Transforming Public Leadership for the 21st Century Ricardo S. Morse, Terry F. Buss, C. Morgan Kinghorn, 2014-12-18. The forces of globalization are shifting our world, including the public sector away from hierarchy and command and control toward one of collaboration and networks. The way public leadership is thought about and practiced must be and is being transformed. This volume in the Transformational Trends in Governance Democracy series explores what the shift looks like and also offers guidance on what it should look like. Specifically, the book focuses on the role of career leaders, those in public service who are agents of change not only in their own organizations but also in their communities and policy domains. These leaders work in network settings, making connections and collaborating to create public value and advance the common good. Featuring the insights of an authoritative group of contributors, the volume offers a mix of scholarship from philosophical discussions to conceptual models to empirical studies that taken together will help inform the transformation of public leadership that is already underway.

Transforming Political Leadership in Local Government R. Berg, N. Rao, 2005-11-10. Local governments throughout the west are undergoing a transformation of their leadership styles and structures. Some countries have abandoned traditional systems of collective or committee-based decision making in favour of Cabinet models or more radically a directly elected executive mayor, while others have strengthened existing mayoral systems. There are a few exceptions to this trend. Based on original research in eleven countries, the book assesses these changes in terms of their implications for political accountability, the role of lay politicians, political recruitment, the professionalization of leadership, and relations with the bureaucracy.
