Motion Pictures and the Image of the City Xiaofei Hao, 2016-06-03 If you've ever had a special attachment to a film and also an attachment to the city it was shot in Xiaofei Haos book will give you a fresh eye on how the city is expressed in the film by the filmmaker From the perspective of social science each face of the city in a film comes from a choice shown only on the basis of the filmmakers selection criteria In this process the film becomes the cognitive map of that city The interweaving of the city space and film language will be elaborated first from the perspective of urban studies Then some viewpoints of tourism studies will be provided to explore the relation between the image of the city in the film and in reality Two films about the city Taipei are looked at as case studies A One and a Two Yi Yi Director Edward Yang 2000 and Au Revoir Taipei Director Arvin Chen 2010 Speaking in Images Michael Berry,2005 Interviews with Ang Lee Crouching Tiger Hidden Dragon and other Chinese directors about their work the ways it has impacted both on the film industry in China as well as on the world scene New Chinese Cinemas Nick Browne,1994 New Chinese Cinemas analyses the changing forms and significance of filmmaking in the People s Republic of China Taiwan and Hong Kong since the end of the Cultural Revolution with a particular emphasis on how film comments on the profound social changes that have occurred in East Asia over the past two decades Considering in detail both conservative and progressive stances on economic modernisation it also demonstrates how film has been an important formal structure and social document in the interpretation of these changes The essays collected here which were specially commissioned for this volume also offer extended analyses of the important trends styles and work that define Chinese filmmaking in the 1980s Encyclopedia of Chinese Film Zhiwei Xiao,Yingjin Zhang,2002-06-01 The Encyclopedia of Chinese Film one of the first ever encyclopedias in this area provides alphabetically organized entries on directors genres themes and actors and actresses from mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan as well as 300 film synopses Great care has been taken to provide solid cultural and historical context to the facts The alphabetical entries are preceded by a substantial historical section incorporating material on the the main studios and analysing the impact of Chinese film abroad as well as at home in recent years This Encyclopedia meets the needs equally of the film studies scholar the student of Chinese culture the specialist in Chinese film the curious viewer wanting to know more Additional features include comprehensive cross references and suggestions for further reading a list of relevant websites a chronology of films and a classified contents list three indexes one of film and tv titles with directors names and year of release one of names including actors writers directors and producers and one of studios all with pinyin romanizations a glossary of pinyin romanizations Chinese characters and English equivalents to aid the specialist in moving between Chinese titles and English translations Historical Dictionary of Taiwan Cinema Daw-Ming Lee,2012-11-08 Taiwan was able to solidly build and sustain a film industry only after locally produced Mandarin films secured markets in Hong Kong and Southeast Asia during the 1960s and 1970s Though only a small island with a limited population in its heyday Taiwan was among the top 10 film producing countries areas in the world turning out hundreds of martial arts kung fu films and romantic melodramas annually that were screened in theaters across Southeast Asia and other areas internationally

However except for one acclaimed film by director King Hu Taiwan cinema was nearly invisible on the art cinema map until the 1980s when the films of Hou Hsiao hsien Edward Yang and other Taiwan New Cinema directors gained recognition at international film festivals first in Europe and later throughout the world Since then many other Taiwan directors have also become an important part of cinema history such as Ang Lee and Tsai Ming liang The Historical Dictionary of Taiwan Cinema covers the history of cinema in Taiwan during both the Japanese colonial period 1895 1945 and the Chinese Nationalist period 1945 present This is accomplished through a chronology highlighting the main events during the long period and an introduction which carefully analyses the progression The bulk of the information however appears in a dictionary section including over a hundred very extensive entries on directors producers performers films film studios and genres Photos are also included in the dictionary section More information can be found through the bibliography Taiwan cinema is truly unique and this book is a good place to find out more about it whether you are a student or teacher or just a fan New Taiwanese Cinema in Focus Flannery Wilson, 2015-05-29 In the Taiwanese film industry the dichotomy between art house and commercially viable films is heavily emphasized However since the democratization of the political landscape in Taiwan Taiwanese cinema has become internationally fluid As the case studies in this book demonstrate filmmakers such as Hou Hsiao hsien Edward Yang Tsai Ming liang and Ang Lee each engage with international audience expectations New Taiwanese Cinema in Focus therefore presents the Taiwanese New Wave and Second Wave movements with an emphasis on intertextuality citation and trans cultural dialogue Wilson argues that the cinema of Taiwan since the 1980s should be read emblematically that is as a representation of the greater paradox that exists in national and transnational cinema studies She argues that these unlikely relationships create the need for a new way of thinking about transnationalism altogether making this an essential read for advanced students and scholars in both Film Studies and Asian Studies Book of Zhou and Sui Dynasty Li Shi, The Twenty Four Histories Chinese are the Chinese official historical books covering a period from 3000 BC to the Ming dynasty in the 17th century The Han dynasty official Sima Qian established many of the conventions of the genre Starting with the Tang dynasty each dynasty established an official office to write the history of its predecessor using official court records As fixed and edited in the Qing dynasty the whole set contains 3213 volumes and about 40 million words It is considered one of the most important sources on Chinese history and culture The title Twenty Four Histories dates from 1775 which was the 40th year in the reign of the Qianlong Emperor This was when the last volume the History of Ming was reworked and a complete set of the histories produced The Twenty Four Histories include Early Four Historiographies Records of the Grand Historian Sh J compiled by Sima Qian in 91 BC Book of Han H n Sh compiled by Ban Gu in 82 Records of the Three Kingdoms S ngu Zh compiled by Chen Shou in 289 Book of Later Han H uh n Sh compiled by Fan Ye in 445 2 Book of Song simplified Chinese traditional Chinese pinyin S ng Sh Southern Dynasties compiled by Shen Yue in 488 Book of Qi simplified Chinese traditional Chinese pinyin Q Sh Southern Dynasties compiled by Xiao Zixian in 537 Book of Wei

