Farmers Experiments Creating Local Knowledge:

Farmers' Experiments J. E. Sumberg, C. Okali, 1997 The growing interest in greater farmer participation in formal agricultural research has had major implications both for investment priorities and for models of organisation implementation and management of agricultural research and development Farmers' Experiments James Sumberg, Christine Okali, 2023 Sumberg and Okali identify characterize and contextualize farmers own experiments providing a base from which alternative models for the interaction of formal research and farmers participation can be analyzed and evaluated Opening Up Knowledge Production Through Participatory Research? Jakob Rupert Friederichsen, 2009 Originally presented as the author's thesis doctoral University of Hohenheim 2008 Nature Knowledge Glauco Sanga, Gherardo Ortalli, 2004-11 Numerous scholars in particular anthropologists historians economists linguists and biologists have over the last few years studied forms of knowledge and use of nature and of the ways nature can be protected and conserved Some of the most prominent scholars have come together in this volume to reflect on what has been achieved so far to compare the work carried out in the past to discuss the problems that have emerged from different research projects and to map out the way forward Farmer Innovation in Africa Chris Reij, Ann Waters-Bayer, 2014-07-10 One of Africa's major untapped resources is the creativity of its farmers This book presents a series of clear and detailed studies that demonstrate how small scale farmers both men and women experiment and innovate in order to improve their livelihoods despite the adverse conditions and lack of appropriate external support with which they have to contend The studies are based on fieldwork in a wide variety of farming systems throughout Africa and have been written primarily by African researchers and extension specialists Numerous lively examples show how a participatory approach to agricultural research and development that builds on local knowledge and innovation can stimulate the creativity of all involved not only the farmers This approach which recognizes the farmers capacity to innovate as the crucial component of success provides a much needed alternative to the conventional transfer of technology paradigm This book is a rich source of case studies and analyses of how agricultural research and development policy can be changed It presents evidence of the resilience and resolution of rural communities in Africa and will be an inspiration for development workers researchers and policy makers as well as for students and teachers of agriculture environment and sustainable development Sustainable food production and ethics Werner Zollitsch, Christoph Winckler, Susanne Waiblinger, Alexander Haslberger, 2023-08-28 Sustainability has become an issue widely debated in many countries Given the central role of food supply and the emotional relationship that modern mankind still has to its food sustainability is seen as a value which has to be maintained throughout food supply chains The complexity of modern food systems invokes a variety of ethical implications which emerge from contrasts between ideals perceptions and the conditions of technical processes within food systems and the concerns connected to this This book covers a broad range of aspects within the general issue of sustainable food production and ethics Linking different academic disciplines topics range from reflections about the roots of sustainability and the development of concepts and approaches to globalisation and resilience of food systems as well as specific ethical aspects of organic farming and animal welfare Modern technologies which are intensely advocated by certain stakeholder groups and their societal challenges are addressed as are many other specific cases of food production and processing consumer perception and marketing

Sustainable Development of Organic Agriculture Kimberly Etingoff, 2017-01-06 This title includes a number of Open Access chapters This important compilation presents an in depth view spanning past values and practices present understandings and potential futures and covering a range of concrete case studies on sustainable development of organic agriculture The book explores the very different facets of organic and sustainable agriculture Part I of this book delves into the ways that people have approached organic agriculture in sociological scientific and economic terms Part II looks ahead to the future of organic agriculture presenting opportunities for further progress Part III consists of an extensive bibliography chronologically developing the progress of organic and sustainable agriculture over two thousand years The book Studies the cultural dimension of organic consumption Presents how sustainable agriculture can reduce and mitigate the impact of climate change on crop production Looks at the impact of agriculture on both famine and rural poverty in an ecofriendly and socially inclusive manner Examines six of the oldest grain crop based organic comparison experiments in the US looking at the environmental and economic outcomes from organic agroecosystems to both producers and policymakers Reviews the role of experimentation and innovation in developing sustainable organic agriculture Looks at the challenges of organic farmers Discusses ways to ensure sustainability and resilience of farming Looks at ways to change the mindset of farmers especially in traditional farming communities Explores the development of organic and sustainable agriculture through more than 500 years ending with the early twenty first century Altogether the chapters provide a nuanced look at the development of organic and sustainable agriculture with the conclusion that organic is not enough to be sustainable Innovation

