Farewell To Innocence A Social Ethical Study Of Black Theology And Black Power:

Farewell to Innocence Allan Aubrey Boesak, 2015-05-01 While we acknowledge that all expressions of liberation theology are not identical we must protest very strongly against the false divisions that some make between black theology in South Africa and black theology in the United States between black theology and African theology and between black theology and Latin American liberation theology But moving away from the illusioned universality of western theology to the contextuality of liberation theology is a risky business one that cannot be done innocently In the search for theological and human authenticity in its own situation black theology does not stand alone It is but one expression of this search going on within many different contexts Until now the Christian church had chosen to move through history with a bland kind of innocence hiding the painful truths of oppression behind a facade of myths and real or imagined anxieties This is no longer possible The oppressed who believe in God the Father of Jesus Christ no longer want to believe in the myths created to subjugate them It is no longer possible to innocently accept history as it happens silently hoping that God would take the responsibility for human failure The theology of liberation spells out this realization For the Christian church it constitutes in no uncertain terms farewell to innocence

Farewell to Innocence Allan Aubrey Boesak, 1996 Farewell to Innocence Allan Aubrey Boesak, 1976 Farewell to Innocence Allan A. Boesak, 1977 The Rise and Demise of Black Theology Alistair Kee, 2008-04-30 Black Theology emerged in the 1960s as a response to black consciousness In South Africa it is a critique of power in the UK it is a political theology of black culture The dominant form of Black Theology has been in the USA originally influenced by Black Power and the critique of white racism Since then it claims to have broadened its perspective to include oppression on the grounds of race gender and class In this book Alistair Kee contests this claim arguing that Black and Womanist Theologies present inadequate analysis of race and gender and no account at all of class or economic oppression With a few notable exceptions Black Theology in the USA repeats the mantras of the 1970s the discourse of modernity Content with American capitalism it fails to address the source of the impoverishment of black Americans at home Content with a romantic image of Africa this African American movement fails to defend contemporary Africa against predatory American global ambitions Blacks in the West Kee claims here are no longer the victims they are the voters and consumers who should be able to influence western governments the American government in particular into changing policies towards Africa in particular and the third world in general This book does not argue that Black theologians should give up but that they should move on for the sake of the black poor in America the black poor in Africa and the third world The failure of Black theologians to do so is a cause for concern beyond the circle of practitioners of Black theology

Desmond Tutu's Message Hendrik Pieterse, 2021-11-08 The churches with Archbishop Desmond Tutu in the forefront played a remarkable role in the liberation of South Africa This book offers a scholarly analysis of a selection of Tutu's sermons speeches and statements over a period of fifteen years The structure of argumentation in his sermons and speeches

is explained the striking dialogical style of communication of his prophetic preaching is displayed and his success in motivating oppressed people to keep on hoping and to act in a peaceful way for liberation is discussed Tutu has shown by preaching in a prophetic mode during the dark days of apartheid that the Christian religion is indeed a major motivational force for liberation This analysis yields a handful of practical theological insights for the communication of the gospel

Essays on the Real Church Dirk J. Smit, 2024-08-15 The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God's Word ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei Over the last century the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio the communion of the saints the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit in an innovative way to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church At the time this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches Their life which meant their order structure actions statements convictions public presence and role was to be measured by their gospel which meant their message proclamation convictions claims They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life It was this spirit which led to the well known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany Many called this a moment of truth a status confessionis It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit Most of them have not been published before They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways

