Nielsen, 2000 Anders E Nielsen presents a fresh look on New Testament eschatology by analysing the Gospel of Luke and the Book of Acts He first of all considers whether ancient literary expressions of farewell motif may or may not lead to an outlook of some sort of transcendental nature which could play an active role in the composition of the text as read text He concludes that in a fairly representative number of non biblical as well as biblical farewell addresses we do find transcendental outlooks with eschatological implications Furthermore these particular outlooks seem to be at work in close relation to the approaching death of the intended speaker of the addresses Against this background the two major farewell addresses the one of Jesus in Luke 22 and the one of Paul in Acts 20 are at great length analysed by means of a rhetorical and text linguistic approach Anders E Nielsen divides his exegetical theological findings into three main points First of all the traditional hypothesis of an imminent expectation of the parousia is seen as problematic because the eschatology in Luke seems to be less a matter of chronology and more a question of quality Secondly some of the sayings in a hellenistic work like Luke Acts may sometimes be free to express a vertical transcendent aspect with individual eschatological associations while other phases are sufficiently vague to call up in the audience both individual and or collective eschatological connotations Thirdly all this put together suggests that Luke s religious language does in fact not play down eschatology On the contrary Anders E Nielsen suggests that one can speak of some sort of applied eschatology in the sense that all the relevant expressions in the compositions examined suggest a far more parenetic or prescriptive semantic function than an informative one

A Short History of the New Testament Halvor Moxnes,2014-10-10 Few documents in world history can match the inspirational impact of the New Testament For all its variety gospels letters and visions this first century collection of texts keeps always at its centre the enigmatic figure of Joshua Jesus the Jewish prophet who gathered a group around him proclaimed the imminent end of the world but was made captive by the authorities of Rome only to suffer a shameful criminal s death on a cross When his followers including former persecutor Saul Paul became convinced that Jesus had defeated extinction and had risen again to fresh life the movement crossed over from Palestine to ignite the entire Graeco Roman Mediterranean world The author shows how the writings of this vibrant new faith came into being from oral transmission and then became the pillar of a great world religion He explores their many varied usages in music liturgy art language and literature In discussing its textual origins as well as its later reception Moxnes shows above all how the New Testament has been employed both as a tool for liberation and as a means of power and control

The Shepherd-flock Motif in the Miletus Discourse (Acts 20:17-38) Against Its Historical Background Bernard Aubert,2009 The Shepherd Flock Motif in the Miletus Discourse Acts 20 17 38 Against Its Historical Background provides a comprehensive survey of the use of the shepherd flock motif in the ancient world for the readers of the New Testament This review of Ancient Near Eastern Jewish Greco Roman and Christian sources is guided by a motific approach that integrates the concept of metaphor Semantics and the comparative method A chief concern of this study is to apply this knowledge to the study of Luke Acts especially the Miletus Discourse Acts 20 17 38 The shepherd flock motif appears to be central in this speech and helps to integrate other motifs and themes in this discourse such as the kingship motif The Shepherd Flock Motif in the Miletus Discourse Acts 20 17 38 Against Its Historical Background is indispensable to the study of motifs in the New Testament and contributes meaningfully to the scholarly research on Luke Acts