Africa Pascal Sanginga, Ann Waters-Bayer, Susan Kaaria, Jemimah Njuki, Chesha Wettasinha, 2012-05-04 Agricultural research extension and education can contribute greatly to enhancing agricultural production in a sustainable way and to reducing poverty in the developing world but achievements have generally fallen short of expectations in Africa In recent years growing economic and demographic pressures coupled with the entry of new market forces and actors have created a need and an opportunity for more interactive approaches to development Understanding the existing innovation processes recognizing the potential for catalysing them and learning how to support joint innovation by different groups will be the key to success This book covers new conceptual and methodological developments in agricultural innovation systems and showcases recent on the ground experiences in different contexts in Africa The contributions show how innovation is the outcome of social learning through interaction of individuals and organizations in both creating and applying knowledge It brings examples of how space and incentives have been created to promote collaboration between farmers research extension and the private sector to develop better technologies and institutional arrangements that can alleviate poverty In 25 broad ranging chapters the book reflects cutting edge thinking and practice in support of innovation processes in agriculture and management of natural resources Local Science Vs. Global Science Paul Sillitoe,2009 Technological capability has led through Euro American global domination to the muting of other cultural views and values even threatening their continued existence There is a growing realization that the diversity of knowledge systems demand respect some refer to them in a conservation idiom as alternative knowledge banks The scientific perspective is only one We now have many examples of the soundness of local science and practices some previously considered primitive and in need of change However this book goes beyond demonstrating the soundness of local science and arguing for the incorporation of others knowledge in development to maintain that we need to look quizzically at the foundations of science itself and further challenge its hegemony not only over local communities in Africa Asia the Pacific and elsewhere but also the global community Publisher Informal Farmer Experimentation in Resource-poor Environments Terry Wayne Tucker,1998

Changing Land Management David J. Pannell, Frank Vanclay,2011 There is a rich and extensive history of research into factors that encourage farmers to change their land management practices or inhibit them from doing so Yet this research is often under utilized in practice Changing Land Management provides key insights from past and cutting edge research to support decision makers as they attempt to assist rural communities adapting to changed circumstances such as new technologies new environmental imperatives new market opportunities or changed climate Common themes are the need for an appreciation of the diversity of land managers and their contexts of the diversity of factors that influence land management decisions and of the challenges that face government programs that are intended to change land management

