International Perspectives on the Design of Technology-supported Learning Environments Stella Vosniadou,Erik De Corte,Robert Glaser,Heinz Mandl,2012-10-12 In recent years the use of technology for the purposes of improving and enriching traditional instructional practices has received a great deal of attention However few works have explicitly examined cognitive psychological and educational principles on which technology supported learning environments are based This volume attempts to cover the need for a thorough theoretical analysis and discussion of the principles of system design that underlie the construction of technology enhanced learning environments It presents examples of technology supported learning environments that cover a broad range of content domains from the physical sciences and mathematics to the teaching of language and literacy The emphasis in this book is not on the design of educational software but on the design of learning environments A great deal of research on learning and instruction has recently moved out of the laboratory into the design of applications in instructional settings By designing technology supported learning environments instructional scientists attempt to better understand the theories and principles that are explicit in their theories of learning The contributors to this volume examine how factors such as social interaction the creation of meaningful activities the use of multiple perspectives and the construction of concrete representations influence the acquisition of new information and transfer

Activity Theory, Authentic Learning and Emerging Technologies

Vivienne Bozalek,Dick Ng'ambi,Denise Wood,Jan Herrington,Joanne Hardman,Alan Amory,2014-09-15 Although emerging technologies are becoming popularised for teaching learning and research the relationship between their use and transformative effects on higher education remain largely unexplored This edited collection seeks to fill this gap by providing a nuanced view locating higher education pedagogical practices at an intersection of emerging technologies authentic learning and activity systems Providing numerous case studies as examples the book draws from a wide range of contexts to illustrate how such a convergence has the potential to track transformative teaching and learning practices in the higher education sector Chapters provide the reader with a variety of transformative higher education pedagogical practices in southern contexts theorised within the framework of Cultural Historical Activity Theory CHAT and tool mediation while using authentic learning as a pedagogical model upon which this theoretical framework is based The topics covered in the book have global relevance with research paying particular attention to South Africa Australia and New Zealand where the authors are based The book will be of interest to educators researchers and practitioners in higher education as well as those interested in emerging technologies in education more generally Essentials of Chemical Education Hans-Dieter Barke, Günther Harsch, Siegbert Schmid, 2011-10-28 For everybody teaching chemistry or becoming a chemistry teacher the authors provide a practice oriented overview with numerous examples from current chemical education including experiments models and exercises as well as relevant results from research on learning and teaching With their proven concept the authors cover classical topics of chemical education as well as modern topics such as every day life chemistry student s misconceptions the use of media or the challenges of motivation This is the completely revised and updated English edition of a highly successful German title Moral and Political Dimensions of Critical-Democratic Citizenship Education Wiel Veugelers, 2023-07-31 Winner of the 2024 Moral Development and Education SIG 67 Outstanding Book Award In Moral and Political Dimensions of Critical Democratic Citizenship Education Wiel Veugelers analyses theory policy and practice of moral education and citizenship education in the past few decades He shows that there are different orientations in national and global moral education and citizenship education He criticises the strong orientation on the individual and on adaptation and argues for more emphasises on social justice equity and democracy This volume brings together articles Veugelers published in the past 25 years Each article is introduced by a reflection on the reasons for the article its responses and lessons that are still relevant The book ends with a large chapter that overviews central developments and presents a programme for future theory research policy and practice in moral education and citizenship education with a strong focus on democracy and empowerment the moral should become more political and the political more moral Third Place Learning Glyn M. Rimmington, Mara Alagic, 2008-06-01 The hybridity and dynamism of today s interconnected interdependent and culturally diverse world poses challenges and opportunities for learning and communication This book introduces an approach to facilitate global learning opportunities while facing these challenges The approach is based on the cage painting metaphor for dialogic co construction of meaning and understanding of multiple perspectives Resolving disorienting dilemmas or preconceptions requires a dialectic flow of thinking since the root of the problem may lay deep in person s beliefs and values Such experiences might be transformative in their nature causing change in person s perspective better understanding the culture of themselves and other people reflective and mindful inquiry into one s worldview the third place processes Misunderstandings are more prevalent when using technology global reach between people from distant locations different cultures To prepare people for these challenges we offer a Web 2 0 based instructional design blueprint Dependent on the context and content of the planned activities the cage painting and global learning processes may be facilitated simultaneously or sequentially The approach presented in this book has attracted interest of educators in different disciplines as well as human resources leaders concerned with key characteristics of today s global business workers intercultural global communication and collaboration The ideas emerged from six years of studying ways in which we and our colleagues from 25 other countries integrated global learning into classrooms in a range of discipline areas In this book we explore the competences needed to communicate interculturally and avoid the effects of preconceptions on our communication and collaboration We review metaphors commonly used in intercultural communication and then introduce a new metaphor called Cage Painting The process of Cage Painting requires certain conditions during intercultural communication whether it is face to face or via global reach using technology The transformative processes that we undergo as we confront cultural disorienting dilemmas smiling being a simple example of one are named the Third Place
