Going Public An Organizers Guide To Citizen Action:

Going Public Michael Gecan, 2012-06-12 A New York city neighborhood once called the beginning of the end of civilization is where Michael Gecan starts. Hired by residents to help them save their community, he and local leaders spend more than a decade wrestling New York politicians in an impassioned effort against all odds that brings in five thousand new homes. From bad behavior by Ed Koch to complicated negotiations with Rudy Giuliani, Gecan tells the inside story of how the city really works and how any organized group of citizens can wield power in seemingly unmovable bureaucracies. Gecan's unwavering vision of the value of public action has roots in a rough childhood in Chicago where he witnessed extortion by the mob and a tragic fire in his Catholic grade school that left ninety-two children and three nuns dead. In his inspiring story of the will to claim the full benefits of citizenship, Gecan offers unforgettable lessons that every American should know. What is the best way to talk to politicians? What resources do all communities need to create change? What kinds of public actions really work?

The Bush Still Burns Terry Allen Moe, 2021-03-23 Terry Allen Moe came as pastor to Redeemer Lutheran, a traditional working class congregation in a poorer mixed race neighborhood in Portland, Oregon, in 1981. Five US presidents, six Portland mayors, and four Lutheran bishops later, Redeemer had been transformed into an innovative spiritual, not religious, member-based nonprofit called Leaven Community, and a new ELCA congregation, Salt and Light Lutheran, nested in the midst of Leaven. This is the story of how an intertwining of spirituality and organizing transformed a pastor and congregation. Using the metaphor of paying attention to the voice of God in the burning bush, Exodus 3, Moe describes how he and the congregation turned to the burning bush of deepened spirituality coupled with hard-nosed organizing embodied in the IAF network. The process was not easy or smooth, but the pastor and people changed, and together they impacted the larger Portland community. This is the story of listening, discerning, acting, and evaluating to address the upstream causes of pressing issues and of identifying and lifting up the public dimensions of people's pain. This is the story of prayer circles that addressed societal challenges contributing to people's private struggles. This is the story of unearthing and confronting the impacts of political decisions, overcoming the mentality that church and politics don't mix Sunday worship shifted to include the stories of addiction job loss rising energy costs and ecological grieving from the members and their neighbors This book demonstrates how the power of spiritual discernment and community organizing can transform a community of faith It's timely inspiration for congregations struggling to find their way out of decline and the immobilization caused by fear and lack of creative leadership

Critical Pedagogy for Social Justice John Smyth, 2011-10-20 We live in a time when those who wield unrestrained power believe they have the inalienable right to determine the destiny nature and shape of social institutions like schools Critical Pedagogy for Social Justice challenges this arrogance by showing how teachers students parents communities and researchers can develop narratives that amount to working with and for those who are increasingly being silenced marginalized and excluded John Smyth sets out to revisit critical pedagogy from a number of key leverage points The overarching aim of this book is to unmask the deforming and distorting way power operates while at the same time revealing how a commitment to a more socially just world can exist in the everyday lives and narratives of people who have a passion for transformative possibilities His clear concise and persuasive book is ideal for those who are dissatisfied with the current turn in education and who are seeking an alternative set of views that emerge from the grounded experiences and practices of schools struggling with the most disadvantaged circumstances

