Thomas Burke's Dark Chinoiserie Anne Veronica Witchard, 2017-03-02 Focusing on Thomas Burke's bestselling collection of short stories Limehouse Nights 1916 this book contextualises the burgeoning cult of Chinatown in turn of the century London London's Chinese Quarter owed its notoriety to the Yellow Perilism that circulated in Britain at the fin de siècle a demonology of race and vice masked by outward concerns about degenerative metropolitan blight and imperial decline Anne Witchard's interdisciplinary approach enables her to displace the boundaries that have marked Chinese studies literary studies critiques of Orientalism and empire gender studies and diasporic research as she reassesses this critical moment in London's history In doing so she brings attention to Burke's hold on popular and critical audiences on both sides of the Atlantic A much admired and successful author in his time Burke in his Chinatown stories destabilizes social orthodoxies in highly complex and contradictory ways For example his writing was formative in establishing the queer spell that the very mention of Limehouse would exert on the public imagination and circulating libraries responded to Burke's portrayal of a hybrid East End where young Cockney girls eat Chow Mein with chopsticks in the local cafés and blithely gamble their housekeeping money at Fan Tan by banning Limehouse Nights Witchard's book forces us to rethink Burke's influence and shows that China and chinoiserie served as mirrors that reveal the cultural disquietudes of western art and culture
