Eye Of Duncan Phillips:

The Eye of Duncan Phillips Duncan Phillips, Erika D. Passantino, David W. Scott, 1999 This book is both a survey of the major European and American works in The Phillips Collection in Washington D C and a guide to the museum's holdings and significance A study of the history of taste in twentieth century America it documents the evolution of modernism as well as the pivotal role played by Duncan Phillips 1886 1966 as a critic and collector

Notable American Women Susan Ware, 2004 This latest volume brings the project up to date with entries on almost 500 women whose death dates fall between 1976 and 1999 You will find here stars of the golden ages of radio film dance and television scientists and scholars civil rights activists and religious leaders Native American craftspeople and world renowned artists For each subject the volume offers a biographical essay by a distinguished authority that integrates the woman's personal life with her professional achievements set in the context of larger historical developments

The Evolving House Museum, 2024-08-05 This volume explores twelve house museums created over more than two centuries and founded across the globe What motivates collectors to establish independent house museums instead of donating their collections to preexisting institutions How have collectors' original intentions manifested themselves in their museums Have founder mandates aided the survival or caused the demise of their institutions How have house museums' collections or buildings evolved over time Must museums reinterpret their collections to remain relevant to contemporary and diverse audiences In seeking to answer these questions the volume's authors share the unique stories behind the creation and evolution of these fascinating institutions and the intriguing stories of the exceptional individuals who founded them Contributors Aist Bimbryt Eliza Butler Chih En Chen Enrico Colle Allegra Davis Marissa Hershon Mia Laufer Ulrike M ller Nadine Nour el Din Inge Reist Anne Nellis Richter and Georgina S Walker

Creative Composites Lauren Kroiz, 2012-09-06 Creative Composites provides an intelligent rigorous account of several under examined figures who gathered around the photographer Alfred Stieglitz and played important roles in the first American avant garde Drawing on rich archival sources Lauren Kroiz revisits the cultural debates of the period and constructs an intricate and convincing comparative analysis of the role that gender race and ethnicity and cultural nationalism played in the construction of American modernism This important historical and interpretive text represents a much needed contribution not only to the history of American art but also to American social and cultural history Marcia Brennan author of Curating Consciousness Mysticism and the Modern Museum Describing the associations between immigrant critics and artists enmeshed in the New York art world in the early twentieth century Kroiz skillfully demonstrates that American modernism reached beyond its European influences and was a deeply hybrid enterprise with multiple global and overlapping roots Kroiz is sure footed when seriously addressing works of art and marvelous at working through the issues around the ethnic identities of many of the key figures Illuminating a crucial and oft overlooked aspect of the history of American modernism this peripatetic and shifting multiculturalism Creative Composites is a timely deeply researched text that highlights the wealth of mixed ancestry in our cultural heritage Jessica May author of American Modern Documentary Photography by Abbott Evans and Bourke White The Passionate Collector Roy R. Neuberger, 2003-05-13

Few living persons have served the Metropolitan Museum of Art indeed the entire world of art and art museums longer or with more distinction than Roy Neuberger A man of taste passion persistence and generosity he has shared much of his great private collection with the public and for generations has supported activities that bring people to museums and motivate them to return again and again Now this giant of a man has recorded eighty years of his life and the result is entertaining illuminating and like the tireless gentleman himself inspiring Philippe de Montebello Director The Metropolitan Museum of Art Equal to his passion for investing is Roy Neuberger's love for art which he has collected and encouraged for eight decades In The Passionate Collector Eighty Years in the World of Art you'll follow this fascinating financial figure and great patron of the arts from the streets of 1920s Paris to the museums of New York as he develops the eye of a connoisseur and begins to collect great contemporary art Vivid detail puts you in the center of the action as Neuberger collects the brilliant artists of his time Milton Avery Jackson Pollock Ben Shahn Edward Hopper works with legendary art dealers Paul Rosenberg Betty Parsons Sidney Janis and Leo Castelli and befriends avid collectors including the incomparable Duncan Phillips You'll follow Neuberger as he strives to further the cause of contemporary American artists by exhibiting lending and donating from his growing collection and becoming an activist for the Metropolitan Museum of Art the Museum of Modern Art and the Whitney You'll also see how the Neuberger Museum of Art was created at the urging of Governor Nelson Rockefeller and how it continues to fascinate art enthusiasts today Part personal memoir part history of art The Passionate Collector offers a unique view of twentieth century American art from a man who has lived it Modern Art on Display K. Porter Aichele, 2016-05-19

