Edith Collier Her Life And Work 1885-1964:

Edith Collier Joanne Drayton, 1999 Published with the assistance of the Edith Collier Trust Sarjeant Art Gallery and Whanganui Regional Community Polytechnic Edith Collier's contribution to New Zealand art as an innovator modernist and expatriate painter placed her in a most distinguished group but her achievements have been eclipsed by the very company she kept such as Frances Hodgkins and Margaret Preston This book and the travelling exhibition it accompanies sets the record straight After a thorough although conservative art education at the Technical School in Wanganui Edith Collier left New Zealand in 1913 for St John's Wood Art School in London She was then aged 27 Rapidly disillusioned and feeling marginalised as an expatriate woman painter she became more influenced by other expatriates in London and was to enjoy greater success through exhibiting with the Society of Women Artists and Women's International Art Club venues outside the art establishment and became a significant Modernist painter Collier returned to New Zealand in 1922 as an experienced artist with innovative ideas but as a spinster in provincial Wanganui received harsh treatment including what Drayton describes as savage critical assessment and negative response from her own community In a well known incident on which Drayton casts a new perspective her father burned many of her finest paintings She died in 1964

Beyond the Battlefield Catherine Speck, 2014-08-15 World Wars I and II changed the globe on a scale never seen before or since and from these terrible conflicts came an abundance of photographs drawings and other artworks attempting to make sense of the turbulent era In this generously illustrated book Catherine Speck provides a fascinating account of women artists during wartime in America Britain Canada Australia and New Zealand and their visual responses to war both at the front lines and on the home front In addition to following high profile artists such as American photographer Lee Miller Speck recounts the experiences of nurses voluntary aides and ambulance drivers who found the time to create astonishing artworks in the midst of war zones She also describes the feelings of disempowerment revealed in the work done by women distant from the conflict As Speck shows women artists created highly charged emotional responses to the threats sufferings and horrors of war the constant fear of attack the sorrow of innocent lives destroyed the mass murders of people in concentration camps and the unimaginable aftermath of the atomic bombs The first book to explore female creativity during these periods Beyond the Battlefield delivers an insightful and meditative examination of this art that will appeal to readers of art history war history and cultural studies Arts and Crafts
