Critical Times in Curriculum Thought Marcella L. Kysilka, 2011-05-01 This book is designed to be used at a master's level for a degree in curriculum and instruction teacher education or educational leadership. It could be used as a primary or a supplementary text. The book is divided into three parts. The first section focuses on the contributions of noted educators to the field of education: Florence Stratemeyer Haberman and Corrigan Hilda Taba, Barbara Stern, Alice Miel, Jennifer Deets, Booker T. Washington, Karen Riley, Ralph Tyler, Gerald Ponder, and Dixie Massey, and John Dewey, William Schubert, and Heidi Schubert. The authors of these chapters focused on contributions that were less known but particularly important in thinking about education. The second section of the book focuses on curriculum movements that were politically motivated and their impact on curriculum applications in the schools: Cold War, Sputnik, Peggy Moch, Civil Rights, William Ayers, Women's Rights, Susan Brown, Bilingual/multicultural education, Gloria Contreras, and Ron Wilhelm, and the growing economic divide, William Watkins. The last section of the book provides perspectives on factors that affected curriculum implementation as seen through the eyes of authors who have done considerable research in these areas: Social Justice, William Gaudelli, and Dennis Urban, Integrated Curriculum, Lynne Bailey, The Comprehensive High School, Marcella Kysilka, Technology in the Curriculum, Gretchen Schwarz, and Janet Dunlop, and Inclusive Curriculum, Allison Dickey. The book could be used in Alternative Certification Programs as well as the chapters focus on issues that are common in the public school sector. The chapters are short and meaty and provide a thorough understanding of the people, politics, and perspectives of the times.

Classroom Conversations Alexandra Miletta, 2008-10-07 In Classroom Conversations, two generations of educators, a mother and daughter, point us to the great thinkers who have shaped their beliefs and practices in education and who continue to influence teachers today. Nineteen essays by educators from Dewey to Delpit offer parents and new educators an education degree in a nutshell. The Miletta's frame these touchstone texts with commentary explaining why these writers resonate for them, sharing not only the personal meanings they have derived from the selections but why these writings have endured in the field over time. Brief biographies set each author in context for the lay reader. As educational fads and jargon come and go, parents and teachers alike will appreciate and find value in the wisdom distilled here. Classroom Conversations will help experienced teachers find renewed meaning in these seminal essays and will help younger teachers discover just how important the work they do can be. For parents, the book will inform and enrich their understanding of their children's educational experience.

Educational Foundations Alan S. Canestrari, Bruce A. Marlowe, 2010 Educational Foundation: An Anthology of Critical Readings, Second Edition answers these questions and more, providing an exciting alternative to other foundation textbooks. This anthology is aimed at students about to enter the teaching profession, those new to the profession, and anyone interested in carefully examining schools and schooling. In this Second Edition, editors Alan

S Canestrari and Bruce A Marlowe add new essays by classic and contemporary policy shapers and teachers Each essay was selected for its ability to engage readers and provoke them to reflect on the current and enduring issues of teaching Key features Encourages discussion and debate through provocative essays that provide readers with opportunities to think critically about teaching and learning includes brief introductory vignettes that raise probing questions about teaching and learning and provide context for the essays that follow The Four Most Baffling Challenges for Teachers and how to Solve Them Sheryn Spencer Waterman,2006 First Published in 2006 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

School Jeff Gregg,2021-02-10 This book encourages readers to think about and discuss the purpose of education It provides an opportunity to consider how the way in which purposes are framed has consequences for student teacher relationships and teacher administrator relationships The author introduces a moral ethical dimension into the consideration of purposes Why would anyone do that to kids This book suggests that failure to reflect on the purpose of education underlies the lack of impact of many education reform efforts The author presents a fictional roundtable discussion of educational issues The participants include teachers school administrators state politicians and bureaucrats parents community members and business people A Developmental Approach to Educating Young Children Denise H. Daniels,Patricia K.

Clarkson,2010-08-16 Learn how current research and theory from educational psychology can be applied to create child centered learning environments and developmentally appropriate practices in Grades PreK 3 Motivation and the Struggle to Learn Theresa A. Thorkildsen,John G. Nicholls,2002 Four extensive case studies of academically disengaged students in middle childhood clarify the issues theories and strategies educators can use to help students construct meaningful academic lives Dilemmas theories and strategies for constructing meaningful academic lives are highlighted in four extensive case studies Perspectives of children caregivers and researchers are synthesized with findings from research on social development and learning While other texts in the field focus on specific learning disabilities or a wide range of age groups Motivation and the Struggle to Learn emphasizes a range of learning disabilities in students experiencing middle childhood

International Handbook of Student Experience in Elementary and Secondary School D. Thiessen,Alison Cook-Sather,2007-06-03 The International Handbook of Student Experience in Elementary and Secondary School brings together in a single volume the groundbreaking work of scholars who have conducted studies of student experiences of school in Afghanistan Australia Canada England Ghana Ireland Pakistan and the United States Drawing extensively on students interpretations of their experiences in school as expressed in their own words chapter authors offer insight into how students conceptualize and approach school understand and address the ongoing social opportunities for and challenges in working with other students and teachers and the multiple ways in which they shape and contribute to school improvement The individual chapters are framed by an opening chapter which provides background on bases of and trends in research on students experiences of school and a final chapter which uses the interpretive framework translation provided to explore how researching students experiences of school challenges those involved to translate their qualitative research methods the terms they evoke to describe and define students experiences of schools and in fact themselves as researchers

Research in Urban Educational Settings Kimberly A. Scott,Wanda J. Blanchett,2010-03-01 Results from quantitative and qualitative research studies have painted countless images of the unique features shaping urban schools including students experiences and how the surrounding communities affect the entire system Race ethnicity social class language power politics and public image operate as intersecting elements shaping the contours of urban school life therefore its documentation Little has been written about how researchers of urban schools and their constituencies effectively navigate these complex elements design a culturally sensitive and responsive project and acquire meaningful data What are some of the critically important issues a researcher should consider when working with urban schools What should be a researcher s commitment to the urban communities in which they conduct research How can a researcher develop a trusting relationship in an environment justifiably distrustful of outsiders These and other inquiries shape the contours of this edited volume As educators and policy makers take a closer examination at urban schools and their successes research of these unique settings assumes a more prominent role For academics both novice and experienced establishing and maintaining rapport within these environments often require greater attention than qualitative or quantitative research books accord Authors in this compilation share lessons learned about power privilege and their meanings as they pertain to conducting research in and with urban settings

To this end four primary objectives guide this manuscript 1 To expand the conversation of urban school research to include multiple voices of culturally responsible caring scholars with a professed commitment to using research as an empowering tool for urban educational contexts 2 To provide practical accounts of what has and has not worked for individuals conducting both short term and longitudinal research in urban educational institutions and communities 3 To demonstrate the disconnect between classroom discussions of urban education and real life field experiences of researchers working in urban settings and 4 To broaden discussions of reflexivity by analyzing the complex journey qualitative and quantitative sociologists anthropologists teacher educators urban educators and special educators experience while negotiating and creating collaborative relationships with urban educators administrators students parents and community members
