marketing has been predicated on the basis that incremental improvements in a company's marketing mix is the only way to build and defend some sort of competitive market advantage. In practice this advantage is often easily and quickly eroded by the actions of competitors. Contrary to this common organizational development wisdom, long-term empirical evidence clearly demonstrates that it is the companies that dominate their particular industry that in fact own the industry standard that enjoy the highest profit margins and enjoy the longest periods of largely uncontested market supremacy. Creative Marketing as described in this book offers a means whereby any company can, given sufficient creative imagination, come to dominate its industry irrespective of its present market status. This is because the processes involved are not contingent upon some sort of technological superiority or extensive financial or other resources. The text provides the methodology for realizing the long-sought envelope curve path of corporate growth and profitability that means never having to complete an industry life cycle perhaps the Holy Grail of Marketing.

This project tool also shows how to ensure that bad products are stopped at gateway points before they become product and project failures. Project Management in New Product Development features the first integrated treatment of project management and new product development designed for modern, globally oriented firms. Numerous case studies covering software, technology, electronics, construction, telecommunications, military, and aerospace. 150 informative tables, figures, and graphics.

Compassion: From Neuroscience to New Horizons and Innovative, Inclusive Research Agendas Kathryn Waddington, Julian Manley, Trudi Edginton, Jason Kanov, 2024-01-11 The nature and science of compassion encompasses many aspects of human behavior, social and organizational experience, with resultant debate about its definition, meaning, and application. Research, theorizing, and scholarship is spread across a wide range of methodological, disciplinary, historical, and cultural perspectives, including psychology, sociology, psychosocial studies, organizational science, international politics, and evolutionary studies. Global concerns relating to the climate crisis, COVID-19 pandemic, and mass movements of displaced people all point to an urgent need for compassion in all human interactions. New and innovative interdisciplinary approaches, agendas, and paradigms are needed to both compliment and critique existing understandings of the meaning and applications of compassion in all its diverse and complex forms In a world where there appears to be increasing demand for simplification and quantification from governments and policy makers questions must be asked about what this means for psychology and social science research The tendency towards post positivist reductionism has led to critiques that universities have become factories that produce sterile derivative unimaginative writing 21st century universities have been described as anxiety machines lacking in compassion and creating more competition and stress than knowledge Arguably research into compassion should take place in compassionate disciplinary and institutional cultures We all have a role to play in addressing the lack of compassion in universities which will involve an institutional level shift from individual level competition to group level collaboration Importantly recent advances in compassion research promise gains in understanding in both the science and neuroscience of human experience and in applications of that work to improve humankind and the world around us Qualitative research in psychology and psychosocial approaches although becoming more visible still remain a minority endeavor within the discipline This Research Topic offers the opportunity to foreground the values and virtues of qualitative psychology alongside more tried and tested approaches Human-Centered Marketing Ashley Faus,2025-05-03 With the rise of AI excess of distribution channels and focus on tracking every touchpoint in order to drive revenue consumer trust is at an all time low To restore trust brands need to create delightful seamless and impactful journeys to connect with the humans behind the screen Human Centered Marketing introduces three frameworks to help mid senior level marketers find connect with and convert audiences The book helps you map an audience journey that behaves like a playground instead of a linear funnel evolve the approach to social media to go beyond conversations and instead facilitate and engage with the community and build thought leaders to build trust and move your audience into the future Each chapter includes practical advice to help seasoned marketers shift their strategy and offers tactical implementation recommendations All chapters include real world examples from companies like Adobe Hubspot and Edelman to demonstrate that this shift from the standard playbook actually works
