By developing an innovative conceptual framework predicated on a new theory of periodization, it thus situates Chinese literature in the context of world literature and the forces of globalization. Each section consists of a series of contributions examining the major literary genres including fiction, poetry, essay, drama, and film. Offering an exciting account of the century-long process of literary modernization in China, the handbook's themes include Modernization of people and writing, Realism, romanticism, and modernist aesthetics, Chinese literature on the stage and screen, Patriotism, war and revolution, Feminism, liberalism, and socialism, Literature of reform, reflection and experimentation, Literature of Taiwan, Hong Kong, and new media. This handbook provides an integration of biographical narrative with textual analysis, maintaining a subtle balance between comprehensive overview and in-depth examination. As such, it is an essential reference guide for all students and scholars of Chinese literature.