Martin Luther Alberto Melloni, 2017-12-20 The three volumes present the current state of international research on Martin Luther's life and work and the Reformation's manifold influences on history churches politics culture philosophy arts and society up to the 21st century The work is initiated by the Fondazione per le scienze religiose Giovanni XXIII Bologna in cooperation with the European network Refo500 This handbook is also available in German Inhabiting the Church Jon R. Stock, Tim Otto, Jonathan Wilson-Hartgrove, 2006-11-01 If the church is more than just a building what could it mean to live in it to inhabit it as a way of life From their location in new monastic communities Otto Stock and Wilson Hartgrove ask what the church can learn from St Benedict's vows of conversion obedience and stability about how to live as the people of God in the world In storytelling and serious engagement with Scripture old wisdom breathes life into a new monasticism But like all monastic wisdom these reflections are not just for monks They speak directly to the challenge of being the church in America today and the good news Christ offers for the whole world The Church Struggle in South Africa John W. De Gruchy, 2005 No more heartrending yet hopeful case study in Christian ethics exists than in the story of South African apartheid and its recent decisive transformation John de Gruchy's authoritative and newly updated account of Christian complicity with and then resistance to one of the world's most notoriously repressive regimes holds indispensable lessons and dangerous memories for all concerned about evil justice and racial reconciliation Religion and Social Marginalization in Zimbabwe Togarasei, Lovemore, Bishau, David, Chitando, Ezra, 2020-07-13 Marginalization means being disregarded ostracized harassed disliked persecuted or generally looked down upon Marginalized people often include women and children the poor the disabled sexual religious or ethnic minorities refugees The marginalized are those who are socially politically culturally or economically excluded from main stream society In history the Church in Zimbabwe has played a role in improving the lives of the marginalized but what is religion especially Christianity doing for the marginalized now Although religion is also implicated in marginalisation the contributions in this volume did not address this angle as they focused on the role that religion can and should play to fight marginalization The chapters come from two conferences 2012 2014 that were held under the flag of ATISCA The contributions have been updated to include later developments and publications Padua and Venice Brigit Blass-Simmen, Stefan Weppelmann, 2017-11-20 Venice and Padua are neighboring cities with a topographical and geopolitical distinction Venice is a port city in the Venetian Lagoon which opened up towards Byzantium and the East Padua on the mainland was founded in Roman times and is a university city a place of Humanism and research into antiquity The contributions analyze works of art as aesthetic formulations of their places of origin which however also have an effect on and expand their surroundings International experts investigate how these two different concepts stimulated each other in the Early Modern Age and how the exchange worked The Business of Black Power Laura Warren Hill, Julia Rabig, 2012 Explores business development in the Black power era and the centrality of economic goals to the larger black freedom movement The Business of Black Power emphasizes the centrality of economic goals to the larger black freedom movement and explores the myriad forms of business development in the Black power era This volume charts a new course for Black power studies and business history exploring both the business ventures that Black power fostered and the impact of Black power on the nation's business world Black activists pressed business leaders corporations and various levels of government into supporting a range of economic development ventures from Black entrepreneurship to grassroots experiments in economic self determination to indigenous attempts to rebuild inner city markets in the wake of disinvestment. They pioneered new economic and development strategies often in concert with corporate executives and public officials. Yet these same actors also engaged in fierce debates over the role of business in strengthening the movement and some African Americans outright rejected capitalism or collaboration with business. The ten scholars in this collection bring fresh analysis to this complex intersection of African American and business history to reveal how Black power advocates or those purporting a Black power agenda engaged business to advance their economic, political and social goals. They show the business of Black power taking place in the streets, boardrooms, journals and periodicals, corporations, courts and housing projects of America. In short, few were left untouched by the influence of this movement. Laura Warren Hill is assistant professor of history at Bloomfield College. Julia Rabig is a lecturer at Dartmouth College.

Christianity and Social Systems Rosemary Radford Ruether, 2009. From the earliest interactions of Christians with the Roman Empire to today's debates about the separation of church and state, the Christian churches have been in complex relationships with various economic and political systems for centuries. Renowned theologian Rosemary Radford Ruether analyzes the ways the Christian church has historically interacted with powerful systems such as patriarchy, racism, slavery and environmentalism while looking critically at how the church shapes these systems today. With a focus on the United States, Christianity and Social Systems provides an introductory analysis of the interactions between the churches and major systems that have shaped western Christian and post-Christian society. Ruether discusses ideologies such as liberalism and socialism and includes three country case studies: Nicaragua, South Africa and North and South Korea to further illustrate the profound influences Christianity and social systems have with each other. This book is neither an attack on the relationship between Christianity and these systems nor an apology, but rather a nuanced examination of the interactions between them. By understanding how these interactions have shaped history, we can more fully understand how to make ethical decisions about the role of Christianity in some of today's most pressing social issues, from economic and class disparities to the environmental crisis.

