Friday Khutab:

From the minbar (a compendium of Friday sermons) 01-01-2021, الخطبة الجمعة الخطبة The Power of Oratory in the Medieval Muslim World Linda G. Jones, 2012-08-06 Oratory and sermons had a fixed place in the religious and civic rituals of pre modern Muslim societies and were indispensable for transmitting religious knowledge legitimising or challenging rulers and inculcating the moral values associated with being part of the Muslim community While there has been abundant scholarship on medieval Christian and Jewish preaching Linda G Jones's book is the first to consider the significance of the tradition of pulpit oratory in the medieval Islamic world Traversing Iberia and North Africa from the twelfth to the fifteenth centuries the book analyses the power of oratory the ritual juridical and rhetorical features of pre modern sermons and the social profiles of the preachers and orators who delivered them The biographical and historical sources which form the basis of this remarkable study shed light on different regional practices and the juridical debates between individual preachers around correct performance Classical Arabic Humanities in Their Own Terms Beatrice Gruendler, Michael Cooperson, 2008-06-30 The volume brings together approaches to different elements of Arabic Islamic civilization mainly in the areas of linguistics literature literary theory and prosody but also including religion ritual economics and zoology Contributions also touch upon the adjacent areas of the Old Iranian Persian Greek and Byzantine written traditions Some take as their points of departure specific Arabic words cat giraffe or morphemes others explore literary genres subgenres oration ode macaronic poem travel narrative or figures within them the trickster the devil Cultural concepts such as wishing gift giving or discourse are treated as are aspects of broader phenomena such as the role of gender in dream interpretation or the relative merits of luxury goods and mass produced commodities Muslim Preaching in the Middle East and Beyond Stjernholm Simon Stjernholm, 2020-06-18 Preaching has been central to Muslim communities throughout the centuries The liturgical Friday sermon is a prime example although other genres that are less commonly known also serve important functions This book addresses the ways in which Muslims relate various forms of religious oratory to authoritative tradition in 21st century Islamic practice while striving to adapt to local contexts and the changing circumstances of politics media and society This is the first book of its kind to look at homiletics beyond a specific country focus Taking into consideration the historical developments of Muslim preaching it offers a collection of thoroughly contextualised case studies of oratory in Turkey Egypt Saudi Arabia Bosnia Sweden and the USA The analyses presented here show shared emphasis on struggles for legitimacy efforts to speak authoritatively as well as discursive opportunities and constraints Cyber Worship in Multifaith Perspectives Mohamed Taher, 2006 Cyber Worship in Multifaith Perspectives as is implied by its name explores worship i.e. Prayer Praise Scripture Sacrament Rituals Confessions Eucharist Rites Pilgrimages Reflection Contemplation etc on the Internet It is not an everything you need to know guide about the subjects of faith and belief religions online religions on the Net or religions in cyberspace Rather it is a book about religious and spiritual experience under the rubric cyber worship which is the variety of ways religious devotion is performed and carried out on the Internet The term Cyber Worship is a catchall phrase which includes variants such as online worship virtual worship electronic prayer cyber puja cyber synagogue and so on Dr Mohamed Taher has thus assembled a quick reference for two groups those communities that are involved in Cyber Worship and business Webs that collaborate in sustaining wired environments As such this book provides an interesting and current perspective on a practice that will continue to grow in the future

Islamic Sermons and Public Piety in Bangladesh Max Stille, 2020-05-14 Islamic sermon gatherings are a central form of public piety and public expression in contemporary Bangladesh Held since the 19th century waz mahfils became so popular that it is today possible to participate in them on a daily basis in many regions of the country Despite their significance in the rise of popular politics the sermons are often disregarded as Islamist propaganda and very little research is dedicated to them This book provides unprecedented access into these sermon gatherings Based on fieldwork and interviews Max Stille analyses an archive of several dozens of sermons He shows how popular preaching shapes roles and rules of what can be said imagined and felt Waz mahfils are a participatory practice of the labouring classes in which religious political and poetic consensus overlap In them Islamic tenets and morals are part of dramatic narrations vocal art and affective communication ranging from immersion and upheaval to laughter about political jokes and parody Suggesting new ways to interpret musical and performative poetics of Islamic speech this book calls for expanding conceptions of civic participation and public discourse and rethinking the role of the senses and religious aesthetics in Islam

