Eyeball Compendium Sex And Horror Art And Exploitation:

Sex, Sadism, Spain, and Cinema Nicholas G. Schlegel, 2015-06-11 From 1968 to 1977 Spain experienced a boom in horror movie production under a restrictive economic system established by the country's dictator Francisco Franco. Despite hindrance from the Catholic Church and Spanish government which rigidly controlled motion picture content, hundreds of horror films were produced during this ten-year period. This statistic is even more remarkable when compared with the output of studios and production companies in the United States and elsewhere at the same time. What accounts for the staggering number of films and what does it say about Spain during this period? In Sex Sadism Spain and Cinema: The Spanish Horror Film, Nicholas G. Schlegel looks at movies produced, distributed, and exhibited under the crumbling dictatorship of General Franco. The production and content of these films, the author suggests, can lead to a better understanding of the political, social, and cultural conditions during a contentious period in Spain's history. The author addresses the complex factors that led to the official sanctioning of horror films, which had previously been banned, and how they differed from other popular genres that were approved and subsidized by the government. In addition to discussing the financing and exhibiting of these productions, the author examines the tropes, conventions, iconography, and thematic treatments of the films. Schlegel also analyzes how these movies were received by audiences and critics both in Spain and abroad. Finally, he looks at the circumstances that led to the rapid decline of such films in the late 1970s and early 1980s. By examining how horror movies thrived in Spain during this decade, this book addresses a sorely neglected gap in film scholarship and also complements existing literature on Spanish national cinema. Sex Sadism Spain and Cinema will appeal to fans of horror films as well as scholars of film history, European history, genre studies, and cultural studies. Joe Dallesandro Michael

Ferguson, 2015-02-17 The story of Warhol's greatest superstar. The renowned photographer Francesco Scavullo has called Joe Dallesandro one of the ten most photogenic men in the world. Springing to fame at the beginning of the sexual revolution in films such as Flesh Trash and Heat, Dallesandro, with the help of his mentor Paul Morrissey and pop artist Andy Warhol, became a male sex symbol in the film world unlike any before him. His casual nakedness and characteristic cool in the Warhol Factory's irreverent, now classic films earned attention that crossed gender lines and liberated the male nude as an object of beauty in the cinema. In this biofilmography, an update and revision of Little Joe Superstar, Michael Ferguson explores not only Dallesandro's Warhol years but his troubled childhood on the streets of New York in juvenile detention, as physique model and on the run. Ferguson examines all of Dallesandro's films, the eight made with Warhol and Morrissey, including the X-rated Frankenstein and Dracula, the post-Factory career in both art world and low-budget films abroad, and his works as character actor upon his return to America. Including new interviews with Dallesandro, photographs from the actor's personal collection, and an extensive biographical section, Joe Dallesandro is the ultimate guide to an underground film icon who, according to Andy Warhol, everyone was in love with. Fear Without Frontiers Steven Jay Schneider, 2003 This staggering
