German Foreign Intelligence from Hitler's War to the Cold War Robert Hutchinson, 2019-01-25 In the Allies post war analyses of the Nazis defeat the weakness and incompetence of the German intelligence services figured prominently And how could it have been otherwise when they worked at the whim of a regime in the grip of ignorant maniacs But what if Robert Hutchinson asks the worldviews of the intelligence services and the ignorant maniacs aligned more closely than these analyses and subsequent studies assumed What if the reports of the German foreign intelligence services rather than being dismissed by ideologues who knew better instead served to reinforce the National Socialist worldview Returning to these reports examining the information on enemy nations that was gathered processed and presented to leaders in the Nazi state Hutchinson's study reveals the consequences of the politicization of German intelligence during the war as well as the persistence of ingrained prejudices among the intelligence services Cold War successors Closer scrutiny of underutilized and unpublished reports shows how during the World War II the German intelligence services supported widely held assumptions among the Nazi elite that Britain was politically and morally bankrupt that the Soviet Union was tottering militarily and racially inferior and that the United States vast economic potential was undermined by political cultural and racial degeneration Furthermore Hutchinson argues these distortions continued as German intelligence veterans parlayed their supposed expertise on the Soviet Union into positions of prominence in Western intelligence in the early years of the Cold War With its unique insights into the impact of ideology on wartime and post war intelligence his book raises important questions not only about how intelligence reports can influence policy decisions but also about the subjective nature of intelligence gathering itself Hitler's Fremde Heere Ost Magnus Pahl, 2016 The General Staff Division of Fremde Heere Ost Military Intelligence Service Eastern Section which from 1942 was led by Reinhard Gehlen was the nerve centre of Hitler's military reconnaissance on the Eastern Front This department worked professionally and was operationally and tactically reliable However at a strategic level there were clear deficits the industrial capacity of the Soviet arms industry the politico military intentions and the details of the Red Army's plans for their offensive remained for the most part hidden from the department When the Second World War ended Gehlen put the documents and personnel of Fremde Heere Ost at the disposal of the Americans With their support he was able to build a new foreign secret service which later evolved into the Federal Intelligence Service In this book military historian Magnus Pahl presents a complete overview of the structure personnel and working methods of Fremde Heere Ost based on a tremendous array of archival sources This work includes an extensive case study of the East Pomeranian Operation 1945 Pahl s study is a significant contribution to our understanding of German strategic operational and tactical thinking on the Eastern Front 1941 45 Military Intelligence ,1995