witnessing the emergence of a new context for education labor and transformative social movements Global flows of people capital and energy increasingly define the world we live in The multinational corporation with its pursuit of ever cheaper sources of labor and materials and its disregard for human life is the dominant form of economic organization where capital can cross borders but people can't Affirmative action democracy and human rights are moving in from the margins to challenge capitalist priorities of efficiency i.e. exploitation In some places the representatives of popular movements are actually taking the reins of state power Across the globe new progressive movements are emerging to bridge national identities and boundaries in solidarity with transnational class gender and ethnic struggles At this juncture educators have a key role to play The ideology of market competition has become more entrenched in schools even as opportunities for skilled employment diminish We must rethink the relationship between schooling and labor developing transnational pedagogies that draw upon the myriad social struggles shaping students' lives and communities Critical educators need to connect with other social movements to put a radically democratic agenda based on the principles of equity access and emancipation at the center of educational praxis Many countries in Latin America like in other continents are developing new alternatives for the reconstruction of social projects these emerging sources of hope are the central focus of this book Major historical change always starts with people's social movement Democracy can be one of the best political and social systems in the world but for it to work entails the sustainable participation of citizens Above all it requires that people be informed and critically educated since the quality of democracy depends on quality of education There are 2 kinds of power money and people If people exercise their agency they can be more powerful than money There are some organizing principles of social movements as don't do for others what they should do for themselves Saul Alinsky wrote Rules for Radicals A pragmatic primer for realistic radicals Mary Rogers Cold Anger A story of faith and power politics Michael Gecan Going Public An organizer's guide to citizen action and Ernesto Cortez's Industrial Area Foundation are all great sources for organized activism that do work I put some of these principles to the test and they produced positive results I was a founder and president of a union at my university and I lived my whole life as an activist and learned that we can do more together than alone Now we also have a new digital war with the Cambridge Analytica and Breitbart's fake news manipulation however we also have social justice hacktivism to counter act it as well as other democratic social media venues that critical thinkers and activist use The chapters in this book demonstrate the importance of widening and diversifying social movements at the same time emphasizes the need to build cohesive alliances among all the different fronts What some people think is impossible can become a transformed reality for those who dare attempt changing the world as global citizens

The New Localism Bruce Katz, Jeremy Nowak, 2018-01-09 The New Localism provides a roadmap for change that starts in the communities where most people live and work In their new book The New Localism urban experts Bruce Katz and Jeremy Nowak reveal where the real power to create change lies and how it can be used to address our most serious social economic and environmental challenges Power is shifting in the world downward from national governments and states to cities and metropolitan communities horizontally from the public sector to networks of public private and civic actors and globally along circuits of capital trade and innovation This new locus of power this new localism is emerging by necessity to solve the grand challenges characteristic of modern societies economic competitiveness social inclusion and opportunity a renewed public life the challenge of diversity and the imperative of environmental sustainability Where rising populism on the right and the left exploits the grievances of those left behind in the global economy new localism has developed as a mechanism to address them head on New localism is not a replacement for the vital roles federal governments play it is the ideal complement to an effective federal government and currently an urgently needed remedy for national dysfunction In The New Localism Katz and Nowak tell the stories of the cities that are on the vanguard of problem solving Pittsburgh is catalyzing inclusive growth by inventing and deploying new industries and technologies Indianapolis is governing its city and metropolis through a network of public private and civic leaders Copenhagen is using publicly owned assets like their waterfront to spur large scale redevelopment and finance infrastructure from land sales Out of these stories emerge new norms of growth governance and finance and a path toward a more prosperous sustainable and inclusive society Katz and Nowak imagine a world in which urban institutions finance the future through smart investments in innovation infrastructure and children and urban intermediaries take solutions created in one city and adapt and tailor them to other cities with speed and precision As Katz and Nowak show us in The New Localism Power now belongs to the problem solvers

Power in Coalition Amanda Tattersall, 2013-01-14 The labor movement sees coalitions as a key tool for union revitalization and social change but there is little analysis of what makes them successful or the factors that make them fail Amanda Tattersall an organizer and labor scholar addresses this gap in the first internationally comparative study of coalitions between unions and community organizations She argues that coalition success must be measured by two criteria whether campaigns produce social change and whether they sustain organizational strength over time The book contributes new practical frameworks and insights that will help guide union and community organizers across the globe The book throws down the gauntlet to industrial relations scholars and labor organizers making a compelling case for unions to build coalitions that wield power with community organizations Tattersall presents three detailed case studies the public education coalition in Sydney the Ontario Health Coalition in Toronto and the living wage campaign run by the Grassroots Collaborative in Chicago Together they enable Tattersall to explore when and how coalition unionism is the best and most appropriate strategy for social change organizational development and union renewal Power in Coalition presents clear lessons She suggests that less is more because it is often easier to build stronger coalitions with fewer organizations making decisions and sharing resources The role of the individual she finds is traditionally underestimated even though a coalition s success depends on a leader s ability to broker relationships between organizations while developing the campaign s strategy The crafting of goals that combine organizational interest and the public interest and take into account electoral politics are crucial elements of coalition success
