders Luthuli linked South African antiapartheid politics with other movements becoming South Africa's leading advocate of Mahatma Gandhi's nonviolent civil disobedience techniques He also framed apartheid as a crime against humanity and thus linked South African antiapartheid struggles with international human rights campaigns Unlike previous studies this book places Luthuli and the South African antiapartheid struggle in new global contexts and aspects of Luthuli's leadership that were not previously publicly known Vinson is the first to use new archival evidence numerous oral interviews and personal memoirs to reveal that Luthuli privately supported sabotage as an additional strategy to end apartheid This multifaceted portrait will be indispensable to students of African history and politics and nonviolence movements worldwide Struggles in Southern Africa for Survival and Equality H. Simons,1997-04-21 A fascinating account which discusses the indigenous peoples at the Cape at the time of the Dutch colonisers arrival through to the years of apartheid This includes the colonial conquest of Zambia expanding upon the role played by venture capital and the demands of manufacturing capitalism in the colonisation of large parts of Africa The place of women in both colonial settler society and indigenous society is also dealt with Through all the chapters runs the thread of the lives of the common people and how their interactions are circumscribed by social conditions

The Cambridge History of South African Literature David Attwell,Derek Attridge,2012-01-12 South Africa's unique history has produced literatures in many languages in both oral and written forms reflecting the diversity in the cultural histories and experiences of its people The Cambridge History offers a comprehensive multi authored history of South African literature in all eleven official languages and more minor ones of the country produced by a team of over forty international experts including contributors from all of the major regions and language groups of South Africa It will provide a complete portrait of South Africa's literary production organised as a chronological history from the oral traditions existing before colonial settlement to the post apartheid revision of the past In a field marked by controversy this volume is more fully representative than any existing account of South Africa's literary history It will make a unique contribution to Commonwealth international and postcolonial studies and serve as a definitive reference work for decades to come The Origins of Non-Racialism David Everatt,2009-06-01 How did South Africa embrace non racialism After centuries of white domination and decades of increasingly savage repression freedom came to South Africa far later than elsewhere in the continent and yet was marked by a commitment to non racialism Nelson Mandela's Cabinet and government were made up of women and men of all races and many spoke of the birth of a new Rainbow Nation How did this come about How did an African nationalist liberation movement resisting apartheid a universally denounced violent expression of white supremacy open its doors to other races and whites in particular And what did non racialism mean This is the real miracle of South Africa that at the height of white supremacy and repression black and white democrats in their different organisations coming from vastly different backgrounds and traditions agreed on one thing that the future for South Africa would be non racial

Heart of Whiteness June Goodwin,Ben Schiff,1995 When South Africa's present transitional government comes to an end apartheid will be dead But just as the demise of slavery did not solve America's race problems so the abolition of apartheid will only begin South Africa's healing process Heart of Whiteness examines the cataclysmic changes taking place among Afrikaners the white tribe of South Africa

Ruth First Ruth First,Don Pinnock,1997 This book is the second in the series presenting prominent South Africans who played a vital role in the long struggle against racial oppression Scholars and reflective South Africans will do well to listen to these voices of liberation many of which were deliberately silenced The road to democratisation in the new South Africa cannot be securely built without close reference to those powerful voices from the past

Athol Fugard Alan Shelley, 2009-04-30 A playwright whose work is appreciated on a global scale Athol Fugard's plays have done more to document and provide a cultural commentary on Apartheid era South Africa than any other writer in the last century Using mostly migrant workers and township dwellers and staging guerrilla raid productions in black areas Fugard frequently came into conflict with the government forcing him to take his work overseas Consequently powerful plays such as The Blood Knot Sizwe Banzi is Dead and Master Harold and the boys came to broadcast the inequities of the Apartheid era to the world Fugard's work retains an insistent influence and is studied and performed the world over Alan Shelley's study is an accessible but profound analysis of the man his work and its influence the social injustices that drive him and the lives of those who people his remarkable plays

Peace, Decolonization, and the Practice of Solidarity Rob Skinner, 2023-10-05 This book shows that the connected histories of decolonization and globalization concern the practices of individuals and movements as much as they do the ideologies of states institutions and organizations Viewing decolonization through non state activist practices and setting anti colonial solidarity in the context of the methods of contemporary global peace movements it argues that seemingly marginal histories can illuminate aspects of the end of empire that are not readily apparent in studies centred on state diplomacy and nationalist movements Focusing on a group of British and American activists including the pacifist campaigner A J Muste the anti apartheid priest Michael Scott and the civil rights organiser Bayard Rustin Skinner explores connected global histories of anti nuclear peace campaigns anti colonialism and decolonization to illuminate new perspectives on the end of empire and the Cold War Studying a failed attempt to infiltrate the French atom bomb test site in southern Algeria and a mass march across the border between Tanganyika and Northern Rhodesia that never took place these stories provide valuable insights into the interactions between local and global scales of historical experience In presenting these histories this book demonstrates how global and transnational histories can challenge and disrupt rather than reinforce hierarchies of power and privileges In doing so it also contributes to ongoing debates surrounding the nature of decolonization as a historical phenomenon by focusing on the practices of activism that shaped and were shaped by the political and intellectual structures of decolonization

Literacy, Literature and Identity Rahma Al-Mahrooqi, Paul A. Scanlon, 2012-12-05 Modern humanities scholarship presents a scene of intriguing change A leading figure like Professor Eagleton moves suddenly from theory to a fascination with culture while still wrestling with literature's meaning and function Creative non fiction becomes fashionable while life writings retain a very wide readership Language professionals meanwhile ask themselves if teaching an alien tongue can be done without teaching its associated culture and what this might mean for individual and group identity itself now an area of rising academic concern Crucially the present volume looks at how these currents and concerns coalesce It shows how literature operating through language oral and written both shapes and reveals the identities of individuals and societies With a truly global reach it draws evidence from diverse contexts and environments The struggles of women in North America female portrayal in Middle Eastern proverbs the response to identity challenge in West East and Southern Africa including the extraordinary complexity of black South African experience and the literary assertions of New Zealand's Maoris they are all here in this multi faceted contribution to modern cultural linguistic and literary scholarship

Believers Richard Elphick, 2012-10-03 From the beginning of the nineteenth century through to 1960 Protestant missionaries were the most important intermediaries between South Africa's ruling white minority and its black majority The Equality of Believers reconfigures the narrative of race in South Africa by exploring the pivotal role played by these missionaries and their teachings in shaping that nation's history The missionaries articulated a universalist and egalitarian ideology derived from New Testament teachings that rebuked the racial hierarchies endemic to South African society Yet white settlers the churches closely tied to them and even many missionaries evaded or subverted these ideas In the early years of settlement the white minority justified its supremacy by equating Christianity with white racial identity Later they adopted segregated churches for blacks and whites followed by segregationist laws blocking blacks access to prosperity and citizenship and eventually by the ambitious plan of social engineering that was apartheid Providing historical context reaching back to 1652 Elphick concentrates on the era of industrialization segregation and the beginnings of apartheid in the first half of the twentieth century The most ambitious work yet from this renowned historian Elphick's book reveals the deep religious roots of racial ideas and initiatives that have so profoundly shaped the history of South Africa The Dynamics of
