laid the groundwork for future generations Social structures of the time largely confined women to domestic roles and education for girls was often minimal or restricted to religious instruction However elite and aristocratic families sometimes provided their daughters with broader educational opportunities especially if they showed artistic or intellectual promise In such rare cases daughters were encouraged to learn painting poetry music and classical literature skills valued in courtly life These exceptional circumstances gave rise to a handful of remarkable women who pursued art professionally One of the earliest and most prominent figures was Sofonisba Anguissola born into a noble Cremonese family in the 1530s Her father believed in educating his daughters and actively supported Sofonisba s artistic development She received private training and was later invited to the Spanish court where she served as a court painter to Philip II Her portraiture marked by psychological depth and refined composition won the admiration of both patrons and peers Sofonisba s success demonstrated that women could not only learn but master the visual arts even without access to formal academies or the nude studies that were considered essential to the male artistic curriculum
