Education For Shalom:

Educating for Shalom Nicholas Wolterstorff, 2004-03-02 In addition to his notable work as a premier Christian philosopher Nicholas Wolterstorff has become a leading voice on faith based higher education This volume gathers the best of Wolterstorff's essays from the past twenty five years dealing collectively with the purpose of Christian higher education and the nature of academic learning Integrated throughout by the biblical idea of shalom these nineteen essays present a robust framework for thinking about education that combines a Reformed confessional perspective with a radical social conscience and an increasingly progressivist pedagogy Wolterstorff develops his ideas in relation to an astonishing variety of thinkers ranging from Calvin Kuyper and Jellema to Augustine Aquinas and Kant to Weber Habermas and MacIntyre In the process he critiques various models of education classic foundationalism modernization theory liberal arts and academic freedom

The Pedagogy of Shalom HeeKap Lee, Paul Kaak, 2016-11-25 Based on the teachings of Jesus and a biblical foundation this book presents a new framework for education and teaching referred to as the shalom education model that addresses four essential questions in education why teach what to teach how to teach and who are teachers After explaining the theoretical background of shalom the book investigates a range of contemporary educational issues including gender identity bullying disability linguistic and cultural diversity and social justice and presents practical guidelines that can be applied to classroom teaching The book also emphasizes the role of teachers as missional leaders who help students unlock their full potential Hearing the Voices of Those who are Educating for Shalom Patricia R. Harris, 2013 For the past 30 years philosopher and educator Nicholas Wolterstorff has been speaking and writing about the multi faceted biblical idea of shalom and the phrase educating for shalom This study describes and analyzes the content of more than 100 voices of Christian higher educators who have written about the idea of educating for shalom as it refers to institutional vision missional goals and educational models Within the context of this study Wolterstorff's ideas about educating for shalom frame these educators ideas in Chapter 3 as a summary of his ideas from his writings and speeches are presented in Chapter 2 and a follow up via personal email communication is presented in Chapter 4 The organizing framework for this study comes from Joldersma's description of five aspects that summarize Wolterstorff's treatment of shalom 1 the goal and purpose of education 2 the analysis of the social context 3 the idea of Christian learning and scholarship 4 the curriculum and 5 the nature of teaching Wolterstorff 2004 p xiv This study presents three summary findings 1 there is an array of credible examples of educating for shalom within the context of Christian higher education 2 there is fertile ground within Christian higher education for embracing the motto educating for shalom and 3 the phrase educating for shalom is a unifying motto that Christian higher educators articulate through their overlapping conceptions of a biblical meaning of shalom and their overlapping ideas of what it means to educate for shalom

Reimagining Christian Education Johannes M. Luetz, Tony Dowden, Beverley

Thomas C. Hunt, James C. Carper, 2012-08-06 Exploring a subject that is as important as it is divisive this two volume work offers the first current definitive work on the intricacies and issues relative to America's faith based schools The Praeger Handbook of Faith Based Schools in the United States K 12 is an indispensable study at a time when American education is increasingly considered through the lenses of race ethnicity gender and social class With contributions from an impressive array of experts the two volume work provides a historical overview of faith based schooling in the United States as well as a comprehensive treatment of each current faith based school tradition in the nation The first volume examines three types of faith based schools Protestant schools Jewish schools and Evangelical Protestant homeschooling The second volume focuses on Catholic Muslim and Orthodox schools and addresses critical issues common to faith based schools among them state and federal regulation and school choice as well as ethnic cultural confessional and practical factors Perhaps most importantly for those concerned with the questions and controversies that abound in U S education the handbook grapples with outcomes of faith based schooling and with the choices parents face as they consider educational options for their children Toward a Theology of Special Education David W. Anderson, 2012-10-31 Professor mentor author disability advocate seminar leader around the world Dr David Anderson corralled his many talents and worldwide experiences to author this important book The volume should prove invaluable to Christians concerned about disabilities especially teachers Without flinching Dr Anderson tackles the tough issues How could a good and benevolent God permit disabled children Are disabilities the result of sin How does a Christian teacher of the disabled differ from secular counterparts Especially helpful is his emphasis on the reflective teacher integrating faith and learning Certainly this is a volume that belongs on the bookshelves of anyone concerned with disabilities Steven A Kaatz PhD Graduate Programs in Special Education Bethel University St Paul Minnesota I have had the privilege of traveling with Dr Anderson as he has taught the concepts addressed in this book to educators pastors and parents in a variety of countries I've seen the material come alive as leaders discover the importance of thinking Christianly about disability This book has the potential of impacting all readers in similar ways Dr Anderson challenges all of us to come to grips with a biblical worldview and then to live it out within our spheres of influence Toward a Theology of Special Education thus encourages all readers to think Christianly about disability Such thinking will then motivate us to care with Gods care and to serve with Gods concern for justice and compassion Dr Richard Schoenert pastor emeritus Calvary Church Roseville Minnesota Integrating Faith and Special Education Bennett Nworie, 2016-10-10 There is an inherent connection between the Christian faith and special education For example both focus on the worth of the individual Both also focus on fairness and on caring for or helping the weak Similarly both aim to equip and support others This book helps the readers perceive this integral relationship that exists between the Christian faith and the special education discipline This book utilizes the chapters that stem from real life professional experiences and scholarship of the contributors to model and encourage special education practice from a Christian faith angle It is our view that special education practiced from this faith perspective will transform what is currently accepted as best practice into a new system of special education experience that is wholesome biblically based and characteristic of Shalom as wholeness not just peace Shalom in this sense has strong relevance in both the Christian faith and special education The first three chapters highlight the connection between special education and Christian theology and draw attention to the pivotal role worldview plays in being an effective special educator The bulk of the body of the text looks at different aspects of instructional effectiveness in special education from a Christian faith perspective America's Education Challenge , 1997 Mindful Education Charlene Tan, 2021-06-30 This book provides original ideas and practical recommendations for educators in a post pandemic world We live in a world that has been upended by the COVID 19 pandemic Students around the globe have been besieged by disruptions that threaten not only their academic learning but also their mental emotional and interpersonal well being In the midst of pressing and mounting challenges how can schools ensure the total wellness of all their students Beyond reactive piecemeal and short term measures how can schools enact mindful education that pays attention to wholeness in every student Extending the current research on well being and mindfulness this book draws insights from Confucian and Christian traditions These two traditions have been selected as they are widely seen to represent and have impacted Eastern and Western civilisations respectively for millennia Informed and inspired by Confucian and Christian perspectives this book proposes that mindfulness is an orientation towards wholeness where one experiences the harmony and shalom peace Mindful education is realised through A school community of ren humanity and agape love A transforming curriculum that centres on dao way and imago dei god s image Empathic teachers who are motivated by shu putting oneself in the other s place and the Golden Rule do to others as you would have them do to you and Self directed learners who develop themselves through xiuji self cultivation and spiritual disciplines Applying ancient wisdom to contemporary settings this book on promoting student well being through mindful education is a useful resource for policymakers educators researchers and general readers
