Debjani Ganguly, 2021-09-09 World Literature is a vital part of twentieth first century critical and comparative literary studies As a field that engages seriously with function of literary studies in our global era the study of World literature requires new approaches The Cambridge History of World Literature is founded on the assumption that World Literature is not all literatures of the world nor a canonical set of globally successful literary works It highlights scholarship on literary works that focus on the logics of circulation drawn from multiple literary cultures and technologies of the textual While not rejecting the nation as a site of analysis these volumes will offer insights into new cartographies the hemispheric the oceanic the transregional the archipelagic the multilingual local that better reflect the multi scalar and spatially dispersed nature of literary production It will interrogate existing historical methodological and cartographic boundaries and showcase humanistic and literary endeavors in the face of world scale environmental and humanitarian catastrophes The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1993 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1992 Centers and

Bibliografía crítica de Salvador Elizondo Ross Larson, 1998 Beyond Sinology Andrea Bachner, 2014-01-21 New communication and information technologies provide distinct challenges and possibilities for the Chinese script which unlike alphabetic or other phonetic scripts relies on multiple signifying principles In recent decades this multiplicity has generated a rich corpus of reflection and experimentation in literature film visual and performance art and design and architecture within both China and different parts of the West Approaching this history from a variety of alternative theoretical perspectives Beyond Sinology reflects on the Chinese script to pinpoint the multiple connections between languages scripts and medial expressions and cultural and national identities Through a complex study of intercultural representations exchanges and tensions the text focuses on the concrete scripting of identity and alterity advancing a new understanding of the links between identity and medium and a critique of articulations that rely on single monolithic and univocal definitions of writing Chinese writing with its history of divergent readings in Chinese and non Chinese contexts with its current reinvention in the age of new media and globalization can teach us how to read and construct mediality and cultural identity in interculturally responsible ways and also how to scrutinize critique and yet appreciate and enjoy the powerful multi medial creativity embodied in writing

Modern Latin-American Fiction Writers William Luis, Ann González, 1994 The Secret Crypt Salvador Elizondo, 2023-01-31 Originally published in 1968 The Secret Crypt is something of a cult classic in Mexican literature Elizondo's impassioned breathless prose launches the reader into a labyrinth that is also a hall of mirrors Here we find a small group of characters who are part of an underground sect called Urkreis one of whose aims is to discover the identity of the sect's founder known only as the Imagined The identities of narrator author and characters blur into one another as the narrative moves between the two worlds of the novel and the author writing the novel an unclassifiable masterpiece containing initiation rites sacrificial murder conspiracy and delirium Latin American Scholarship Since World War II Roberto Esquenazi-Mayo, Michael C. Meyer, 1971
