might very well be 1980

*Vogue's eye view, 1984:
a DIFFERENT
kind
of woman*

DIFFERENT EXPERIMENT — As of the first day of 1984, you're more likely to be married — 57% more likely than in 1980 (also, cherry lips, this, considering that women have also come to understand time to some fine advantage). You're more likely to have more than two children — in the past decade the rate of having a third child rose 17%, and 80% more women than previously now have three. And what's more, you're more likely to be having a career — one in every three women is working these days (working women, except accountants, a larger part of the American working force — 80% — than men before); 54% of that total are married women, and 80% are women with children under eighteen. Best of all, you're more likely to make your husband feel a good long time — even in 1984, 85% for three years for a woman still to be going strong at 75.

DIFFERENT EXPERIMENT — That's up to you in 1984 — surely, few different women you're going to be. And that's the exciting promise of a fresh new year: the hope of being, well, better with the feeling that the hope can be achieved. However we women want to be really different is certain: from loyalty to our possessions to the weather, and delight, at psychomaterials; but in all of us there's a constant yearning for that — for something from the future we want, to the future we do, to the future we live. And in all of us there's a deep desire to be different women in the region, to be women who inhabit a world of grace — a woman that will live, Vogue hopes, in 1985, really for 1984.
