Fast Girls:

Young Women, Girls and Postfeminism in Contemporary British Film Sarah Hill, 2020-09-17 In the 21st century films about the lives and experiences of girls and young women have become increasingly visible Yet British cinema's engagement with contemporary girlhood has unlike its Hollywood counterpart been largely ignored until now Sarah Hill's Young Women, Girls and Postfeminism in Contemporary British Film provides the first book length study of how young femininity has been constructed both in films like the St Trinians franchise and by critically acclaimed directors like Andrea Arnold Carol Morley and Lone Scherfig Hill offers new ways to understand how postfeminism informs British cinema and how it is adapted to fit its specific geographical context By interrogating UK cinema through this lens Hill paints a diverse and distinctive portrait of modern femininity and consolidates the important academic links between film feminist media and girlhood studies

Empire Girls Suzanne Hayes, Loretta Nyhan, 2014 After discovering that their late father has left their home to a brother they never knew they had sister Ivy and Rose Adams must go to Manhattan where they are drawn into the temptations of 1920's New York and have to learn to trust each other if they are going to survive

Black Girls and Adolescents Catherine Fisher Collins, 2015-03-03 This one of a kind book challenges the current thinking about black girls to show how America has failed them and what can be done to make their lives better African American girls are one of the United States most endangered populations yet meaningful explorations of the issues that impact their lives are almost nonexistent In this riveting book led by one of the African American community's best known scholars experts from across the nation explain the risks challenges and influences both good and bad faced by black girls and teens The work shows how our society is failing them and it outlines what can and should be done to help these young women lead happier healthier more successful lives The book covers a wide range of concerns including obesity substance abuse sex trafficking gangs teen pregnancy and suicide attempts Stress low self esteem anger aggression and violence are explored as are failures of our education system and of a legal system that tends to victimize young black women A substantial section on parenting and mentoring discusses ways to counter the negative influences that are a constant for many black girls and adolescents It is time for American society to recognize and react to the realities these young women face making this book a must read for caring parents teachers nurses guidance counselor doctors school administrators and school board members
