Elderlearning New Frontier In An Aging Society:

Elderlearning Lois S. Lamdin, Mary Fugate, 1997 Faced with the possibility of a significantly extended lifespan many Americans can expect to enjoy continued growth and development well past the traditional age of retirement Elderlearning examines the important role of learning in maintaining the health quality of life and longevity of older adults and in providing opportunities for them to take on new roles in society This book includes the results of the first comprehensive survey on the topic of adult learning in men and women over the age of 55 The authors provide key data on the sources topics and extent of the current learning activities of older adults as well as on their preferred learning modes Adult learning is viewed from the perspective of providers of learning services as well as from the viewpoint of individual learners This information is based on extensive interviews with elderlearners and with learning services providers across the country The authors also discuss the policy implications of the elderlearning phenomenon at the federal state and institutional levels They conclude the book with a recommended eight point agenda for improving service to this rapidly growing segment of the population Elderlearning will be a valuable aid to anyone involved in developing or teaching programs designed to meet the needs of older adults as well as to elderlearners themselves International Perspectives on Older Adult Education Brian Findsen, Marvin Formosa, 2015-12-29 This important book builds on recent publications in lifelong learning which focus on learning and education in later life This work breaks new ground in international understandings of what constitutes later life learning across diverse cultures in manifold countries or regions across the world Containing 42 separate country regional analyses of later life learning the overall significance resides in insiders conceptualisations and critique of this emerging sub field of lifelong learning and adult education International perspectives on older adult education provides new appreciation of what is happening in countries from Europe 14 Africa 10 the Americas 7 Asia 9 and Australasia 2 as authored by adult educators and or social gerontologists in respective geographical areas These analyses are contextualised by a thorough introduction and critical appraisal where trends and fresh insights are revealed The outcome of this book is a never before available critique of what it means to be an older learner in specific nations and the accompanying opportunities and barriers for learning and education The sub title of research policy and practice conveys the territory that authors traverse in which rhetoric and reality are interrogated Coverage in chapters includes conceptual analysis historical patterns of provision policy developments theoretical perspectives research studies challenges faced by countries and success stories of later life learning The resultant effect is a vivid portrayal of a vast array of learning that occurs in later life across the globe Brian Findsen is Professor of Education and Postgraduate Leader for Te Whiringa School of Educational Leadership and Policy Faculty of Education University of Waikato Hamilton New Zealand Marvin Formosa is Head of the Department of Gerontology Faculty for Social Wellbeing University of Malta and Director of the International Institute on Ageing United Nations Malta Successful Aging Sheung-Tak Cheng, Iris Chi, Helene H. Fung, Lydia W. Li, Jean Woo, 2015-01-26 This book brings together state of the art research on successful aging in Asian populations and highlights how the factors that contribute to successful aging differ from those in the West It examines the differences between the Asian and Western contexts in which the aging process unfolds including cultural values lifestyles physical environments and family structures In addition it examines the question of how to add quality to longer years of life Specifically it looks at ways to promote health preserve cognition maximize functioning with social support and maintain emotional well being despite inevitable declines and losses Compared to other parts of the world Asia will age more quickly as a result of the rapid socioeconomic developments leading to rising longevity and historically low fertility rates in some countries These demographic forces in vast populations such as China are expected to make Asia the main driver of global aging in the coming decades As a result researchers professionals policymakers as well as the commercial sector in both East and West are increasingly interested in gaining a deeper understanding of aging in Asia

Active Ageing, Active Learning Gillian Boulton-Lewis, Maureen Tam, 2011-09-15 This book is concerned with the general issues of ageing learning and education for the elderly and then with the more specific issues of why how and what elders want to learn This monograph consists of 10 chapters written by various internationally renowned researchers and scholar practitioners in the field

