Eyewitness to Genocide Michael Bryant, 2014-07-30 One of the deadliest phases of the Holocaust the Nazi regime's Operation Reinhard produced three major death camps Belzec Treblinka and Sobibor which claimed the lives of 1.8 million Jews In the 1960s a small measure of justice came for those victims when a score of defendants who had been officers and guards at the camps were convicted of war crimes in West German courts The conviction rates varied however While all but one of fourteen Treblinka defendants were convicted half of the twelve Sobibor defendants escaped punishment and only one of eight Belzec defendants was convicted Also despite the enormity of the crimes the sentences were light in many cases amounting to only a few years in prison In this meticulous history of the Operation Reinhard trials Michael S Bryant examines a disturbing question Did compromised jurists engineer acquittals or lenient punishments for proven killers Drawing on rarely studied archival sources Bryant concludes that the trial judges acted in good faith within the bounds of West German law The key to successful prosecutions was eyewitness testimony At Belzec the near total efficiency of the Nazi death machine meant that only one survivor could be found to testify At Treblinka and Sobibor however prisoner revolts had resulted in a number of survivors who could give firsthand accounts of specific atrocities and identify participants The courts Bryant finds treated these witnesses with respect and even made allowances for conflicting testimony And when handing down sentences the judges acted in accordance with strict legal definitions of perpetration complicity and action under duress Yet despite these findings Bryant also shows that West German legal culture was hardly blameless during the postwar era Though ready to convict the mostly workingclass personnel of the death camps the Federal Republic followed policies that insulated the judicial elite from accountability for its own role in the Final Solution While trial records show that the bias of West German jurists was neither direct nor personal the structure of the system ensured that lawyers and judges themselves avoided judgment

The Eisenhower Years: a Social History of the 1950'S Richard T. Stanley,2012-06-15 The Fabulous Fifties were America s Happy Days The Eisenhower Years produced amazing contributions to our American culture and to other cultures around the world In so many ways Americans innovated and the world imitated from Elvis Presley and rock n roll to the Salk anti polio vaccine America s contributions to the world included motion pictures and the Broadway stage radio and television amateur and professional sports jazz the blues country and Western music traditional ballads and popular songs and rock n roll domestic and international business and trade public and private educational opportunities and a rich and varied literature While Americans did not invent all these categories they nevertheless took each to new heights during the Eisenhower Years and shared their bounty with the world The Eisenhower Years generally speaking were happier more stable more prosperous more optimistic and simpler times then the preceding decades of the 1930 s and 40 s and the increasingly turbulent 1960 s and 70 s that followed In fact America s exuberance in so many areas of the arts and everyday life was omnipresent As for political and military achievements President Eisenhower kept us safely out of war and was wise enough to stay out of the way of Americas artists and entrepreneurs As a result the Eisenhower Years should forever be remembered as those Happy Days
