Book Review Editors Choice A nuanced and insightful New Statesman portrait of Britain's most famous female poet a woman who invented herself and defied her times How do I love thee Let me count the ways With these words Elizabeth Barrett Browning has come down to us as a romantic heroine a recluse controlled by a domineering father and often overshadowed by her husband Robert Browning But behind the melodrama lies a thoroughly modern figure whose extraordinary life is an electrifying study in self-invention Born in 1806 Barrett Browning lived in an age when women could not attend a university own property after marriage or vote And yet she seized control of her private income defied chronic illness and disability became an advocate for the revolutionary Italy to which she eloped and changed the course of cultural history Her late in life verse novel masterpiece Aurora Leigh reveals both the brilliance and originality of her mind as well as the challenges of being a woman writer in the Victorian era A feminist icon high profile activist for the abolition of slavery and international literary superstar Barrett Browning inspired writers as diverse as Emily Dickinson George Eliot Rudyard Kipling Oscar Wilde and Virginia Woolf Two Way Mirror is the first biography of Barrett Browning in more than three decades With unique access to the poet's abundant correspondence astute thoughtful and wide ranging guide Times UK Fiona Sampson holds up a mirror to the woman her art and the art of biography itself

Poems by Elizabeth Barrett Browning Elizabeth Barrett Browning, 2008-05 Elizabeth Barrett Browning 1806-1861 was one of the most respected poets of the Victorian era She is generally considered one of the great English poets Her works address a wide range of issues and ideas including slavery in America Greek and Italian nationalism women's rights and the role of art in society She was learned and thoughtful influencing many of her contemporaries including Robert Browning Her life's experiences combined with her moral and intellectual strength made her the champion of the suffering and oppressed Her gift was both narrative and lyrical ranging from sonnets to a verse novel intentionally 2000 lines longer than Milton's Paradise Lost Some would say that her work tends to be overly sentimental Her most famous work is Sonnets from the Portuguese 1850 a collection of love sonnets The verse novel Aurora Leigh her most ambitious and perhaps the most popular of her longer poems appeared in 1856 It is the story of a woman writer making her way in life balancing work and love

Elizabeth Barrett Browning Dorothy Mermin, 1989-06-15 Elizabeth Barrett Browning 1806-61 was the first major woman poet in the English literary tradition Her significance has been obscured in this century by her erasure from most literary histories and her exclusion from academic anthologies Dorothy Mermin's critical and biographical study argues for Barrett Browning's originative role in both the Victorian poetic tradition and the development of women's literature Barrett Browning's place at the wellhead of a new female tradition remains the single most important fact about her in terms of literary history and it was central to her self-consciousness as a poet Mermin's study shows that Barrett Browning's anomalous situation was constantly present to her imagination and that questions of gender shaped almost everything she wrote Mermin argues that Barrett Browning's poetry covertly inspects and dismantles the barriers set in her path by gender and that in her major works Sonnets from the Portuguese Aurora Leigh her best political poems A Musical Instrument difficulty is turned into triumph incorporating the author's femininity her situation as a woman poet and her increasingly substantial fame Mermin skillfully interweaves biography and close readings of the poems to show precisely how Barrett Browning's life as a woman writer is a part of the essential meaning of her art Both her personal and her literary achievements are exceptionally well documented especially for her formative years Mermin makes extensive use of the poet's early essays a diary covering most of her twenty sixth year and the enormous number of letters that have survived Ranging from her earliest ambitions through her long periods of discouragement and illness to her happy married life with Robert Browning this comprehensive study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning is essential reading for students of the Victorian period English literature and women's studies The Life of Elizabeth Barrett Browning Gardner B. Taplin, 1957
