Team Performance in Health Care Gloria D. Heinemann, Antonette M. Zeiss, 2012-12-06 The idea of teamwork in health care emerged at several times during the 20th century as the result of shifts in the nature and demands of health care and societal needs Examples include medical and surgical teams serving the military in World War II primary care teams staffing Community Health Centers created by President Johnson's War On Poverty and geriatric care teams established to serve the rapidly growing number of aging citizens Collaborative teamwork surfaced as a rational solution to health care needs but political and economic consensus to support widespread implementation was lacking The increasing complexity of providing health care seemed best served by the skills and efforts of interdisciplinary teams but such care was viewed as expensive so evaluation of its effectiveness became essential There were major problems in conducting such evaluation however First no clear theory guided the concept and practice of teamwork Early attempts to employ theoretical constructs explaining the behavioral and organizational phenomena of teamwork borrowed from theories of group dynamics communication organizational development and general systems Further few reliable validated instruments existed to evaluate team process function or effectiveness The best early efforts at research and evaluation came from academic centers funded by the Office of Interdisciplinary Programs of the Bureau of Health Professions 1975-78 and from the Veterans Affairs Interprofessional Team Training Development Program Handbook of Geriatric Assessment Terry Fulmer, Bruce Chernof, 2018-04-16 Handbook of Geriatric Assessment Fifth Edition is a multidisciplinary text that takes a contemporary approach in line with patient and family centered care With contributions from the foremost experts in the field it contains the latest information on geriatric assessments for older adults Completely updated and revised the Fifth Edition includes several new chapters including demographic trends age friendly health systems payment reform and impact the VA health system self care and management impact on familial relations vulnerable populations building geriatric interdisciplinary teams advance care planning caregiver information spiritual assessment senior hunger and transitions of care Textbook of Palliative Nursing Department of Nursing Education and Research City of Hope National Medical Center Betty R.
