F Holland Day:

F. Holland Day Fred Holland Day, James Crump, 1995 The short lived career of nineteenth century photographer F Holland Day is the basis for this important historical monograph Though he is perhaps best known for his controversial sacred subjects in which he posed himself as Jesus Christ Day quickly moved to the forefront of American photography with his portraiture and his later mythological series Day was probably the first great photographer of the male nude A friend of Oscar Wilde and an early proponent of gay rights women s rights and racial equality scandal surrounded him and caused his marginalization Through an Uncommon Lens Patricia J. Fanning, 2008 Colorful and sometimes eccentric Day was best known for his stunningly original brilliantly executed and sometimes controversial photographic images of blacks children and allegorical subjects His determination to promote photography as a fine art led him to create photographic representations of the crucifixion of Christ studies for which he was his own model Although he continued to mentor young artists until his death ill health caused Day to spend the last fourteen years of his life inside his home in Norwood Massachusetts By the time he died in 1933 he was virtually unknown but in recent years there has been a resurgence of interest in his art PHOTOGRAPHIC WORK OF F. photographers including F Holland Day Eadweard Muybridge Andrew J Russell Chansonetta Stanley Emmons and Augustus Washington She concludes by showing how concerns raised in the nineteenth century remain pertinent today in the photographs of Abu Ghraib Ultimately Smith explores the capacity of photography to reveal what remains beyond the edge of sight

Blackness, Symbolism, and American Modernism Lori Nel Johnson, 2025-04-29 In this book Lori Nel Johnson examines the work of Henry Ossawa Tanner 1859 1937 Meta Warrick Fuller 1877 1968 and F Holland Day 1864 1933 in relation to the development of modernism during the turn of the century and the official narratives surrounding this movement While Tanner and Fuller have been consistently linked in the history of American Art the Pictorialist photographer and publisher Day has rarely if ever been discussed with these two artists despite the fact that all three were rough contemporaries and affiliated with Symbolism The book compares the historical and social conditions that determined the lives and careers of these three artists which curtailed their ambitions because of the intersections of class race gender or sexuality By examining each artist s respective proximity to language on the basis of class race gender and sexuality this study avoids categorizing artists solely on the basis of difference and thus offers a more fulsome and radical reading of the development of modernism in the United States The book will be of interest to scholars of art history design history history of photography American studies and African American studies expanding fields of photographic book and fashion illustration celebrity portraiture and advertising Based on extensive archival research the book challenges the idea of an abrupt rupture between prewar soft focus idealizing photography and postwar modernism to paint a more nuanced picture of American culture in the Progressive era Clarence H White and His World begins with the artist s early work in Ohio which shares with the nascent Arts and Crafts movement the advocacy of hand production closeness to nature and the simple life White s involvement with the Photo Secession and his move to New York in 1906 mark a shift in his production as it grew to encompass commercial portraiture and an increasing commitment to teaching which ultimately led him to establish the first institutions in America to combine instruction in both technical and aesthetic aspects of photography The book also incorporates new formal and scientific analysis of White s work and techniques a complete exhibition record and many unpublished illustrations of the moody outdoor scenes and quiet images of domestic life for which he was revered
