Engle Anna Ochoa Becker Jack Nelson Carole Hahn Byron Massialas Jeff Passe Jesus Garcia Gloria Ladson Billings Merry Merryfield Patricia Avery Sam Totten Bill Wraga Walter Parker and James Shaver The New Social Studies Barbara Slater Stern, 2009-11-01 This volume The New Social Studies People Projects and Perspectives is not an attempt to be the comprehensive book on the era Given the sheer number of projects that task would be impossible However the current lack of knowledge about the politics people and projects of the NSS is unfortunate as it often appears that new scholars are reinventing the wheel due to their lack of knowledge about the history of the social studies field The goal of this book then is to sample the projects and individuals involved with the New Social Studies NSS in an attempt to provide an understanding of what came before and to suggest guidance to those concerned with social studies reform in the future especially in light of the standardization of curriculum and assessment currently underway in many states The authors who contributed to this project were recruited with several goals in mind including a broad range of ages interests and experiences with the NSS from participants during the NSS era through new young scholars who had never heard much about the NSS As many of the authors remind us in their chapters much has been written of the failure of the NSS However in every chapter of this book the authors also point out the remnants of the projects that remain Advancing Social Studies Education through Self-Study Methodology Alicia R. Crowe, 2010-06-25 Advancing Social Studies Education through Self Study Methodology provides a collection of works that highlights ways in which self study of teaching and teacher education practices can advance conversations and knowledge in social studies education Some of the pieces chosen for this book will provide theoretical connections between the two fields e g how values and principles important to both fields work together are similar and can help each field expand Others will provide specific examples of self studies that focus on social studies specific concepts The book provides a strong and clear introduction of self study to the field of social studies education as well as an argument for its use to further understand social studies teaching and teacher education It also provides the self study community with an example of how self study can be used to look at content specific aspects of teaching and teacher education Building Rationales for Citizenship Education James P. Shaver, 1977 From Citizenship Education to National Education King Man Eric Chong, 2017-06-14 This book makes a timely contribution to understanding perceptions on national identity and National Education with both of them have become controversial topics in Hong Kong Special Administrative Region SAR of China In a so called globalization era national identity and National Education with the latter having an aim of fostering a Chinese national identity in education have been significantly pushed ahead by the Hong Kong SAR government since the early 2000s as a response to the return of sovereignty to China in 1997 Teacher perception matters to what they select and how they teach in the schools By incorporating fieldworks of teacher interviews observation and documentary analysis this book argues for a multi layered conception of identity different aims contents and diversified methods of National Education should be recognized This book is likely to become a useful account of teacher perception on

Building An Ethical School Robert J. Starratt,2005-06-21 The author argues for much greater attention to ethical education and responds to sceptics who say that it can t be done in the face of a pluralistic secular society badly fragmented over values Seeking always for themes and issues that unite rather than divide the author provides a conceptual foundation for ethical education broad enough for building consensus among teachers and parents yet focused enough to provide guidance for highly specific learning activities The second half of the book takes the reader through a carefully devised series of steps by which a school community might proceed in building their ethical school The final chapter reminds of the many difficulties to be met along the way but offers encouragement to strengthen the resolve of the school community The book concludes with two helpful appendices the first provides detailed information on exiting initiatives already underway in ethical education the second offers an annotated bibliography of books and essays which are available for those educators who need or want to read more on the topic of ethical education

IRVING E SIGEL This volume of essays is a broad gauged effort directed at reflections on the applicability of Piagetian theory to education Identification and de termination of the relevance of Piagetian theory to education is of course not new The bibliographies in this volume do attest to that assertion Then why the persistent interest and why still another volume Rather than deal with the relevance of each article to these issues let us deal with the basic question of why such continued interest in application of Piagetian theory to education and further raise the problem of the feasibility of such a task Three questions come immediately to mind Why the interest in applicability What are some of the problems that arise in application Is Piagetian theory applicable to education Why the continued interest in application of Piagetian theory in education The answer to this question resides in the sociological and educational issues that arose twenty years ago and still persist in American education namely the need to upgrade the quality of education by providing a coherent conceptual system with a developmental emphasis People gravitated to Piaget because it was the only major system sufficiently comprehensive as well as substantive While learning theories abound they do not tie together general cognitive development with specific relevant content areas e g development of such knowledge domains as number time space geometry etc Thus Piaget offers a development framework within which content areas are embedded Holding Accountability Accountable Kenneth A. Sirotnik, 2004 Kenneth Sirotnik asserts that however well intentioned past and current accountability practices in public education are miseducative misdirected and misanthropic In this provocative book well respected educators join Sirotnik to provide critical analyses and sophisticated perspectives on prevailing high stakes accountability practices They offer both conceptual and practical foundations for rethinking what it means to act responsibly when it comes to calling our schools school systems educators and students into account
