French Cruisers, 1922-1956 Jean Moulin, John Jordan, 2013-03-04 A technical analysis and pictorial history of the French navy cruisers built in the early to mid twentieth century The French produced some of the most striking and innovatory interwar cruiser designs A large amount of new information about these ships has become available over the past twenty years in France but this book is the first to make this accessible to an English speaking readership Part I explains the design philosophy behind each of the classes built after 1922 and outlines the characteristics of each type accompanied by detailed data tables and a comprehensive set of specially drawn plans based on official documents as well as carefully selected photographs Coverage includes the De Grasse laid down in August 1939 and completed postwar as an AA cruiser and also the heavy cruisers of the Saint Louis class intended to follow her about which little has been published Part II deals with the historical side covering not only the eventful careers of these ships but also explaining the peacetime organization of the Marine Nationale the complex politics of this turbulent period and their impact on the navy Like its highly successful predecessor French Battleships this beautifully presented book subtly blends technical and historical analysis to produce what must become the standard reference work Praise for French Cruisers A clearly written and excellently presented book which particularly with respect to its technical descriptions explains its chosen subject area in a convincing and comprehensive fashion The authors are to be commended for their achievement in bringing knowledge of a previously sparsely covered subject to an English language readership Warship Annual 2014

World War II in Europe David T. Zabecki, 2015-05-01 World War II defined the 20th century and shaped many events from the decolonization of Africa to the rise and fall of the Berlin Wall This encyclopedia offers a focused overview of this complex and volatile era the circumstances that led up to war the underlying causes its unfolding and consequences Organized for quick and precise access More than 1300 entries by 150 experts are arranged in six sections for easy reference and consultation All the key ideas events actions weapons individuals and organizations that played vital roles in the war are covered from the Axis Pact to the Arab League from the OSS to the Africa Korps from the Chetniks to the Jedburghs from the battle of Kursk to Operation Mincemeat from Bill Donovan to Otto Skorzeny from Gestapo to SMERSH from Georgi Zhukov to Jean Leclerc from the 88 gun to the Norden Bombsight Covers important neglected subjects The Encyclopedia puts special emphasis on the often neglected operations in Eastern Europe and Russia A key section inspects and rates all the major weapons with handy tables for easy comparison And in recognition of the first large scale participation of women in the war the volume thoroughly documents their individual and unit contributions to the Allied effort Finally the encyclopedia discusses battlefield realities that explain for example why the airborne drops at Normandy succeeded and the ones at Arnheim failed A bibliography glossary maps photographs and weapons and data tables enhance the coverage Also includes 16 maps

French Armoured Cruisers, 1887-1932 John Jordan, Philippe Caresse, 2019-12-19 Offers a fascinating look at the French Navy during the years leading up to World War I an excellent addition to any naval library Naval Historical Foundation Of all the threats faced by the Royal Navy during the first years of the twentieth century the one which stood out was the risk to Britain's sea lines of communication posed by France's armoured cruisers Fast well armed and well protected these ships could have evaded any attempted blockade of the French ports and supported by a worldwide network of overseas bases could potentially have caused havoc on the trade routes Between 1898 and 1901 the French laid down thirteen ships and completed nine in 1903 4 alone This book has as its subject the French armoured cruisers built from the late 1880s until shortly before the outbreak of the Great War beginning with the revolutionary Dupuy de Lôme the world's first modern armoured cruiser and ending with the impressive six funnelled Edgar Quinet and Waldeck Rousseau The primary focus of the book is on the technical characteristics of the ships Detailed and labelled drawings based on the official plans are provided by John Jordan and each individual class of ship is illustrated by photographs from the extensive personal collection of Philippe Caresse The technical section is followed by a history in two parts covering the Great War 1914-18 and the postwar years during which the surviving ships saw extensive deployment as station cruisers overseas and as training ships This is the most comprehensive account published in English or in French and is destined to be the standard reference for many years to come Brilliant absolutely brilliant War History Online

