Akynos Antonia Crane Lily Burana A M Davies Kayla Tange Selena the Stripper Women of Their Time: Generation, Gender Issues and Feminism Jane Pilcher, 2017-07-05 This book argues for the importance of age as a source of diversity and difference amongst women. It compares three generations of women's accounts of a range of gender issues including the domestic division of labour, equality, abortion and sexuality. It also compares their understandings of and orientations toward the feminist movement. Drawing on Karl Mannheim's argument that an individual's location in historical time shapes their social outlooks or world views, it is shown that women of different ages do not share the same gendered life courses due to differing cohort memberships. Consequently, women of different ages interpret, define and give meaning to gender issues and to feminism in varied and contrasting ways. A key concern of the book is to show that findings from qualitative studies are an important supplement to surveys of cohort differences in women's gender attitudes in that they are more revealing of the complex ways cohort influences the construction of gender issues, including the very language used to do so. Bearing It All

Denise L. Schreyer, 2024-11-06 Take a bumpy ride with Denise, known on stage as Dutchess, through the dark day-to-day life of a career stripper/dancer. The stories from her diary reveal the shocking truth about what really goes on in these places known as strip clubs: from breast implants falling out on stage to customers' disgusting behavior, it's all here. How much money do these girls really make? How are they treated by management and by the customers? Are the girls' friends? Do they enjoy this job? Which coping skills are a must and why? Think of a stage name, strap yourself in, and get ready to go for one hell of a ride into the dark world of strip clubs with Dutchess. The International Politics of Fashion Andreas Behnke, 2016-07-07 This book seeks to address and fill a puzzling omission in contemporary critical IR scholarship. Following on from the aesthetic turn in IR, critical and postmodern IR has produced an impressive array of studies into movies, literature, music and art, and the way these media produce, mediate and represent international politics. By contrast, the proponents of the aesthetic turn have overlooked fashion as a source of knowledge about global politics. Yet stories about the political role of fashion abound in the news media. Margaret Thatcher used dress to define her political image, and more recently the fascination with Michelle Obama, Carla Bruni and other women in similar positions, and the discussions about the appropriateness of their wardrobes, regularly makes the news. In Sudan, a female writer and activist successfully challenged the government over her right to wear trousers in public, and in Europe the debate on women's headscarves has politicised a garment item and turned it into a symbol of fundamentalism and oppression. In response, the contributors to this book investigate the politics of fashion from a variety of perspectives, addressing theoretical as well as empirical issues, establishing the critical study of fashion and its protagonists as a central contribution to the aesthetic turn in international politics. The politics of fashion go beyond these examples of the uses and abuses of textiles and fabrics for political purposes, extending into its very grammar and vocabulary. This book will be a unique contribution to the field and will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations, critical IR theory and popular culture, and world politics.
