German Jet Genesis:

German Jet Genesis David Masters, 1982 German Jet Genesis Outlet, Outlet Book Company Staff, Random House Value Publishing Staff, 1987-02-01 Secret Projects of the Luftwaffe - Vol 1 - Jet Fighters 1939 -1945 Dan Sharp, 2020-09-22 Germany's air ministry was quick to grasp the potential of the jet engine as early as 1938 and by 1939 several German aircraft manufacturers were already working on fighter designs that would utilize this new form of propulsion. Rocket engines too were seen as the way of the future and companies were commissioned to design fighters around them. As the Second World War began the urgent need to bring these advanced new types into production saw a host of innovative aircraft designs being produced which would eventually result in Messerschmitt's Me 262 jet fighter and the Me 163 rocket propelled interceptor. And as the war progressed efforts were increasingly made to find better ways of utilizing jet rocket and latterly ramjet engines in fighter aircraft. Aviation companies from across Germany set their finest minds to the task and produced some of the most radical aircraft designs the world had ever seen. They proposed rotating wing ramjet fighters, arrowhead shaped ramjets, rocket firing bat winged gun platforms, sleek speed machines, tailless flying wings, tiny mini fighters and a host of others ranging from deadly looking advanced fighters to downright dangerous vertical launch interceptors. Secret Projects of the Luftwaffe Volume 1 Jet Fighters 1939 1945 by Dan Sharp based on original research using German wartime documents offers the most complete and authoritative account yet of these fascinating designs through previously unseen photographs, illustrations and period documentation from archives around the world.

Area 51 - Black Jets Bill Yenne, 2018-03-06 In Area 51 Black Jets author and military historian Bill Yenne reveals Area 51 for what it truly is: a clandestine arena for the United States' most cutting edge technological innovators in military aviation.

The Jet Race and the Second World War S. Mike Pavelec, 2007-02-28 In the 1930s as nations braced for war the German military build up caught Britain and the United States off guard, particularly in aviation technology. The unending quest for speed resulted in the need for radical alternatives to piston engines. In Germany Dr Hans von Ohain was the first to complete a flight worthy turbojet engine for aircraft. It was installed in a Heinkel designed aircraft and the Germans began the jet age on August 27 1939. The Germans led the jet race throughout the war and were the first to produce jet aircraft for combat operations. In England the doggedly determined Frank Whittle also developed a turbojet engine but without the support enjoyed by his German counterpart. The British came second in the jet race when Whittle's engine powered the Gloster Pioneer on May 15 1941. The Whittle Gloster relationship continued and produced the only Allied combat jet aircraft during the war the Meteor which was relegated to Home Defense in Britain. In America General Electric copied the Whittle designs and Bell Aircraft contracted to build the first American jet plane. On October 1 1942 a lackluster performance from the Bell Airacomet ushered in the American jet age. The Yanks forged ahead and had numerous engine and airframe programs in development by the end of the war. But the Germans did it right and did it first while the Allies lagged.
