communications in mathematics Part II of the book is the bibliography of resources recommended to support the disciplines of mathematics and statistics These are grouped by type of material Publication dates range from the 1800 s onwards Hundreds of electronic resources some online both dynamic and static some in fixed media are listed among the paper resources Amazingly a majority of listed electronic resources are free

Lattices and Codes Wolfgang Ebeling, 2013 The purpose of coding theory is the design of efficient systems for the transmission of information The mathematical treatment leads to certain finite structures the error correcting codes Surprisingly problems which are interesting for the design of codes turn out to be closely related to problems studied partly earlier and independently in pure mathematics In this book examples of such connections are presented The relation between lattices studied in number theory and geometry and error correcting codes is discussed The book provides at the same time an introduction to the theory of integral lattices and modular forms and to coding theory In the 3rd edition again numerous corrections and improvements have been made and the text has been updated