Lifelong Learning in Later Life Brian Findsen, Marvin Formosa, 2012-03-26 This first truly comprehensive interdisciplinary international critique of theory and practice in lifelong learning as it relates to later life is an absolute tour de force Alexandra Withnall Universities of Warwick and Leicester UK This is a book that needed to be written it provides a most thorough and skilful analysis of a comprehensive range of contemporary literature about learning in later life from many localities and countries of the world Peter Jarvis Professor Emeritus University of Surrey Impressive in its scope this handbook seeks to describe older learning critically within the lifelong learning literature at the same time that it makes a strong and persuasive case for taking older learning seriously in our postmodern world Kenneth Wain University of Malta Lifelong learning in later life is an essential handbook for a wide range of people who work alongside older adults in varied contexts This handbook brings together both orthodox approaches to educational gerontology and fresh perspectives on important emerging issues faced by seniors around the globe Issues discussed include the social construction of ageing the importance of lifelong learning policy and practice participation in later life learning education of marginalised groups within older communities inter generational learning volunteering and active ageing the political economy of older adulthood learning for better health and well being and the place of seniors in a learning society Brian Findsen is a professor of adult education Faculty of Education University of Waikato Hamilton New Zealand His writings are usually constructed within a social justice framework such as The Fourth Sector Adult and Community Education in Aotearoa New Zealand edited with John Benseman and Miriama Scott in 1996 and Learning later 2005 Marvin Formosa is a lecturer in the European Centre for Gerontology University of Malta Msida Malta In addition to various articles focusing on critical educational gerontology recent and forthcoming books include Social Class

Dynamics in Later Life 2009 and Social Class in Later Life Power Identity and Lifestyle with Paul Higgs 2012 Aging: an Encyclopedia for Adding Years to Your Life and Life to Your Years Arthur F. Beringause, 2000-12-15 As the number of old persons increases dramatically information is the one thing both the young who are trying to take care of the old and the elderly who are trying to take care of themselves need to assuage concerns and solve problems that advancing years bring Like their young counterparts the old know shockingly little about care and upkeep not only of the automobile but more important of the human body Aging An Encyclopedia concretely and accurately summarizes the latest research in geriatrics and gerontology while presenting strategies for adding years to your life and life to your years Not just basic questions are answered such as those involving the onset of cancer but also seemingly peripheral ones such as descriptions of government and non profit agencies that can be reached for information and help Included are practical aids such as checklists for choosing a nursing home a doctor a financial planner Theory and application are kept separate Avoided are false hopes and sensationalism too often found in news coverage of aging Only solutions to problems of aging which are medically sound and applicable to everyday life are dealt with This volume does not pretend to state or to answer every question that at present can be raised concerning aging There is no attempt at simple solutions to complex problems The intention is that enough information be included to support and exemplify statements made Although I am immensely indebted to the many researchers upon whose work I have leaned so heavily there are few footnotes acknowledgements and attributions in the text for the attempt here is to bring out essentials clearly without scholarly encumbrances such as raised numbers trailed by sets of dots A guidebook this volume is easy to use and small enough to be carried everywhere The format is designed as a reference to be consulted for particular concerns Essays are organized in more than 80 topics arranged alphabetically Entries are self contained so that a reader can start anywhere Where it is possible to retain accuracy language familiar to lay people has been substituted for scientific jargon Technical terms are explained in the glossary at the end of the volume For more in depth information articles and books are cited in the bibliography and in particular areas although it is wise to remember that publishers and organizations are continually revising or bringing out new writings to reflect research with the most recent data and discoveries Training Older Workers and Learners James L. Moseley, Joan C. Dessinger, 2007-03-22 Training Older Workers and Learners is a groundbreaking resource that focuses exclusively on age 40 plus workers This much needed resource offers trainers expert guidance and practical tools designed to deliver effective training and re training to older worker learners OWLS Based on sound theory and best practices the book shows how to maximize the workplace learning and performance potential of late life learners Continuing Education in Colleges and Universities: Challenges and Opportunities Ronald White, Frank DiSilvestro, 2013-12-11 These are times of great opportunity and challenge for continuing education CE programs in colleges and universities While lifelong learning remains central to CE s mission means of promoting and delivering adult education programs through distance and online learning are undergoing tremendous technological transformation Within institutions CE units are increasingly collaborating with academic departments In addition demographic shifts have resulted in new audiences and types of programs offered both credit and noncredit School are pressured to increase their participation in economic development All these changes carry administrative considerations This volume suggests perspective and solutions for the challenges that must be successfully confronted by today s CE programs and the professionals who develop them This is the 140th volume of this Jossey Bass series Noted for its depth of coverage it explores issues of common interest to instructors administrators counselors and policymakers in a broad range of adult and continuing education settings such as colleges and universities extension programs businesses libraries and museums
