Introd. by Minor White. Commentaries by Andre Jammes and Robert Sobieszek Philadelphia Museum of Art, Andre Jammes, Minor White, 1970 French Primitive Photography Philadelphia Museum of Art, 1969 After Daguerre: Masterworks of French Photography (1848-1900) from the Bibliothèque Nationale Bernard Marbot, 1980 French Primitive Photography, 1969 Downcast Eyes Martin Jay, 1993-10 Long considered the noblest of the senses vision has increasingly come under critical scrutiny by a wide range of thinkers who question its dominance in Western culture These critics of vision especially prominent in twentieth century France have challenged its allegedly superior capacity to provide access to the world They have also criticized its supposed complicity with political and social oppression through the promulgation of spectacle and surveillance Martin Jay turns to this discourse surrounding vision and explores its often contradictory implications in the work of such influential figures as Jean Paul Sartre Maurice Merleau Ponty Michel Foucault Jacques Lacan Louis Althusser Guy Debord Luce Irigaray Emmanuel Levinas and Jacques Derrida Jay begins with a discussion of the theory of vision from Plato to Descartes then considers its role in the French Enlightenment before turning to its status in the culture of modernity From consideration of French Impressionism to analysis of Georges Bataille and the Surrealists Roland Barthes's writings on photography and the film theory of Christian Metz Jay provides lucid and fair minded accounts of thinkers and ideas widely known for their difficulty His book examines the myriad links between the interrogation of vision and the pervasive antihumanist antimodernist and counter enlightenment tenor of much recent French thought Refusing however to defend the dominant visual order he calls instead for a plurality of scopic regimes Certain to generate controversy and discussion throughout the humanities and social sciences Downcast Eyes will consolidate Jay's reputation as one of today's premier cultural and intellectual historians American Photo - ND, 1993-03 Nadar: Collection Michel Et Michèle Auer Maria Morris Hambourg, Françoise Heilbrun, Philippe Néagu, 1995 Nadar whose real name was Felix Tournachon 1820 1910 was a conspicuous even astonishing presence in nineteenth century France Engaging and quick witted he invented himself over and over as a bohemian writer a journalist a romantic utopian a caricaturist a portrait photographer a balloonist an entrepreneur a prophet of aeronautics The name Nadar was on everyone's lips Today it is Nadar's photography that is remembered His sitters who were often his friends included the great men and women of his time Dumas Rossini Baudelaire Sarah Bernhardt Daumier Berlioz George Sand Delacroix Nadar's legendary name has been attached not only to his original photographs but to reprints copies and a great deal of studio work For that reason this volume exactly reproduces some one hundred photographs from the years 1854-60 the period of his earliest and finest photography allowing viewers to become familiar with the subtle light and balanced velvety tones that distinguish Nadar's original work Accompanying the photographs are essays that shed new light on the many facets of Nadar

Disappearing Witness Gretchen Garner, 2003-07-25 In documenting this transformation in American photography Disappearing Witness forcefully rethinks the history of photography itself

Parisian Views Shelley Rice, 1999 Each of the book's essays is in itself a Parisian view The fragmented layered quality of the text allows the author to avoid making a linear narrative out of a subject that is enriched by multiple perspectives Yet all of the essays revolve around a central theme the creation of modern urban space in both two and three dimensions and the impact of this space on the lives of those who walked the streets of Paris of the nineteenth century