French Warships of World War II. Jean Labayle Couhat, 1971 The Organization and Order of Battle of Militaries in World War II Charles D. Pettibone, 2010-12 Book contains 1 All branches of country's military 2 Their structure and organization 3 Order of Battle can follow officers through their commands 4 Unit ship insignia or design On Seas Contested Vincent O'Hara, David Dickson, Richard Worth, 2014-02-15 On Seas Contested is an in depth analysis of the Second World War's seven major navies A team of expert naval historians have contributed chapters outlining the navies of the United States the United Kingdom and Commonwealth Japan Germany Italy France and the Soviet Union Each chapter consistently details key features such as weaponry training logistics and doctrine This definitive work will be a standard reference for years to come Three Republics One Navy Anthony Clayton, 2014-12-19 In the 1870s to supplement their early steam engines French warships were still rigged for sail In the 1970s the Marine Nationale's ships at sea included aircraft carriers operating supersonic jets and intercontinental ballistic missile submarines propelled by nuclear engines Within this one hundred years the Marine has played important roles in the acquisition of Asian and African colonial empires until 1900 the lead role in a naval Cold War against Great Britain in 1904-1920 preparation largely Mediterranean based for and participation in a Paris agenda in the First World War a spectacular modernization unfortunately incomplete in the inter war years division tragic self destruction and a rebirth in the Second World War important roles in the two major decolonization campaigns of Indochina and Algeria and finally in the retention of major world power status with power projection roles in the late 20th century requiring a navy with both nuclear age and traditional amphibious operational capabilities The enormous costs involved were to lead to reductions and a new naval relationship with Great Britain at the end of the 20th Century These successive radical changes were set against political dispute turmoil and in the years 1940 to 1942 violent division Political leaders from the 19th Century imperialists to the Fifth Republic sought a lead role for France or if not sufficient naval power to effectively influence allies and world affairs Domestic economic difficulties more than once led to unwise navy on the cheap policies and construction programs The major post 1789 rift in French society appears occasionally among crews on board ships in docks and builders yards and in 1919 1920 open munitions in ships at sea In this work the author has tried to weave together these very varied strands into a history of a navy whose nation's priorities have more often been land frontier defense the navy undervalued with a justifiable pride in its achievements poorly recognized A study of the history of the Marine is also useful and important contribution to wider studies of French national history over thirteen tumultuous decades The Modern Cruiser Robert C.

Stern,2020-03-30 An entertaining and informative review of the evolution of one of the most important classes of warship from the technology of WWII into the missile age Firetrench Cruisers probably vary more in their characteristics than any other warship type and have certainly been subject to the most convoluted development There was always a basic tension between quantity and quality between numbers and unit size but at a more detailed level every one of the naval powers made different demands of their cruiser designers This makes the story of cruiser evolution in the world's major navies fascinating but complex This book sets out to provide a coherent history of the fortunes of this ship type in the twentieth century beginning with a brief summary of development before the First World War and an account of a few notable cruiser actions during that conflict that helped define what cruisers would look like in the post war world The core of the book is devoted to the impact of the naval disarmament treaty process which concentrated to a great extent on attempting to define limits to the numbers and size of cruisers that could be built in the process creating the treaty cruiser as a type that had never existed before and that existed solely because of the treaty process How the cruisers of the treaty era performed in the Second World War forms the final focus of this interesting well written and well grounded book which concludes with a look at the fate of the cruiser type since 1945 Warship International The result is probably the best single volume account of the subject to date

The Last Century of Sea Power, Volume 2 H. P. Willmott,2010-03-22 An important contribution a thoughtful account of the years preceding the Second World War and at much greater length of the war itself History In this second volume of his history of naval power in the 20th century H P Willmott follows the fortunes of the established seafaring nations of Europe along with two upstarts the United States and Japan Emerging from World War I in command of the seas Great Britain saw its supremacy weakened through neglect and in the face of more committed rivals Britain's grand Coronation Review of 1937 marked the apotheosis of a sea power slipping into decline Meanwhile Britain's rivals and soon to be enemies were embarking on significant naval building programs that would soon change the nature of war at sea in ways that neither they nor their rivals anticipated By the end of a new world war the United States had taken command of two oceans having placed its industrial might behind technologies that further defined the arena of naval power above and below the waves where stealth and the ability to strike at great distance would soon rewrite the rules of war and of peace This splendid volume further enhances Willmott's stature as the dean of naval historians Praise for The Last Century of Sea Power series The author dean of naval historians provides a sweeping look at and analysis of the transformation of naval power Wilmott is fearless in his judgments Seapower H P Willmott is the finest naval historian and among the finest historians of any discipline writing today Bernard D Cole author of The Great Wall at Sea Allied Battleships in World War II William H. Garzke, Robert O. Dulin, 1980 Contains the only published photographs of the damage sustained by HMS Prince of Wales in her action with the Bismarck Updated to include British and French radar systems as well as extensive information on the French Richelieu class and a sketch of the Alsace class U.S. Navy Magazine ,1928 Warships of the World Roger Kafka, 1944 Under each ship that fought in World War II is included a brief but comprehensive account of the actions in which it took part what it did and whether it was damaged or sunk United States Naval Institute Proceedings United States Naval Institute, 1931 French Warships of World War I Jean Labayle Couhat, 1974 World War II Warships David Lyon, 1976 The Statesman's Year-Book M. Epstein, 2016-12-28 The classic reference work that provides annually updated information on the countries of the world The Illustrated Encyclopedia of 20th Century Weapons and Warfare ,1969 Warship International ,1973 Naval Shipbuilders of the World Robert J. Winklareth, 2000 While the design and service histories of warships are well covered in print there is no single volume guide to the companies and state yards that built them This work is designed to fill the gap The core of the book is made up of potted biographies of the shipbuilders describing their corporate development highlights in their histories and listing the major ships they built The book is international in coverage divided by country by region and by yard with maps and plans showing the main areas the locations of the yards and the ground layout of the most important builders at significant dates in their history Army and Navy Chronicle, and Scientific Repository ,1840