Institutional Impacts of the cassava farmer participatory research and extension project in Thailand and Vietnam, 1993-2004 , Self-Sufficient Agriculture Robert Tripp,2012-04-27 Low external input technology or LEIT is an increasingly prominent subject in discussions of sustainable agriculture There are growing calls for self sufficient agriculture in an era experiencing diminishing returns from reliance upon expensive synthetic pesticides and fertilizers There are many reasons to support strategies for low external input farming including a concern for environmental sustainability increased attention to resource poor farmers and marginal environments and the conviction that a better use of local resources in small scale agriculture can improve farm productivity and innovation But despite the increased attention to self sufficient agriculture there is little evidence available on the performance and impact of LEIT This book examines the contributions and limitations of low external input technology for addressing the needs of resource poor farmers For the first time a balanced analysis of LEIT is provided offering in depth case studies an analysis of the debates an extensive review of the literature and practical suggestions about the management and integration of low external input agriculture in rural development programmes Farmer Field School Guidance Document Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-06-08 This FFS Guidance Document focuses on the process and critical decisions that are necessary when starting a new FFS programme and guides the reader through the essential steps required to establish a solid basis for such programmes in tune with the specific local conditions It also defines the essential elements and processes required to ensure programme relevance quality growth and sustainability The document differs from most of the FFS manuals and guidelines available in that it focuses on providing support to FFS programme managers and formulators as opposed to FFS field facilitators or trainers who are the primary target group for most existing manuals Agricultural Systems: Agroecology and Rural Innovation for Development Sieglinde Snapp,Barry Pound,2017-02-17 Agricultural Systems Second Edition is a comprehensive text for developing sustainable farming systems It presents a synthetic overview of the emerging area of agroecology applications to transforming farming systems and supporting rural innovation with particular emphasis on how research can be harnessed for sustainable agriculture The inclusion of research theory and examples using the principles of cropping system design allows students to gain a unique understanding of the technical biological ecological economic and sociological aspects of farming systems science for rural livelihoods This book explores topics such as re inventing farming systems principles and practice of agroecology agricultural change and low input technology ecologically based nutrient management participatory breeding for developing improved and relevant crops participatory livestock research for development gender and agrarian inequality at the local scale the nature of agricultural innovation and outreach to support rural innovation The extensive coverage of subjects is complemented with integrated references and a companion website making this book essential reading for courses in international agricultural systems and management sustainable agricultural management and cropping systems This book will be a valuable resource for students of agricultural science environmental engineering and rural planning researchers and scientists in agricultural development agencies and practitioners of agricultural development in government extension programs development agencies and NGOs Provides students with an enhanced understanding of how research can be harnessed for sustainable agriculture Incorporates social biological chemical and geographical aspects important to agroecology Addresses social and development issues related to farming systems Indigenous Knowledge & Development Monitor ,2000 Sheep farmer field schools - A facilitators' guide Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2022-02-07 This facilitator s guide for sheep related Farmer Field Schools FFS has been developed for the FAO project UTF AZE 009 Development and application of sustainable sheep production and food value chains in Azerbaijan In Azerbaijan small ruminant production plays an essential role in the livestock sector as it provides income for rural families and contributes to many households livelihood Ecological Management of Agricultural Weeds Matt Liebman,Charles L. Mohler,Charles P. Staver,2001-07-19 Concerns over environmental and human health impacts of conventional weed management practices herbicide resistance in weeds and rising costs of crop production and protection have led agricultural producers and scientists in many countries to seek strategies that take greater advantage of ecological processes and thereby allow a reduction in herbicide use This book provides principles and practices for ecologically based weed management in a wide range of temperate and tropical farming systems After examining weed life histories and processes determining the assembly of weed communities the authors describe how tillage and cultivation practices manipulations of soil conditions competitive cultivars crop diversification grazing livestock arthropod and microbial biocontrol agents and other factors can be used to reduce weed germination growth competitive ability reproduction and dispersal Special attention is given to the evolutionary challenges that weeds pose and the roles that farmers can play in the development of new weed management strategies Contested Agronomy

James Sumberg, John Thompson, 2012-03-15 The dramatic increases in food prices experienced over the last four years and their effects of hunger and food insecurity as well as human induced climate change and its implications for agriculture food production and food security are key topics within the field of agronomy and agricultural research Contested Agronomy addresses these issues by exploring key developments since the mid 1970s focusing in particular on the emergence of the neoliberal project and the rise of the participation and environmental agendas taking into consideration how these have had profound impacts on the practice of agronomic research in the developing world especially over the last four decades This book explores through a series of case studies the basis for a much needed political agronomy analysis that highlights the impacts of problem framing and narratives historical disjunctures epistemic communities and the increasing pressure to demonstrate success on both agricultural research and the farmers processors and consumers it is meant to serve Whilst being a fascinating and thought provoking read for professionals in the Agriculture and Environmental sciences it will also appeal to students and researchers in agricultural policy development studies geography public administration rural sociology and science and technology studies Participatory Research and Gender Analysis Nina Lilja, John

Dixon, Deborah Eade, 2013-09-13 Agricultural development research aims to generate new knowledge or to retrieve and apply existing forms of knowledge in ways that can be used to improve the welfare of people who are living in poverty or are otherwise excluded for instance by gender based discrimination Its effective application therefore requires ongoing dialogue with and the strong engagement of men and women from poor marginal farming communities This book discusses opportunities afforded by effective knowledge pathways linking researchers and farmers underpinned by participatory research and gender analysis It sets out practices and debates in gender sensitive participatory research and technology development concentrating on the empirical issues of implementation impact assessment and institutionalisation of approaches for the wider development and research community It includes six full length chapters and eight brief practical notes and is enhanced by an annotated resources list of relevant publications organisations and websites adding to the portfolio of approaches and tools discussed by the contributors Most of the 33 contributing authors work in the specialised agencies that form part of the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research CGIAR This book was published as Farmers Experiments Creating Local Knowledge: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
