Eyewitness II Signed By Photographer:

Photography Theory James Elkins, 2013-10-18 Photography Theory presents forty of the world's most active art historians and theorists including Victor Burgin, Joel Snyder, Rosalind Krauss, Alan Trachtenberg, Geoffrey Batchen, Carol Squiers, Margaret Iversen, and Abigail Solomon Godeau in animated debate on the nature of photography. Photography has been around for nearly two centuries but we are no closer to understanding what it is. For some people a photograph is an optically accurate impression of the world; for others it is mainly a way of remembering people and places. Some view it as a sign of bourgeois life, a kind of addiction of the middle class, whilst others see it as a troublesome interloper that has confused people's ideas of reality and fine art to the point that they have difficulty even defining what a photograph is. For some the whole question of finding photography's nature is itself misguided from the beginning. This provocative second volume in the Routledge The Art Seminar series presents not one but many answers to the question what makes a photograph a photograph.

Photojournalism and Citizen Journalism Stuart Allan, 2017-06-26 If everyone with a smartphone can be a citizen photojournalist who needs professional photojournalism? This rather flippant question cuts to the heart of a set of pressing issues where an array of impassioned voices may be heard in vigorous debate. While some of these voices are confidently predicting photojournalism's impending demise as the latest casualty of internet-driven convergence, others are heralding its dramatic rebirth, pointing to the democratisation of what was once the exclusive domain of the professional. Regardless of where one is situated in relation to these stark polarities, however, it is readily apparent that photojournalism is being decisively transformed across shifting uneven conditions for civic participation in ways that raise important questions for journalism's forms and practices in a digital era. This book's contributors identify and critique a range of factors currently recasting photojournalism's professional ethos, devoting particular attention to the challenges posed by the rise of citizen journalism. This book was originally published as two special issues in Digital Journalism and Journalism Practice.

Photography and Doubt Sabine T. Kriebel, Andrés Mario Zervigón, 2016-11-25 Recent decades have seen photography's privileged relationship to the real come under question. Spurred by the postmodern critique of photography in the 1980s and the rise of digital technologies soon thereafter, scholars have been asking who and what built this understanding of the medium in the first place. Photography and Doubt reflects on this interest in photography's referential power by discussing it in rigorously historical terms. How was the understanding of photographic realism cultivated in the first place? What do cases of staged and manipulated photography reveal about that realism's hold on audiences across the medium's history? Have doubts about photography's testimonial power stimulated as much knowledge as its realism? Edited by Sabine T. Kriebel and Andrés Mario Zervigón, Photography and Doubt is the first multi-authored collection specifically designed to explore these questions. Its 13 original essays, illustrated with 73 color images, explore cases when the link between the photographic image and its referent was placed under stress and when photography was as attuned to its myth-making capabilities as to its claims to authenticity Photography and Doubt will serve as a valuable resource for students and scholars in art history visual and media studies philosophy and the history of science and technology War Isn't Hell, It's Entertainment Fabian Virchow, Debra White-Stanley, 2009-02-27 Real war is a cruel theater of death yet it is also an exciting narrative exploited for national political and commercial purposes and turned into numerous films television shows computer games news stories and reenactment plays These essays examine the relationship between war visual media and entertainment from a number of academic perspectives Key topics include how war is used as an imaginary site to stage dramas how boundaries between war media and entertainment dissolve as new media alters the formal qualities of representation how entertainment is used to engage audiences and what effect products of war and entertainment have on consumers of popular culture PACE: A Practical Guide to the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 Paul Ozin, Heather Norton, 2019-03-11 Providing practical guidance on what remains the single most important statutory basis for police duties and powers in England and Wales the Police and Criminal Evidence Act PACE 1984 and its Codes of Practice this is an essential reference source which the busy police officer or legal practitioner cannot afford to be without The fifth edition includes all amendments to the Codes of Practice since the last edition as well as the full text of the Act and Codes of Practice Explanatory chapters have been updated in line with legislative changes including the wide ranging effect of the Policing and Crime Act 2017 With the aid of checklists flow charts and illustrative examples this book gives excellent guidance on how the procedures and requirements of the Act apply to common everyday scenarios facing police officers as well as other persons charged with the investigation of offences The book forms part of the Blackstone's Practical Policing Series The series aimed at all operational officers consists of practical guides containing clear and detailed explanations of the relevant legislation and practice accompanied by case studies illustrative diagrams and useful checklists Forensic Facial Identification Tim Valentine, Josh P Davis, 2015-06-22 Forensic Facial Identification A broad view of contemporary eyewitness research in both traditional and emerging areas The international cast of contributors particularly highlights the interplay between law and research across countries with lessons for all Steven D Penrod Distinguished Professor John Jay College of Criminal Justice At an age where we are relying more than ever on facial identification to ensure public safety this volume represents an important milestone in ensuring our decisions are informed by the latest developments in technology and science International experts provide practitioners with an exhaustive review of the tools needed to identify and investigate cases relying on facial identification be they terror suspects or victims of disaster What is unique about this book is that experts are encouraged to learn from mistakes made in the past and to equip themselves with theory and science to enable them to best use identification evidence to avoid miscarriages of justice An outstanding contribution to the field Amina Memon Professor of Psychology Royal Holloway University of London Forensic Facial Identification provides an up to date set of best practices for professionals using eyewitness identification to solve crimes of all kinds The book brings together a prominent group of contributors to