Surveillance in Asian Cinema Karen Fang, 2017-02-24 Critical theory and popular wisdom are rife with images of surveillance as an intrusive repressive practice often suggestively attributed to eastern powers and opposed to western liberalism Hollywood dominated global media has long promulgated a geopoliticized east west axis of freedom vs control This book focuses on Asian and Asia based films and cinematic traditions obscured by lopsided western hegemonic discourse and more specifically probes these films treatments of a phenomenon that western film often portrays with neo orientalist hysteria Exploring recent and historical movies made in post social and anti Communist societies such as China Hong Kong Taiwan Vietnam and South Korea the book picks up on the political and economic concerns implicitly underlying Sinophobic and anti Communist Asian images in Hollywood films while also considering how these societies and states depict the issues of centralization militarization and technological innovation so often figured as distinctive of the difference between eastern despotism and western liberalism

Essential Cinema Jonathan Rosenbaum, 2004-04-27 In his astute and deeply informed film reviews and essays Jonathan Rosenbaum regularly provides new and brilliant insights into the cinema as art entertainment and commerce Guided by a personal canon of great films Rosenbaum sees in the ongoing hostility toward the idea of a canon shared by many within the field of film studies a missed opportunity both to shape the discussion about cinema and to help inform and guide casual and serious filmgoers alike In Essential Cinema Rosenbaum forcefully argues that canons of great films are more necessary than ever given that film culture today is dominated by advertising executives sixty second film reviewers and other players in the

Hollywood publicity machine who champion mediocre films at the expense of genuinely imaginative and challenging works. He proposes specific definitions of excellence in film art through the creation of a personal canon of both well known and obscure movies from around the world and suggests ways in which other canons might be similarly constructed. Essential Cinema offers in depth assessments of an astonishing range of films established classics such as Rear Window and M and Greed ambitious but flawed works like The Thin Red Line and Breaking the Waves eccentric masterpieces from around the world including Irma Vep and Archangel and recent films that have bitterly divided critics and viewers among them Eyes Wide Shut and A.I. He also explores the careers of such diverse filmmakers as Robert Altman, Raúl Ruiz, Frank Tashlin, Elaine May, Sam Fuller, Terrence Davies, Edward Yang, Hou Hsiao hsien and Orson Welles. In conclusion, Rosenbaum offers his own film canon of 1 000 key works from the beginning of cinema to the present day. A cogent and provocative argument about the art of film. Essential Cinema is also a fiercely independent reference book of must see movies for film lovers everywhere. Cinema

Taiwan Darrell William Davis, Ru-shou Robert Chen, 2007-05-07 This collection presents an exciting and ambitious foray into the cultural politics of contemporary Taiwan film that goes beyond the auteurist mode, the nation state argument and vestiges of the New Cinema. A City of Sadness Berenice Reynaud, 2019-07-25 Winner of the Golden Lion in Venice in 1989. A City of Sadness introduced Western audiences to the richness of New Taiwanese Cinema. Its director Hou Hsiao hsien is now recognised as one of the most profoundly original auteurs in contemporary cinema. A City of Sadness revisits a painful episode in recent Taiwanese history, creating an elliptical and impressionistic picture of Chiang Kai shek's takeover of the island after the defeat of his Kuomintang army by Mao Zedong. Taiwan's politics and the suffering of her inhabitants are invoked by Hou in the story of an extended family of four brothers. The first Taiwanese film shot in direct sound, A City of Sadness echoes the forgotten voices of ordinary people facing political repression. Berenice Reynaud deciphers the complex social and historical threads that combine in the film while analysing its aesthetics in the context of Hou's entire career. His journey from being a commercial director to becoming the famed master of long takes and painterly compositions is referred to the history of Taiwanese cinema and the philosophy of forms in Chinese art. Thirty-two New Takes on Taiwan Cinema

Emilie Yueh-yu Yeh, Darrell William Davis, Wenchi Lin, 2022-12-22 Thirty-two New Takes on Taiwan Cinema covers thirty-two films from Taiwan, addressing a flowering of new talent moving from art film to genre pictures and nonfiction. Beyond the conventional framework of privileging New and Post New Cinema or prominence of auteurs or single films, this volume is a comprehensive, judicious take on Taiwan cinema that fills gaps in the literature, offers a renewed historiography and introduces new creative force and voices of Taiwan's moving image culture to produce a leading and accessible work on Taiwan film and culture. Film by film is conceived as the main carrier of moving picture imagery for a majority of viewers across the world. The curation offers an array of formal, historical, genre, sexual, social and political frames which provide a rich brew of contexts. This surfeit of meanings is carried by individual films, one by one, which breaks down abstractions into narrative bites and outsized emotions Contested Modernities in Chinese Literature C. Laughlin, 2005-06-03 This book is a significant gathering of ideas on the subject of modern Chinese literature and culture of the past several years The essays represent a wide spectrum of new approaches and new areas of subject matter that are changing the landscape of knowledge of modern and contemporary Chinese culture women s literature theatre performance film graphic arts popular literature as well as literature of the Chinese diaspora These phenomena and the approaches to them manifest interconnected trajectories for new scholarship in the field the rewriting of literary history the emergence of visual culture and the quotidian apocalypse the displacement of revolutionary romanticism and realism as central paradigms for cultural expression by the perspective of private everyday experience
