do say is that it is a specialised shot that you make with the mashie that if the swing is the same only on a smaller scale as with the clubs of longer range you are never so safe as when you produce that swing in a way specially adapted to the club I am assuming that you do not take full bangs with the mashie like a slogger at cricket making a death or glory swipe at the ball in the hope of carrying not only the fieldsmen and the spectators but the pavilion as well Some golfers The Art of Golf
