Farm and Rural Community Management in Less Favored Areas Nobuyoshi Yasunaga, Norikazu Inoue, 2020-09-15 This is the first book to focus on farm and rural community management in less favored areas of Japan. It provides an economic framework for and empirical findings on rural community management in terms of the distribution of rural resources, efficiency of farmland conservation, community development through agribusinesses, and utilization of human resources for the sustainability of rural society. The topics addressed include organic farming, the added value of locally processed foods, broad-based community agreement under a direct payment policy, forms of community vitalization, new farmers, farm diversification, redistribution of local resources among farmers by establishing farm organizations, community business, community hubs formed by multiple communities and stakeholders who have migrated from urban to rural areas. The book is divided into four parts. Part I examines the relationship between regional agriculture and the conservation of farmland, including in hilly and mountainous areas. Part II deals with the improvement of farm resource management, particularly the redistribution of agricultural resources within multiple communities. In turn, Part III focuses on agribusinesses, especially the production of locally processed foods and community business. Lastly, Part IV addresses the sustainability of rural society and discusses rural community development through community hubs, community-based rural tourism, and immigrated stakeholders. In each part, the peculiarities and commonalities of rural communities are explored by comparing the results of these studies with domestic and international studies. This book is highly recommended to readers who are concerned with the development of agriculture and community resource conservation in less favored areas and the theoretical and empirical aspects of agricultural and resource economics, as well as to those who wish to better understand rural communities in Japan.

Problems of the Agricultural Development of Less-Favoured Areas in Europe Sam Stuart, 2017-05-03 Problems of the Agricultural Development of Less Favoured Areas in Europe is a collection of papers from a symposium of the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe and Food and Agriculture Organization held in Geneva on May 22-26, 1978. This collection of papers covers European countries with areas where agricultural development is limited. This book defines less favored agricultural areas as those places where there is limited agricultural development of different sizes and economic and social importance. These areas are also defined as suffering serious deterioration of the natural environment and of economic and social activities. This book then presents country reports covering problem areas in Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Finland, France, and Germany. In reviewing each of these countries and other countries as well, the text presents each government's objectives concerning the rural areas, the actual strategies and policies pursued by the state, and the problems encountered when implementing these policies. This text also gives the methodologies used in evaluating these programs. This book can prove useful for government officials and ministries dealing with the agricultural sector, heads of volunteer organizations dealing with countryside development and academicians in political science and developmental planning

Understanding the Common Agricultural Policy Berkeley Hill, 2012-03-29 The majority of recent publications on the Common Agricultural Policy CAP of the European Union address current issues and specific applications There is little available which attempts to increase understanding of the nature of existing policies their development intentions problems and successes The aim of this book is to improve knowledge and understanding of the policy process and its application to the CAP focussing on the principles of policy analysis For while the details of agricultural and environmental policies evolve the principles upon which they are based endure The author uses economics as a basis for his exploration as fairly simple economics holds the key to understanding many of the fundamental pressures to which agriculture and rural areas are subject He explains the importance of the political and administrative context in which the process occurs acknowledging the influence of environmental and sociological concerns Such knowledge of the conceptual framework of the policy process and its application to the CAP is essential for all concerned with agriculture and rural livelihoods both within the European Union and in those countries trading with the EU This includes both students and professionals The book provides an understanding of these principles in terms of how and why policy changes thus increasing the efficiency and efficacy of the process

Community-based Rural Tourism and Entrepreneurship Yasuo Ohe, 2019-11-18 To meet the rising demand for scientific evidence in the context of rural tourism research this book explores tourism and tourism related diversification activities performed by farming households and entrepreneurs in rural communities To do so it adopts a consistent conceptual and empirical microeconomic approach and employs econometric methodology Community based rural tourism CBRT is attracting increasing interest in both developed and developing countries since tourism is considered an effective way to promote rural development in all parts of the globe Further because information and communication technologies are developing rapidly new types of communities are now formed more easily than ever As such this book covers not only traditional closed agrarian communities but also emerging communities formed by local nonprofit organizations NPOs and national networks of farmers who provide educational tourism for consumers These emerging communities are beyond the range of traditional agrarian communities and complement each other which helps overcome obstacles to rural tourism for farm operators and urban residents Those communities also nurture the rural entrepreneurship that eventually will create a sustainable urban rural relationship This study the first of its kind contributes to the advancement of research on rural tourism from a microeconomic perspective It presents a conceptual framework for understanding rural tourism from a microeconomic perspective empirically clarifies the specific issues and constraints for the development of CBRT and also investigates how to overcome these issues

