
The background of the book cover is a painting of a desert landscape. It features rolling sand dunes in the foreground and middle ground, with a hazy, orange-brown sky above. The colors are muted and earthy, typical of a desert sunset or sunrise.

Geomorphology of Desert Environments Anthony J. Parsons,A. D. Abrahams,2009-03-20 About one third of the Earth's land surface experiences a desert climate and this area supports approximately 15% of the planet's population This percentage continues to grow and with this growth comes the need to acquire and apply an understanding of desert geomorphology Such an understanding is vital in managing scarce and fragile resources and in mitigating natural hazards This authoritative reference book is comprehensive in its coverage of the geomorphology of desert environments and is arranged thematically It begins with an overview of global deserts proceeds through treatments of weathering hillslopes rivers piedmonts lake basins and aeolian surfaces and concludes with a discussion of the role of climatic change Written by a team of international authors all of whom are active in the field the chapters cover the spectrum of desert geomorphology

Geomorphology of Desert Environments Vinayak Joshipura,2025-02-20 Geomorphology of Desert Environments delves into the intricate processes and landforms that shape arid landscapes worldwide Authored by leading experts this comprehensive book explores the dynamic interactions between geological forces climate patterns and ecological systems in desert regions We begin with an overview of geomorphology principles including erosion deposition and weathering processes specific to deserts The role of aeolian processes such as wind erosion and sand dune formation is examined showcasing iconic desert landforms like sand seas and yardangs Through detailed case studies and field observations we highlight the diversity of desert landscapes and the unique geomorphic features of different desert regions From the sandstone buttes of the American Southwest to the salt flats of the Sahara Desert each chapter explores the geological history environmental dynamics and ecological significance of desert landforms We also delve into human environment interactions shaping desert landscapes including the impacts of human activities on erosion rates soil degradation and desertification Sustainable land management practices water resource management and conservation efforts in arid regions are examined Richly illustrated with maps diagrams and photographs this book is an indispensable resource for understanding the complex interplay of geological climatic and ecological factors in desert environments

Geomorphology of Desert Environments A. D. Abrahams,A. Parsons,2013-04-17 Over the last twenty years there has been a major expansion of knowledge in the field of landforms and landforming processes of deserts This advanced level book provides a benchmark for the current state of science and is written by an international team of authors who are acknowledged experts in their fields

Geomorphology of Desert Environments A. D. Abrahams,A. Parsons,2014-03-14 Over the last twenty years there has been a major expansion of knowledge in the field of landforms and landforming processes of deserts This advanced level book provides a benchmark for the current state of science and is written by an international team of authors who are acknowledged experts in their fields Geomorphology of Desert Environments A. D. Abrahams,A. J. Parsons,1994 Over the past few decades there has been a major expansion of knowledge in the field of landforms and landforming processes of deserts This is an advanced level textbook which opens with an overview that provides geomorphic comparison of the world's deserts The following chapters present reviews and evaluations of current research grouped around the main geomorphic processes and environments namely weathering hillslopes rivers piedmonts lake basins and aeolian features In the final part a series of chapters examines the impact of climatic change on the geomorphology of desert environments Desert Geomorphology Andrew Goudie, Andrew Watson, 1990

Geomorphology in Deserts Ronald U. Cooke, Andrew Warren, 2003-11-15 This book examines the landforms soils and geomorphological processes of deserts which cover over 20% of Earth's land surface Despite their vastness and the significant body of literature on the topic deserts remain underrepresented in comprehensive geomorphological surveys with notable exceptions like Walther's Das Gesetz der Wiistenbildung 1924 Cotton's Climatic Accidents in Landscape Making 1942 and Tricart and Cailleux's Le Model des R gions S ches 1961 Our study builds on these works incorporating our field experiences in deserts across North America South America North Africa and Pakistan while primarily drawing on English language research and emphasizing contemporary geomorphological systems at different scales By focusing on present processes shaping landforms and soils we have given less attention to regional chronologies of landform development a consequence of our selective approach The field of desert geomorphology still grapples with speculative theories such as parallel slope retreat and pervasive wind erosion which often overshadow empirical evidence We aim to provide grounded generalizations clarify contested ideas and pose meaningful questions to establish a baseline for future research hoping to contribute to a deeper understanding of the dynamic processes shaping desert landscapes This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1973

Geomorphology of Desert Environments and Desertification Xiaoping Yang, Dieter Jäkel, 2004 Deserts and Desert Environments Julie J Laity, 2009-01-28 Taking a global perspective this book provides a concise overview of drylands including their physical biological temporal and human components Examines the physical systems occurring in desert environments including climate hydrology past and present lakes weathering hillslopes geomorphic surfaces water as a geomorphic agent and aeolian processes Offers an accessible introduction to the physical biological temporal and human components of drylands Investigates the nature environmental requirements and essential geomorphic roles of plants and animals in this stressful biological environment Highlights the impact of human population growth on climate desertification water resources and dust storm activity Includes an examination of surface atmosphere interactions and the impact of ENSO events Geomorphology of Desert Dunes Nicholas Lancaster, 1995 First published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Behaviour of Coastal Landslide Systems, 2004 Climatic Geomorphology M.

