Frieda And Min:

Frieda And Min Pamela Jooste,2011-10-31 When Frieda first met Min with her golden hair and ivory bones what struck her most was that Min was wearing a pair of African sandals the sort made out of old car tyres She was a silent unhappy girl dumped on Frieda s exuberant family in Johannesburg for the summer of 1964 so that her mother could go off with her new husband In a way Min and Frieda were both outsiders Min raised in the bush by her idealistic doctor father and Frieda daughter of a poor Jewish saxophone player who lived almost on top of a native neighborhood The two girls thrown together the white kaffir and the poor Jewish girl formed a strange but loyal friendship a friendship that was to last even through the terrible years of oppression and betrayal during the time of South Africa under Apartheid Star Of The Morning Pamela Jooste,2012-02-29 I knew then that there were some things not even Ruby could keep from me for ever and this was one of them We were coloured girls in a white world that didn t want us Born on the wrong side of a racial divide in apartheid torn Cape Town young sisters Ruby and Rose exist in a world where they are not welcome As part of the Cape Coloured community they are considered socially inferior yet even within their own social group the sisters live down the poor end of town Their father was killed when they were very small so when their mother dies after a protracted illness Ruby and Rose s fate falls into the hands of Aunt Olive Ruby knows without being told that their aunt s home will not be opened up to them charity does not extend to the poor relations who would cast a smudge on such a respectable house Aunt Olive condemns her nieces to the local orphanage relieving her conscience with monthly invitations to Sunday lunch In the orphanage the girls grow up sheltered from a divided world that they do not yet fully understand but the day approaches when Ruby and Rose must forge their own paths in life and confront the lessons that apartheid enforces Like the award winning Dance with a Poor Man s Daughter this beautifully observed novel of sisterly love once again displays Pamela Jooste s poignant understanding of human nature Dance With A Poor Man's Daughter Pamela Jooste,2011-10-31 Immensely moving and readable The Times My name is Lily Daniels and I live in The Valley Some of us like my mother don t live here any more People say she went on the Kimberley train to try for white and I mustn t blame her because she could get away with it even if we didn t believe she would Through the sharp yet loving eyes of eleven year old Lily we see the whole vivid culture of the Cape Coloured community at the time when apartheid threatened its destruction As Lily s beautiful but angry mother returns to Cape Town determined to fight for justice for her family so the story of Lily s past and future erupts Dance with a Poor Man s Daughter is a powerful and moving tribute to a richly individual people New York Supreme Court , The Southern African Impossible Book Quiz Book Robin Malan,2005 The author a fanatical motor sport enthusiast has spent seventeen years writing and compiling this work which confirms Kyalami as synonymous with motor racing in South Africa Writing in South Africa After the End of Apartheid and Other Essays Claude Féral,2002 California. Two Paths to Equality Amy E. Butler, 2012-02-01

In Two Paths to Equality Amy E. Butler provides a fascinating portrait of two of the major adversaries in the 1920s battle over equal rights legislation for women in the United States Alice Paul and Ethel M. Smith While they shared the goal of full political and legal equality for women they differed on how best to achieve it Paul the author of the Equal Rights Amendment ERA and leader of the National Woman's Party fought to establish that women were the same as men under the law Smith legislative secretary of the National Women's Trade Union League and a recognized leader of the opposition to the ERA believed the ERA did not adequately consider the impact of class and economic differences in women's lives and consequently would sacrifice the interests of one group of women to another Smith and Paul's conflict is a telling story of the inextricable relationship between personal politics collective action and the intersection of law and culture on the social construction of gender Comparing their perspectives on equality creates a new understanding of the people and issues at stake in the ERA debate

Sgt Garland Flowers a homicide detective for the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department has a dilemma He loves his wife and he loves his job but his two loves are not compatible This conflict is causing the breakup of his marriage and any hopes for a normal home life The long hours constant demands of the job and Garland's preoccupation with his cases have caused the couple to separate The turmoil in his personal life though does not compare with what is in store for him in his latest case Garland and his partner Archie Penner are called to investigate a murder in a ghetto community adjacent to the city of Los Angeles The scene they encounter resembles a disaster area The place looks like a cyclone went through it is how the deputy at the scene describes it A triple murder including a pre-adolescent girl has been perpetrated The apartment has been left in shambles with furniture thrown about as if by a raging storm Two of the victims a man and a woman are in the master bedroom The man's neck is broken and the woman has been strangled Both appear to have been dispatched by an incredibly powerful assailant In the other bedroom is their child the product of a racially mixed marriage The body of the child is neatly laid out in repose She has been smothered No items in the room have been displaced quite a contrast from the other rooms Further assessment of the crime scene rules out robbery as a motive Could this crime have been racially motivated The crime has all the earmarks of an act of personal rage With little to go on no fingerprints no witnesses or other clues as to the perpetrator's identity or motive the detectives have no place to turn That is until another multiple homicide two weeks later gives Flowers his first break A thumbprint has been lifted from the second crime scene The fingerprint identifies the suspect as a man by the name of B C Jones a recent parolee from Soledad Prison Jones is six feet six inches in height and weighs 280 pounds and none of it is fat His chest and arms are massive For six years he has been lifting weights in prison where he was sent for killing his father He committed the crime with his bare hands Jones is a mulatto the product of a black father and a white mother He is also simple minded having endured a childhood of constant physical abuse He is a social outcast and is extremely bitter about his racially mixed blood In his mind his lack of racial identity is the root of all of his problems and he feels compelled to do something about it During the course of the investigation Sgt Flowers pieces together the psychological puzzle that motivates Jones to commit these murders Meanwhile Jones discovers that he has been named as the suspect in these crimes and flees to the home of his only known relative an aunt who lives in Gulfport Mississippi While staying with her he is arrested for a minor offense A routine record check is made and the Gulfport Police Department learns that Jones is wanted for murder in Los Angeles The L A County Sheriff s Department is immediately notified Sgt Flowers is assigned the task of traveling to Mississippi to pick up the prisoner and return him to Los Angeles for trial The Deep South is not a place Flowers has ever given any thought of visiting After all this is 1969 and desegregation is still new to these parts and Garland Flowers happens to be black Born and reared in California he has heard horrifying stories of how blacks are treated in the South and is concerned about the kind of cooperation and assistance he will receive from the Southern law enforcement officers But his reception is not what he expects The absence of racial prejudice that he encounters upon
