From Early Child Development to Human Development Mary E. Young, 2002 It is never too early to become involved but it can easily be too late Armed with such alarming statistics as 125 million primary school age children are not in school another 150 million children drop out of primary school before they complete four years of education and almost one half of the children in the least developed countries of the world do not have access to primary education the World Bank convened a global conference in April 2000 to address the benefits and challenges of investing in early childhood development Scientific studies now show how critical the first few years of a child's life are in terms of later physical and mental health behavior and capacity to learn The Millennium Development Goals endorsed by 189 member countries of the United Nations and the World Bank are targets for reducing global poverty The goals specifically address the need for universal primary education as a means for breaking the cycle of poverty in individual families and in countries With the publication of this volume which contains the conference proceedings the World Bank hopes to encourage a broader investment by countries companies organizations and private sector institutions in early child development Armed with such alarming statistics as 125 million primary school age children are not in school another 150 million children drop out of primary school before they complete four years of education and almost one half of the children in the least developed countries of the world do not have access to primary education the World Bank convened a global conference in April 2000 to address the benefits and challenges of investing in early childhood development Scientific studies now show how critical the first few years of a child s life are in terms of later physical and mental health behavior and capacity to learn The Millennium Development Goals endorsed by 189 member countries of the United Nations and the World Bank are targets for reducing global poverty The goals specifically address the need for universal primary education as a means for breaking the cycle of poverty in individual families and in countries With the publication of this volume which contains the conference proceedings the World Bank hopes to encourage a broader investment by countries companies organizations and private sector institutions in early child development Culturally Responsive Standards-Based Teaching Steffen Saifer, 2011 Teaching children from diverse backgrounds begins with simple questions What is my culture What are my students cultures How does culture affect how I teach and how my students learn Can I learn to value and honour the unique experiences and cultures of my students These are essential questions for educators with a sincere desire to help all students succeed This comprehensive guide provides detailed examples that show why and how to create culturally responsive standards based CRSB instruction in the classroom schoolwide and at the district level Results of effective programs include increased academic success for all learners engaged and motivated students development of critical thinking skills necessary for higher learning and strengthened partnerships between students families and communities This new edition is enhanced with nationwide examples up to date resources and tools that can be implemented immediately Principals administrators K 12 teachers curriculum and staff developers and college instructors will find this handbook a valuable and powerful tool for promoting student engagement and improving struggling schools

Multiple Case Study Analysis Robert E. Stake, 2013-04-29 Examining situational complexity is a vital part of social and behavioral science research This engaging text provides an effective process for studying multiple cases such as sets of teachers staff development sessions or clinics operating in different locations within one complex program The process also can be used to investigate broadly occurring phenomena without programmatic links such as leadership or sibling rivalry Readers learn to design analyze and report studies that balance common issues across the group of cases with the unique features and context of each case Three actual case reports from a transnational early childhood program illustrate the author s approach and helpful reproducible worksheets facilitate multicase recording and analysis The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research Norman K. Denzin, Yvonna S. Lincoln, Michael D. Giardina, Gaile S. Cannella, 2023-04-07 This new

Creating an Anti-Racist Culture in the Early Years Sandra Smidt,2020-03-26 At a time of growing evidence of racism across many countries and cultures Creating an Anti Racist Culture in the Early Years will help those working with young children recognise racism name it for what it is and help their young pupils understand that difference is nothing to be feared Drawing on both personal research and established theory Smidt includes examples of anti racist practice from real life and in literature looks at how racism is acquired and cites examples of people who have spoken or acted against racism through the centuries She emphasises how and why it is essential to develop multicultural education into anti racist education and why it s so important to go beyond the mere celebration of differences in cultures This indispensable resource also addresses What racism is and why it is so corrosive How to recognise and challenge it in an early years setting How to work with parents and carers to help them reassess their prejudices or unconscious bias How to create an anti racist curriculum and culture through inclusion multiculturalism literature art and drama Creating an Anti Racist Culture in the Early Years is an indispensable resource for all early years practitioners and students of early childhood education who believe in creating more equitable opportunities for all of our young children

Democratic Policies and Practices in Early Childhood Education Linda Mitchell,2018-10-24 This book uses case studies of Aotearoa New Zealand policy formulation and practice to explore early childhood education and care ECEC as a site for democratic citizenship and social justice Addressing fundamental questions about the purpose of education it argues for explicit values focusing on children and childhood as a basis for ECEC policy to replace discourses of economic investment and child vulnerability that are dominant within policy goals in many countries A commitment to democracy and equity is a good place to start Aotearoa New Zealand is of special interest because of its world renowned ECE curriculum Te Whāriki which is based on principles of social justice respect for rights and an aim to support children growing up in a democracy The curriculum upholds Māori rights to tino rangatiratanga absolute authority over their lives and resources Yet Aotearoa New Zealand's extreme market policies and harsh labour laws during recent periods run contrary to ideals of democracy and are puzzlingly inconsistent with curriculum principles The book starts with an analysis and critique of global trends in ECEC in countries that share capitalist mixed economies of welfare and where competition and marketisation have become dominant principles It then analyses ideas about children childhood and ECEC within a framework of democracy going back to the Athenian origins of democracy and including recent literature on meanings and traditions of democracy in education The book uses vivid examples from researching curriculum pedagogy and assessment practices within Aotearoa New Zealand ECEC settings and collective action to influence policy change in order to illustrate opportunities for democratic education It concludes by examining what conditions might be needed for integrated and democratic ECEC provision in Aotearoa New Zealand and what changes are necessary for the future It offers a compass not a map it points to promising directions and provides insights into issues in ECEC policy and practice that are of current global concern