Modern Art on Display The Legacies of Six Collectors is structured as a sequence of case studies that pair collectors of modern art with artists they particularly favored Duncan Phillips and Augustus Vincent Tack Albert Barnes and Chaim Soutine Albert Eugene Gallatin and Juan Gris Lillie Bliss and Paul C zanne Etta Cone and Henri Matisse G David Thompson and Paul Klee The case studies are linked by a thematic focus on the integral relationship between the collectors acquired knowledge about the work they amassed and their innovative display models This focus brings a new perspective to the history of collecting and interpreting modern art in America for nearly half a century 1915 1960 By examining the books the collectors themselves read and analyzing archival photographs of their displays the author makes a case for the historical significance of how the collectors presented the art they acquired before their collections were institutionalized Georges Braque Alex Danchev, 2012-02-14

Together with Picasso and Matisse Georges Braque is unquestionably one of the three great pillars of twentieth century art Here is the first full length biography of this remarkable figure A pioneer of modern art and founder of Cubism Georges Braque was a creative genius and tireless innovator constantly pushing back the boundaries of the possible In this magisterial work Alex Danchev taps a wide range of new sources to reveal the heart and mind of one who helped usher in the greatest revolution in the ways of seeing since the Renaissance and changed the face of modern art

American National Biography John A. Garraty, Mark C. Carnes, 2005-05-12 American National Biography is the first new comprehensive biographical dictionary focused on American history to be published in seventy years. Produced under the auspices of the American Council of Learned Societies, the ANB contains over 17,500 profiles on historical figures written by an expert in the field and completed with a bibliography. The scope of the work is enormous, from the earliest recorded European explorations to the very recent past.

Emerging Infectious Diseases, 2006 Collecting as Modernist Practice Jeremy Braddock, 2012-02-15 Winner of the Modernist Studies Association Book Prize of the Modernist Studies Association. In this highly original study, Jeremy Braddock focuses on collective forms of modernist expression: the art collection, the anthology, and the archive, and their importance in the development of institutional and artistic culture in the United States. Using extensive archival research, Braddock's study synthetically examines the overlooked practices of major American art collectors and literary editors: Albert Barnes, Alain Locke, Duncan Phillips, Alfred Kreymborg, Amy Lowell, Ezra Pound, Katherine Dreier, and Carl Van Vechten. He reveals the way collections were devised as both models for modernism's future institutionalization and culturally productive objects and aesthetic forms in themselves. Rather than anchoring his study in the familiar figures of the individual poet, artist, and work, Braddock gives us an entirely new account of how modernism was made, one centered on the figure of the collector and the practice of collecting. Collecting as Modernist Practice demonstrates that modernism's cultural identity was secured not so much through the selection of a canon of significant works as by the development of new practices that shaped the social meaning of art. Braddock has us revisit the contested terrain of modernist culture prior to the dominance of institutions such as the Museum of Modern Art and the university curriculum so that we might consider modernisms that could have been. Offering the most systematic review to date of the Barnes Foundation, an intellectual genealogy and analysis of The New Negro, anthologies, and studies of a wide range of hitherto ignored anthologies and archives, Braddock convincingly shows how artistic and literary collections helped define the modernist movement in the United States.