Gutierrez Elorza,2005-12-29 During the past few decades climatic geomorphology has been substantially enlarged in knowledge thanks to numerous detailed investigations the application of a large number of techniques and the acquisition of abundant absolute dates The challenge of predicting the effects of the prophesied future global warming on morphogenetic processes and landforms has encouraged geomorphologists to study the Late Pleistocene and Holocene climatic changes from the geomorphological and geological record The advances achieved in the field of climatic geomorphology during the past years are reflected by the publication of several specific monographs about the different morphoclimatic zones The aim of this book is to provide an up to date general view of this branch of geomorphology It includes a chapter on applied geomorphology for each morphoclimatic zone providing an approximation of the main environmental problems Geoscientists geomorphologists

Climate Change in Deserts Martin Williams,2014-08-11 Reconstructing climatic changes in deserts and their margins at a variety of scales in space and time this book draws upon evidence from land and sea including desert dunes wind blown dust river and lake sediments glacial moraines plant and animal fossils isotope geochemistry speleothems soils and prehistoric archaeology The book summarises the Cenozoic evolution of the major deserts of the Americas Eurasia Africa and Australia and the causes of historic floods and droughts The book then considers the causes and consequences of desertification and proposes four key conditions for achieving ecologically sustainable use of natural resources in arid and semi arid areas Climate Change in Deserts is an invaluable reference for researchers and advanced students interested in the climate and geomorphology of deserts geographers geologists ecologists archaeologists soil scientists hydrologists climatologists and natural resource managers

Desert Landscapes and Landforms of Iran Mehran Maghsoudi,2020-09-29 This book offers a unique and highly illustrated overview of the desert geomorphology of Iran It describes the different landscapes and landforms of desert areas such as ergs and badlands offering a comprehensive insight into typical fluvial and eolian forms such as playas alluvial fans yardangs salt domes dunes hoodoos and many more The monograph elaborates the interaction of humans with the landscapes and discusses ongoing developments in geotourism natural heritage sites as well as the potential for geoparks Desert Landscapes and Landforms of Iran contains many photographs satellite images high resolution aerial photos maps charts and tables which build a nice framework for the assessment of the different geomorphological features It constitutes a comprehensive introduction for researchers and students of many disciplines in the fields of geography geosciences tourism and leisure studies environmental sciences and landscape planning interested in typical physical characteristics of desert landscapes

Treatise on Geomorphology ,2013-02-27 The changing focus and approach of geomorphic research suggests that the time is opportune for a summary of the state of discipline The number of peer reviewed papers published in geomorphic journals has grown steadily for more than two decades and more importantly the diversity of authors with respect to geographic location and disciplinary background geography geology ecology civil engineering computer science geographic information science and others has expanded dramatically As more good minds are drawn to geomorphology and the breadth of the peer reviewed literature grows an effective summary of contemporary geomorphic knowledge becomes increasingly difficult The fourteen volumes of this Treatise on Geomorphology will provide an important reference for users from undergraduate students looking for term paper topics to graduate students starting a literature review for their thesis work and professionals seeking a concise summary of a particular topic Information on the historical development of diverse topics within geomorphology provides context for ongoing research discussion of research strategies equipment and field methods laboratory experiments and numerical simulations reflect the multiple approaches to understanding Earth s surfaces and summaries of outstanding research questions highlight future challenges and suggest productive new avenues for research Our future ability to adapt to geomorphic changes in the critical zone very much hinges upon how well landform scientists comprehend the dynamics of Earth s diverse surfaces This Treatise on Geomorphology provides a useful synthesis of the state of the discipline as well as highlighting productive research directions that Educators and students researchers will find useful Geomorphology has advanced greatly in the last 10 years to become a very interdisciplinary field Undergraduate students looking for term paper topics to graduate students starting a literature review for their thesis work and professionals seeking a concise summary of a particular topic will find the answers they need in this broad reference work which has been designed and written to accommodate their diverse backgrounds and levels of understanding Editor in Chief Prof J F Shroder of the University of Nebraska at Omaha is past president of the QG G section of the Geological Society of America and present Trustee of the GSA Foundation while being well respected in the geomorphology research community and having won numerous awards in the field A host of noted international geomorphologists have contributed state of the art chapters to the work Readers can be guaranteed that every chapter in this extensive work has been critically reviewed for consistency and accuracy by the World expert Volume Editors and by the Editor in Chief himself No other reference work exists in the area of Geomorphology that offers the breadth and depth of information contained in this 14 volume masterpiece From the foundations and history of geomorphology through to geomorphological innovations and computer modelling and the past and future states of landform science no stone has been left unturned
