

From the Author of GENERATION TO GENERATION

Friedman's fables

"Teaching by parable has an old and honorable tradition. Ed Friedman, beloved rabbi and noted family therapist, is a great modern master of the art."
—Frank Fromm, MD

These 24 mischievous tales capture the outrageous, the fantastic, and the paradoxical side of the human dilemma. Characters include flowers that wilt because they don't appreciate their own beauty; spiders that get caught in the symmetry of their own webs; birds that refuse to learn to fly "just 'cause their parents want them to"; fellow creatures that criticize a lion's but not standing up to a tiger; and people (who, after all, are part of the animal kingdom) who are commonly controlled, if not tyrannized, by the sensitivities of others.

What is most unusual about these tales is that they are equally relevant to marriage, therapy, pedagogy, shyness, medicine, motivational seminars, and raising children. Moments of our daily encounters with our fellow creatures, they will be insightful, challenging, and a delight to all who read them.
