Eye Of The Abyss:

The Abyss Stares Back Stacy Alaimo, 2025-05-13 In an era of accelerating extinctions what does it mean to discover thousands of new species in the deep sea As we see the catastrophic effects of the Anthropocene proliferate advanced technologies also grant us greater access to the furthest reaches of the world's oceans facilitating the discovery of countless new species Sorting through the implications of this strange paradox Stacy Alaimo explores the influence this newfound intimacy with the deep sea might have on our broader relationship to the nonhuman world While many images of these abyssal creatures circulate as shallow clickbait aesthetic representations can be enticing lures for speculating about their lives profoundly expanding our environmental concern The Abyss Stares Back analyzes a diverse range of scientific literary and artistic accounts of deep sea exploration including work from the naturalist William Beebe and the artist Else Bostelmann as well as results of the Census of Marine Life that began at the turn of the twenty first century As she focuses on oft overlooked creatures of the deep such as tubeworms hatchetfish siphonophores and cephalopods which are typically cast as alien Alaimo shows how depictions of the deep seas have been enmeshed in long colonial histories and racist constructions of a threatening abyss Drawing on feminist environmentalism posthumanism science and technology studies and Indigenous and non Western perspectives Alaimo details how our understanding of science is fundamentally altered by aesthetic encounters with these otherworldly life forms She argues that although the deep sea is often thought of as a lifeless void with little connection to human existence our increasing devastation of this realm underscores our ethical obligation to protect the biodiverse life in the depths When the abyss stares back it demands recognition Retail e book files for this title are screen reader friendly with images accompanied by short alt text and or extended descriptions The Eye of the Abyss Ailittlebunny, 2025-02-08 5 yan xi, 2024-11-12 Lin Yu heard the voice suddenly coming from her mind and her expression was calm and calm Isotopography Niels Wilde, 2024-08-19 While the concept of place remains undertheorized in Kierkegaard research this study argues that place is at the center of Kierkegaard's thinking The first part of the book shows that Kierkegaard's notion of situatedness as being placed in a socio historical situation conditioned by a situation prior to situatedness points to a realist position and a flat ontology Secondly the book develops a detailed analysis of the ontological structure of the existential place the place we ourselves are and concrete places the places where we are Place opens a qualified space within bounds the existence sphere an atmosphere of elemental attunement and attuned elementality Finally the book collects the dots from part one and two in a topological realist approach to Kierkegaard's theology and three main definitions of God God is love God is that everything is possible and God is the middle term The book concludes that Kierkegaard's existential topography reveals a realist position where we are is never exhausted by being the place where we are The Collected Works of Saint John of the Cross St. John of the Cross, 1991 This revised edition of The Collected Works of St John of the Cross was produced to mark the fourth centenary of the death of St John of the Cross 1542 1591 The result and how it has profoundly influenced the aesthetics of movies and public perception of the oceans In The Underwater Eye Margaret Cohen tells the fascinating story of how the development of modern diving equipment and movie camera technology has allowed documentary and narrative filmmakers to take human vision into the depths creating new imagery of the seas and the underwater realm and expanding the scope of popular imagination Innovating on the most challenging film set on earth filmmakers have tapped the emotional power of the underwater environment to forge new visions of horror tragedy adventure beauty and surrealism entertaining the public and shaping its perception of ocean reality Examining works by filmmakers ranging from J E Williamson inventor of the first undersea film technology in 1914 to Wes Anderson who filmed the underwater scenes of his 2004 The Life Aquatic with Steve Zissou entirely in a pool The Underwater Eye traces how the radically alien qualities of underwater optics have shaped liquid fantasies for more than a century Richly illustrated the book explores documentaries by Jacques Cousteau Louis Malle and Hans Hass art films by Man Ray and Jean Vigo and popular movies and television shows such as 20 000 Leagues Under the Sea Creature from the Black Lagoon Sea Hunt the Bond films Jaws The Abyss and Titanic In exploring the cultural impact of underwater filmmaking the book also asks compelling questions about the role film plays in engaging the public with the remote ocean a frontline of climate change

The answers to forty questions concerning the soul. The treatise of the incarnation. The clans Jakob Böhme, 1764 Dark Light of the Soul Kathryn Wood Madden, 2008-11 I have never been particularly fond of Nietzsche probably because I saw many of my fellow students years ago taken fascinated even entranced with his passion but with no way to let that passion open into something creative At last that view changes here A central effect of Gruber's creative approach to Nietzsche is to demonstrate not simply talk about the fact that it is necessary to throw oneself across the threshold into initiatory realms into the completely unknown Initiatory experience cannot be planned one cannot in advance know where one is going or what will happen Even more this chopping off of one's purposive calculating head must be done with the greatest enthusiasm possible Still why choose Nietzsche to exemplify this necessity Part of the answer lies in suggesting that Nietzsche's program for abandoning our mental structures is exactly what is needed to enter the unknown and to develop the capacity of letting life unfold from the unknown unknowingly and with the fullest attention Robert Sardello from the foreword Beginning with a consideration of Nietzsche's inflammatory and critical insight that the modern world is framed by the death of God Michael Gruber confronts contemporary disenchantment and its necessary offspring the universalization of terror By making truth relative negating the value of beauty and rendering questions about the good dubious if not obsolete terror permeates all aspects of our psychosocial existence with the threat of dehumanization In response to this terror which is the fundamental mood of our time Gruber advocates reimagining our destiny as a path of initiation Describing an inner awakening to the spiritual world whose earthly manifestation of its inherent divinity invites and necessitates our conscious participation Gruber offers readings and practices that promote the incarnation of noble souls Referring to the work of Nietzsche Heidegger and Steiner An Unknown Destiny describes how psychotherapy can move beyond healing the ego to transcending the ego Gruber shows how opening the soul to meditative or intuitive forms of thinking can contribute to the development of new soul faculties of perception and to the experience of moral freedom Most important he shows how the incomplete and continuously evolving Mystery of Golgotha can inspire the emergence and presence of modern human beings infused with Christ consciousness reverence wisdom peace and love The challenge of this book is to radicalize therapy to see that all of psychology to this point has been nothing more than a preparatory and transitional discipline a training of consciousness for modern initiation which now takes place with others rather than through one's solitary meditative practices I hope that at least a few therapists will feel the truth of what Michael Gruber has written and take up the magnificent work that he proposes Robert Sardello from the foreword The London and Paris Observer, 1831 The Enlightened Eye, 2015-06-29 Poets painters philosophers and scientists alike debated new ways of thinking about visual culture in the long eighteenth century The essays in The Enlightened Eye Goethe and Visual Culture demonstrate the extent to which Goethe advanced this discourse in virtually all disciplines The concept of visuality becomes a constitutive moment in a productive relationship between the verbal and visual arts with far reaching implications for the formation of bourgeois identity pedagogy and culture From a variety of theoretical perspectives the contributors to this volume examine the interconnections between aesthetic and scientific fields of inquiry involved in Goethe s visual identity By locating Goethe s position in the examination of visual culture both established and emerging scholars analyze the degree to which visual aesthetics determined the cultural production of both the German speaking world and the broader European context The contributions analyze the production presentation and consumption of visual culture defined broadly as painting sculpture theater and scientific practice The Enlightened Eye promises to invest new energy and insight into the discussion among literary scholars art historians and cultural theorists about many aspects of visual culture in the Age of Goethe
