The Lecturer's Guide to Quality and Standards in Colleges and Universities Professor Kate Ashcroft, Kate Ashcroft, Dr Lorraine Foreman-Peck, Lorraine Foreman-Peck, 2005-08-12 A follow up volume to Managing Teaching and Learning in Further Education and Higher Education this text provides a guide to managing quality and standards from the lecturer's point of view. It covers key issues such as teaching, learning, student support, assessment, evaluation, course design, bidding for and managing resources, marketing and research. Based on the model of lecturer as reflective practitioner, this book is intended to help enable the lecturer to make sense of the changing climate of quality control and academic standards. Its interactive design introduces stimulating ideas and suggestions for further reading and provides guidelines on issues of relevance to individual readers.

Childhood In Crisis? Phil Scruton, 2004-01-14 Examining debates concerning children and young people, this text discusses the politics of childhood focusing on topics such as the family, education and schooling, mental health, crime and justice and sexuality.

Policy-making in Education Open University, 1985 Changing Work, Changing Workers Glynda Hull, 1997-03-06 This glimpse into factories, hospitals, other work settings and work-related literacy programs shows the massive changes in expectations for workers' skills in the twenty-first century, especially regarding language and literacy.

Feminising the Masculine? Margaret Whittock, 2018-02-05 This title was first published in 2000. This work aims to provide a comparative and temporal assessment of the position of women in non-traditional employment in Europe, Britain and Northern Ireland. Its second aim is to provide a new perspective on the division of labour in modern Western societies and to critically examine the issues, debates and perspectives which have traditionally dominated portrayals of women and paid employment. The book assesses the potential which women themselves have for transforming existing gender relations, particularly within the structural constraints of the education, training and employment systems. In so doing, it is intended to highlight flaws inherent in much contemporary feminist theorizing and aims to provide a more satisfactory theoretical framework within which to elaborate and develop its arguments. While related texts have tended to concentrate on stereotypical notions of women and paid employment, this book aims to fill a gap in the literature by scrutinizing the lived experiences of women in non-traditional manual occupations and relating these to a possible transformation of the existing gender order in Western societies.

Curriculum Policy Rob Moore, Jennifer Ozga, 1990-11-30 The book is divided into three parts: the first section describes the background to recent curriculum policy; the second section looks at a variety of ways of constructing the curriculum; while the third section offers a series of critiques on current policy.
