

The background of the entire image is a photograph of a forest landscape. In the foreground, there are several dark evergreen trees, possibly spruce or fir, standing on a field of dry, brownish grass. The middle ground shows more trees, but they are shrouded in a thick mist or fog. The sky is a gradient of warm colors, from a pale yellow near the horizon to a soft pink and purple at the top, suggesting a sunrise or sunset. The overall mood is serene and somewhat melancholic.

The comprehensive theoretical discussion of feminism's different concepts of gender, race, ethnicity, and mothering builds the foundation for the main part, the presentation and analysis of the poems. The issue of mothering foregrounds the communicative aspect of women's experience and wants to bridge the gap between theory and practice. This study, however, does not intend to specify mothering as a universal and unique feminine characteristic. It underlines a metaphorical use and discusses the concepts of nurturing, maternal practice, and social parenthood. Regarding the extensive material, this study understands itself as an explorative, not concluding investigation placed at the intersections of gender studies, postcolonial, and classical literary studies. Most of all, it aims at initiating a dialogue and interchange between scholars and students in the Western and the Third World.