The review of the less favoured areas scheme Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: European Union Committee, 2009-06-04 In this report The Review of the Less Favoured Areas Scheme HL Paper 98 the European Union Committee calls for the swift adoption of reforms to the EU Less Favoured Areas LFA scheme a method of distributing EU agricultural funding to disadvantaged areas where farming land might otherwise be abandoned The report stresses that the justification for the LFA scheme is to maintain farming in marginal areas where farming activity generates benefits for the environment and landscape rather than to compensate for regional economic hardship Official Journal of the European Communities, 1976 Community Vitalization and Rebuilding of Small Rural Economies Nobuyoshi Yasunaga, Norikazu Inoue, Yukiko Nakama, 2024-11-29 This book provides new perceptions of rural community development by considering the relationships between communities and individuals It addresses how farming and local communities can be maintained in areas facing population decline and increased in abandoned farmland As a sequel to Farm and Rural Community Management in Less Favored Areas this book focuses on the conditions for rebuilding small rural economies through rural community vitalization in less favored areas of Japan Key topics addressed in the book include farmland liquidation and conservation along with applicable agricultural policies agribusiness development under a broad based community development process the market characteristics of locally processed foods and the relationship between participation in broad based community management and residents characteristics The primary target are hilly and mountainous regions such as in Shimane Prefecture in western Japan and other mountainous areas that are the main less favored areas in Japan The book presents findings from econometric and statistical analyses historical and actual condition surveys Academically the book contributes to the elucidation of community based regional management through interactions between communities residents farmers and policies It identifies conditions for rebuilding small rural economies are based on research on the characteristics of regional agriculture and rural communities in less favored areas This book is written for researchers graduate students and readers who are concerned about agriculture based rural development in less favored areas It promotes both public and field level practice in rural areas The content will be of interest to all those seeking to understand rural society in Japan At Home in the Hills John N. Gray, 2000 To most outsiders the hills of the Scottish Borders are a bleak and foreboding space usually made to represent the stigmatized Other Ad Finis by the centers of power in Edinburgh London and Brussels At a time when globalization seems to threaten our sense of place people of the Scottish borderlands provide a vivid case study of how the being in place is central to the sense of self and identity Since the end of the thirteenth century people living in the Scottish Border hills have engaged in armed raiding on the frontier with England developed capitalist sheep farming in the newly united kingdom of Great Britain and are struggling to maintain their family farms in one of the marginal agricultural rural regions of the European Community Throughout their history sheep farmers living in these hills have established an abiding sense of place in which family and farm have become refractions of each other Adopting a phenomenological perspective this book concentrates on the contemporary farming practices shepherding selling lambs and rams at auctions as well as family and class relations through which hill sheep fuse people place and way of life to create this sense of being at home in the hills Farm Incomes, Wealth and Agricultural Policy Berkeley

Hill,2020-07-26 This title was first published in 2000 The central aim of the Common Agricultural Policy is to support the incomes of farmers yet reliable information on the overall incomes of farmers and their households is scarce In general farmers in the EU are not a low income or poor sector of society and much of the present CAP income support goes to those that are relatively well off This book the 3rd edition to address these issues has been updated and expanded to include updated coverage of statistics and references the major changes in methodology of income measurement flowing from the 1995 revision of the European System of Accounts a critical examination of wealth and balance sheets for the agricultural industry as currently calculated incorporation of material from Japan and countries in Central and Eastern Europe that are candidates for EU membership Handbook Of International Food And Agricultural Policies (In 3 Volumes)
