

Table. Principles of Geriatrics Applied to Dermatology

Geriatrics Principle	Relevance to Dermatology	Example
Life expectancy is more than age	Treatment of low-risk basal cell carcinoma (BCC)	A healthy 80-year-old may have a life expectancy of over 10 years, making treatment of low-risk BCC appropriate to prevent future growth. Meanwhile, a frail 80-year-old with many comorbidities may not live long enough to benefit from treatment of a low-risk BCC.
Lag time to benefit	Screening total body skin examination	A patient in the last year of life may not benefit from routine screening total body skin examination.
Polypharmacy and medication adverse effects	Sedating antihistamines	A patient with itch who is prescribed a sedating antihistamine may experience dizziness and fall due to this medication.
Cognition	Ability to tolerate minor procedures	A patient with dementia may not understand why they are having a biopsy procedure performed, and what seems like a simple procedure can induce anxiety and fear. In a patient prone to behavioral symptoms, this risks precipitating agitation, significantly complicating the caregiver's management during and after the procedure. Also a patient with dementia may not keep a bandage on, and may have hard time keeping the wound clean.
Function and mobility	Wound healing, office visits, bandage changes	Pressure ulcers may develop due to immobility, and wound healing may be complicated by difficulties bathing and moving.
Caregivers, social support	Office visits, bandage changes	A clinic visit may be logistically challenging for the family of a patient who needs support during and after visits. Caregiver availability may determine if follow-up visits and bandage changes are possible.
Patient preferences matter	Treatment of actinic keratoses (AK)	Regarding a painless but cosmetically visible AK, treatment may not be necessary for a patient who is not bothered by it, but may be necessary for a patient who is bothered by its appearance.