African Pentecostal Theology Mookgo Solomon Kgatle, 2023-12-11. African Pentecostal Theology: Modality, Disciplinarity and Decoloniality explores research methodology, theological disciplines and contextualization as important aspects in the process of studying Pentecostal theology in an African context. Mookgo Solomon Kgatle outlines different data collection and data analysis methods, including the skills of interpreting and presenting research findings in a responsible manner. This book illustrates that Pentecostal theology, given its pneumatological approach, goes beyond conventional theological disciplines in transdisciplinary research. The development of knowledge in African Pentecostal Theology should recognize African Indigenous Knowledge Systems (AIKS), African oral and traditional cultures and African indigenous languages to be relevant to Africans. Pentecostal theologians from different theological disciplines in Africa and globally will find this book a worthwhile read Students Must Rise Ann Heffernan, Noor Nieftagodien, Sifiso Mxolisi Ndlovu, Bhhekizwe Peterson, 2016-06-01 A detailed account of the incredibly influential Soweto Student Uprising of 1976 The Soweto Student Uprising of 1976 was a decisive moment in the struggle against apartheid It marked the expansion of political activism to a new generation of young activists but beyond that it inscribed the role that young people of subsequent generations could play in their country's future Since that momentous time students have held a special place in the collective imaginary of South African history Drawing on research and writing by leading scholars and prominent activists Students Must Rise takes Soweto 76 as its pivot point but looks at student and youth activism in South Africa more broadly by considering what happened before and beyond the Soweto moment Early chapters assess the impact of the anti pass campaigns of the 1950s of political ideologies like black consciousness as well as of religion and culture in fostering political consciousness and organisation among youth and students in townships and rural areas Later chapters explore the wide reaching impact of June 16th itself for student organisation over the next two decades across the country Two final chapters consider contemporary student based political movements including RhodesMustFall and FeesMustFall and historically root these in the long and rich tradition of student activism in South Africa 2016 marks the 40th anniversary of the 1976 June 16th uprisings This book rethinks the conventional narrative of youth and student activism in South Africa by placing that most famous of moments the 1976 students uprising in Soweto in a deeper historical and geographic context

Reconciliation as a Controversial Symbol Demaine J. Solomons, 2024-07-31 Reconciliation is never simple and straightforward it is often tied to ideological conflict resulting in very different understandings of what this noble Christian ideal is all about In this important study Dr Demaine Solomons provides a thorough conceptual analysis of the term reconciliation within the context of Christian discourse in South Africa Analysing literature from the 1960s onwards particularly in theological reflections on social conflict within the country the author explores the diverse interpretations of reconciliation Drawing on the Christus Victor typology of atonement by Gustaf Aul n this study facilitates ongoing theological reflection by offering a constructive reinterpretation of reconciliation in contemporary South Africa By exploring creative uses of the reconciliation concept this study contributes to a nuanced understanding of its application in Christian contexts offering a more complete version of how South Africa's reconciliation narrative is understood and providing insight into how this theological concept might be understood in other social contexts Globalization, Spirituality, and Justice Revised Edition Daniel G. Groody, 2015-10-15 A theological reading of globalization and a global reading of theology This book offers a rigorously critical and yet inspiring vision of justice as an integral part of Christian spirituality in our complex globalized world At the same time Daniel Groody's analysis draws on the conviction that faith and spirituality have an integral role in the struggle to achieve a more just social order Exclusivity and Variety Louis C. Jonker, 1996 The present state of the exegetical discipline is characterized in this book by the exploration of the concepts exclusivity and variety There is variety not only in the numerous methods and approaches but also in variants in methodological application hermeneutical presuppositions confessional and dogmatic specialization areas and the increasingly volume of scholarly literature To escape the abyss of variety exegetes often resort to exclusivistic claims sometimes deliberately The main interest of this book is methodological with the implication that the discussion is limited to the variety of exegetical methodologies The working hypothesis is that a multidimensional and or integrational approach to exegesis can evade the dangers of exclusivity and variety Various theoretical guidelines which should be taken into consideration in this discussion are filtered out from previous attempts in this regard Two methodologies namely a historical critical one and a narrative one are used as examples in this investigation In order to investigate the practical implementation of these methodologies the Samson Cycle Judges 13 16 is analyzed Subsequently both methodologies are evaluated to the theoretical guidelines formulated earlier The multidimensional and or integrational possibilities of these methodologies are then scrutinized The investigation leads to the formulation of three models which may serve as guidelines for further discussion on this topic Preference is given to an adapted communication model which serves as a hermeneutical map on which exegetical methodologies can be plotted It is proposed that the operative factor of such a communication model is a reading strategy which consists of two components namely I a specialized component and II a competence component

Prophet from the South Prince Dibeela, Puleng Lenka-Bula, Vuyani Vellem, 2014-08-01 Allan Boesak was one of the foremost leaders in the struggle against apartheid His role in the church in South Africa internationally and in the United Democratic Front contributed significantly to the demise of apartheid He championed the rights of the oppressed and became the representative voice of the poor and disadvantaged Allan is a gifted preacher teacher theologian writer and an orator blessed with poetic tendencies and a flourishing vocabulary He has the natural ability to inspire motivate and stimulate critical and analytical thinking and responses where globalisation threatens to be a new form of colonisation He has eloquently championed the cause of economic justice justice for the earth gender justice and the struggle against homophobia in the church His voice is a voice we urgently need to hear again in this era