Wild Exuberance Rebecca Foster, Caroline M. Welsh, 2005-06-16 Early in his career, critics and collectors widely recognized that Harold Weston (1894-1972) was capturing and saying something unusual in his paintings. There is a young American painter, wrote Duncan Phillips, who stirs in me the hope for a rebirth on this new soil of something that was lost to the art of painting with the passing of Vincent van Gogh. Along with 104 color and ten black and white plates of Weston's works compiled by his daughter Nina Weston Foster, curator of the Harold Weston Foundation, the catalog includes essays that cover myriad aspects of Weston's life and art. The Adirondack Museum's chief curator, Caroline M. Welsh, explores nature and wilderness preservation as themes in twentieth-century art and places Weston in the context of his contemporaries who painted the Adirondacks. Theodore E. Stebbins Jr., curator of American art at the Fogg Art Museum, provides a critical analysis of Weston as a twentieth-century American modernist painter. The biographical essay by Weston's art historian granddaughter Rebecca Foster follows the unfolding of a career in parallel to the unfolding of a life Weston's rich technique is explored by Stephen B Phillips curator at the Phillips Collection in an in depth analysis of the painting American Realism Gerry Souter, 2015-09-15 Urban realism snow covered streets of New York boxing matches children on the banks of a river the painters of the Ash Can School preferred realistic images Their paintings are a true hymn to noise and sensations This unconventional movement enabled the birth of a true national artistic identity which broke free from the establishment The Ash Can School resolutely promoted the affirmation of the modernist current of American art Edward Hopper who was a student of Robert Henri embraced the principles of this movement and brought them to another level Freedom in the Wilds Harold Weston, 2008-06-20 Harold Weston's Freedom in the Wilds brings an informal history of the rugged Adirondack wilderness together with Weston's own adventures there as an artist The vivid and spirited stories he gathered from guides lumbermen and visionaries continue to make the case for preserving the wild lands of the region First published in 1971 the book became a classic of Adirondack literature notable for its exploration of the dynamic relationship between wilderness and creativity and its ever more relevant appeal to protect an area within ourselves forever wild In this third edition Rebecca Foster brings Weston's fascinating personal story to the foreground A new section of the book with excerpts from Weston's rich storehouse of letters and diaries will be a revelation to fans of Weston's work or for anyone interested in the growth of an impassioned artistic mind Here too are new illustrations explanatory notes and an introduction tracing the irrepressible energy behind Weston's accomplishments including the writings in this book The Cities, the Towns, the Crowds Brian H. Peterson, 2004 A complete picture of Robert Spencer one of the most recognizable of the Pennsylvania impressionist painters From his beginnings as the son of a minister and early interest in painting through his volatile home life and battle with depression to his death by suicide The Cities The Towns The Crowds presents the definitive portrait of a great American artist Edith Halpert, the Downtown Gallery, and the Rise of American Art Rebecca Shaykin, 2019-10-11 This book presents the fascinating untold story of art world tastemaker Edith Halpert who sold promoted and effectively defined American art in the 20th century American Artists, Authors, and Collectors Bennard B. Perlman, Walter Pach, 2002-05-02 Offers a behind the scenes look at a significant era in the development and emergence of modern American art National Journal, 1999 The Living Line Robin Veder, 2015-04-07 Robin Veder's The Living Line is a radical reconceptualization of the development of late nineteenth and early twentieth century American modernism The author illuminates connections among the histories of modern art body cultures and physiological aesthetics in early twentieth century American culture fundamentally altering our perceptions about art and the physical and the degree of cross pollination in the arts The Living Line shows that American producers and consumers of modernist visual art repeatedly characterized their aesthetic experience in terms of kinesthesia the sense of bodily movement They explored abstraction with kinesthetic sensibilities and used abstraction to achieve kinesthetic goals In fact the formalist approach to art was galvanized by theories of bodily response derived from experimental physiological psychology and facilitated by contemporary body cultures such as modern dance rhythmic gymnastics physical education and physical therapy Situating these complementary ideas and exercises in relation to enduring fears of neurasthenia Veder contends that aesthetic modernism shared industrial modernity's objective of efficiently managing neuromuscular energy In a series of finely grained and interconnected case studies Veder demonstrates that diverse modernists associated with the Armory Show the Société Anonyme the Stieglitz circle especially O Keeffe and the Barnes Foundation participated in these discourses and practices and that kinesthetic modernism greatly influenced the formation of modern art in America and beyond This daring and completely original work will appeal to a broad audience of art historians historians of the body and American culture in general CQ Weekly, 1999 CQ Weekly provides resources on non partisan information on Capitol Hill The Web version includes access to the full text of all articles published since 1983 In addition some articles are available prior to when they appear in print True Grit Stephanie Schrader, James Glisson, Alexander Nemerov, 2019-10-22 An engaging look at early twentieth century American printmaking which frequently focused on the crowded chaotic and gritty modern city In the first half of the twentieth century a group of American artists influenced by the painter and teacher Robert Henri aimed to reject the pretenses of academic fine art and polite society Embracing the democratic inclusiveness of the Progressive movement these artists turned to making prints which were relatively inexpensive to produce and easy to distribute For their subject matter the artists mined the bustling activity and stark realities of the urban centers in which they lived and worked Their prints feature sublime towering skyscrapers and stifling city streets jazzy dance halls and bleak tenement interiors intimate and anonymous everyday scenes that addressed modern life in America True Grit examines a rich selection of prints by well known figures like George Bellows Edward Hopper Joseph Pennell and John Sloan as well as lesser known artists such as Ida Abelman Peggy Bacon Miguel Covarrubias and Mabel Dwight Written by three scholars of printmaking and American art the essays present nuanced discussions of gender class literature and politics contextualizing the prints in the rapidly changing milieu of the first decades of twentieth century America
