Meredith Martin,2017-07-05 Architectural Space in Eighteenth Century Europe Constructing Identities and Interiors explores how a diverse pan European group of eighteenth century patrons among them bankers bishops bluestockings and courtesans used architectural space and d cor to shape and express identity Eighteenth century European architects understood the client s instrumental role in giving form and meaning to architectural space In a treatise published in 1745 the French architect Germain Boffrand determined that a visitor could judge the character of the master for whom the house was built by the way in which it is planned decorated and distributed This interdisciplinary volume addresses two key interests of contemporary historians working in a range of disciplines one the broad question of identity formation most notably as it relates to ideas of gender class and ethnicity and two the role played by different spatial environments in the production not merely the reflection of identity at defining historical and cultural moments By combining contemporary critical analysis with a historically specific approach the book s contributors situate ideas of space and the self within the visual and material remains of interiors in eighteenth century Europe In doing so they offer compelling new insight not only into this historical period but also into our own      Historical Dictionary of Rococo Art Jennifer D. Milam,2011-04-18 The Rococo emerged in France around 1700 as a playful revolt against the grandeur of the Baroque and the solemnity of Classicism It flourished during the reign of Louis XV and began to go out of fashion in the second half of the 18th century During this brief period of less than a century it spread throughout the courts and cities of Europe with significant regional variations on the style developing in Bavaria Potsdam Venice and Great Britain The period produced an extraordinary number of artistic innovators who challenged received conventions developed novel subject categories and eroded hierarchical distinctions between the arts The Historical Dictionary of Rococo Art covers all aspects of Rococo art history through a chronology an introductory essay a review of the literature an extensive bibliography and over 350 cross referenced dictionary entries on prominent Rococo painters sculptors decorative artists architects patrons theorists and critics as well as major centers of artistic production This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and

Food and Knowledge in Renaissance Italy Deborah L Krohn, 2016-04-15 Though Bartolomeo Scappi's Opera 1570 the first illustrated cookbook is well known to historians of food up to now there has been no study of its illustrations unique in printed books through the early seventeenth century In Food and Knowledge in Renaissance Italy Krohn both treats the illustrations in Scappi's cookbook as visual evidence for a lost material reality and through the illustrations including several newly discovered hand colored examples connects Scappi's Opera with other types of late Renaissance illustrated books What emerges from both of these approaches is a new way of thinking about the place of cookbooks in the history of knowledge Krohn argues that with the increasing professionalization of many skills and trades Scappi was at the vanguard of a new way of looking not just at the kitchen as workshop or laboratory but at the ways in which artisanal knowledge was visualized and disseminated by a range of craftsmen from engineers to architects The recipes in Scappi's Opera belong on the one hand to a genre of cookery books household manuals and courtesy books that was well established by the middle of the sixteenth century but the illustrations suggest connections to an entirely different and emergent world of knowledge It is through study of the illustrations that these connections are discerned explained and interpreted As one of the most important cookbooks for early modern Europe the time is ripe for a focused study of Scappi's Opera in the various contexts in which Krohn frames it book history antiquarianism and visual studies

Enriching Architecture Christine Casey, Melanie Hayes, 2023-01-26 Refinement and enrichment of surfaces in stone wood and plaster is a fundamental aspect of early modern architecture which has been marginalised by architectural history Enriching Architecture aims to retrieve and rehabilitate surface achievement as a vital element of early modern buildings in Britain and Ireland Rejected by modernism demeaned by the conceptual turn and too often reduced to its representative or social functions we argue for the historical legitimacy of creative craft skill as a primary agent in architectural production However in contrast to the connoisseurial and developmental perspectives of the past this book is concerned with how surfaces were designed achieved and experienced The contributors draw upon the major rethinking of craft and materials within the wider cultural sphere in recent years to deconstruct traditional oppositional ways of thinking about architectural production This is not a craft for craft s sake argument but an effort to embed the tangible findings of conservation and curatorial research within an evidence led architectural history that illuminates the processes of early modern craftsmanship The book explores broad themes of surface treatment such as wainscot rustication plasterwork and staircase embellishment together with chapters focused on virtuoso buildings and set pieces which illuminate these themes Die Kunst und ihr Markt Dirk