Building a House in Heaven Mona Atia, 2013-11-01 Charity is an economic act This premise underlies a societal transformation the merging of religious and capitalist impulses that Mona Atia calls pious neoliberalism Though the phenomenon spans religious lines Atia makes the connection between Islam and capitalism to examine the surprising relations between charity and the economy the state and religion in the transition from Mubarak era Egypt Mapping the landscape of charity and development in Egypt Building a House in Heaven reveals the factors that changed the nature of Egyptian charitable practices the state's intervention in social care and religion an Islamic revival intensified economic pressures on the poor and the subsequent emergence of the private sector as a critical actor in development She shows how when individuals from Egypt's private sector felt it necessary to address poverty they sought to make Islamic charities work as engines of development a practice that changed the function of charity from distributing goods to empowering the poor Drawing on interviews with key players Atia explores the geography of Islamic charities through multiple neighborhoods ideologies sources of funding projects and wide social networks Her work shifts between absorbing ethnographic stories of specific organizations and reflections on the patterns that appear across the sector An enlightening look at the simultaneous neoliberalization of Islamic charity work and Islamization of neoliberal development the book also offers an insightful analysis of the political and socioeconomic movements leading up to the uprisings that ended Mubarak's rule and that amplified the importance of not only the Muslim Brotherhood but also the broader forces of Islamic piety and charity Law, Empire, and the Sultan Samy A. Ayoub, 2020

 Zakaruya Yahya Bin Sharaf An-Nawawi 4, The Handbook of Communication in Cross-cultural Perspective Donal Carbaugh, 2016-08-19 This handbook brings together 26 ethnographic research reports from around the world about communication The studies explore 13 languages from 17 countries across 6 continents Together the studies examine through cultural analyses communication practices in cross cultural perspective In doing so and as a global community of scholars the studies explore the diversity in ways communication is understood around the world examine specific cultural traditions in the study of communication and thus inform readers about the range of ways communication is understood around the world Some of the communication practices explored include complaining hate speech irreverence respect and uses of the mobile phone The focus of the handbook however is dual in that it brings into view both communication as an academic discipline and its use to unveil culturally situated practices By attending to communication in these ways as a discipline and a specific practice the handbook is focused on and will be an authoritative resource for understanding communication in cross cultural perspective Designed at the nexus of various intellectual traditions such as the ethnography of communication linguistic ethnography and cultural approaches to discourse the handbook employs then a general approach which when used understands communication in its particular cultural scenes and communities The Forgotten

Inter-Religious Conversion in the Medieval World Yosi Yisraeli, Yaniv Fox, 2016-12-08 The Mediterranean and its hinterlands were the scene of intensive and transformative contact between cultures in the Middle Ages From the seventh to the seventeenth century the three civilizations into which the region came to be divided geographically the Islamic Khalifate the Byzantine Empire and the Latin West were busily redefining themselves vis vis one another Interspersed throughout the region were communities of minorities such as Christians in Muslim lands Muslims in Christian lands heterodoxical sects pagans and of course Jews One of the most potent vectors of interaction and influence between these communities in the medieval world was inter religious conversion the process whereby groups or individuals formally embraced a new religion The chapters of this book explore this dynamic what did it mean to convert to Christianity in seventh century Ireland What did it mean to embrace Islam in tenth century Egypt Are the two phenomena comparable on a social cultural and legal level

The chapters of the book also ask what we are able to learn from our sources which at times provide a very culturally charged and specific conversion rhetoric Taken as a whole the compositions in this volume set out to argue that inter religious conversion was a process that was recognizable and comparable throughout its geographical and chronological purview

American Muslim Women, Religious Authority, and Activism Juliane Hammer, 2012-04-01 Hammer looks at the work of significant female American Muslim writers scholars and activists since 1990 using their writings as a lens for a larger discussion of Muslim intellectual production in America and beyond Centered on the controversial women led Friday prayer in March 2005 Hammer uses this event and its aftermath to address themes of faith community and public opinion While gender is the catalyst for Hammer s study her examination of these women s intellectual output touches on themes central to contemporary Islam authority tradition Islamic law justice and authenticity
