works of prose which in turn may be viewed as the literary canon of the counterculture. It examines the ways in which these works with their tendency toward whimsy and spontaneity are genuinely reflective of the period. Arranged chronologically, the discussed works function as a lens for viewing the period as a whole, providing a more rounded sense of the hippie Zeitgeist that shaped and inspired the period. Among the 15 works represented are One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, The Crying of Lot 49, Trout Fishing in America, Siddhartha, Stranger in a Strange Land, Slaughterhouse-Five, and The Fan Man. The Third Prince: A Novel Phiroz H. Madon, 2015-04-08. In 1603, Paru, a young concubine, is on the run. A precious jewel, her only possession, has been stolen. And now the mysterious assailants are after her life. Friendless and penniless, Paru decides to fight back. Her razor-sharp wit and her sensuous charms bring her closer to danger and a chance to start a new life. Meanwhile, the Empire is facing a crisis. An heir has to be chosen. Who will rule the magnificent Mughal Empire? Will it be Emperor Akbar's alcoholic son, Jahangir, who is intolerant of other religions and infatuated with wine and women? Or his young son, Khurram, who is still a child? The noblemen choose neither. They place their hopes on a prince who has never been seen: The elusive third prince, fathered by Akbar long ago on a battlefield. The only way to find the Prince is by tracking down a precious jewel Akbar had given the mother. Will the Third Prince take over the Empire? Will Paru wrest back what is rightfully hers?

Report Commonwealth Shipping Committee, 1915 Interrogative Strategies Tianhua Luo, 2016-09-15. This book deals with how to ask questions in the languages of China. The syntactic, morphological, and lexical forms for distinguishing interrogatives take centre stage; intonation is also dealt with, but more peripherally, than question particles, disjunctive and negative constructions, and word order. 140 languages spoken in China are covered, coming from four major families: Sino-Tibetan, Altaic, Austronesian, and Austro-Asiatic, accompanied by a few mixed languages. The approach is areal typological; i.e., these focal languages are compared to the languages of the world as represented in typological samples, and within China, areal patterns of the structural variables are examined. The book will be an indispensable reference for future work on interrogatives in a typological context and for areal studies of the language situation in China and more generally East Asia.

First published in 1999, it comprises ninety-nine sketches of life just after the handover of the former British colony to China. Each of these stories in miniature begins from a piece of ephemera, usually consumer products or pop culture phenomena, and develops alternately comic and poignant snapshots of urban life. Dung's sketches center on once trendy items that evoke the world at the turn of the millennium such as Hello Kitty Final Fantasy VIII a Windows 98 disk a clamshell mobile phone Air Jordans and cargo shorts The protagonist of each piece typically a young woman is struck by an odd even overriding obsession with an object or fad Characters embark on brief dalliances or relationships lasting no longer than the fashions that sparked them Dung blends vivid everyday details Portuguese egg tarts Japanese TV shows the Hong Kong subway with situations that are often fantastical or preposterous This catalog of vanished products illuminates how people use objects to define and even invent their own selves A major work from one of Hong Kong s most gifted and original writers Dung s archaeology of the end of the twentieth century speaks to perennial questions about consumerism nostalgia and identity
